Powerview School going green

Powerview School is about to become an Environmental Green School. The school has registered with the Seeds Foundation (Society, Environment, and Energy Development Studies) and has purchased a start-up kit.

The program's objective is to encourage students to take positive action to enhance the environment or to communicate to others about the environment. The kit includes a log book which will be located in the library. Students will enter all environmental projects done at school or at home. They will receive a certificate after 20 projects and a green banner after 100 projects. The project will be led by Grade 7 science and math teacher Lise Boiteau and a student "Green Team" consisting of students in grades 4, 5 and 6. This team will oversee bigger environmental projects going on in the school as well as in the community.

Six students with Mme. Boiteau have visited Centennial School in Lac du Bonnet (which has been involved in the program for three years) in order to meet their Green Team members and to learn more about how to become an Environmental Green School. Any parents wanting to get involved in the program should contact Mme. Boiteau.

The team started work last week and already has six projects underway.

Police Report (Powerview)

Because summer is approaching, RCMP Powerview detachment is winding down its Break and Enter Prevention Program. This program began in December 1994 and concludes in April 1995. Mid-night patrols were conducted with the assistance of Grand Marais RCMP and the Victoria Beach Municipal Police Force. Overall, this program was successful and will be considered for the upcoming off-season.

It would seem that more and more people are taking the time to record serial numbers of valuables left in cottages. The RCMP encourage all cottage owners to do the same.

Cottage season is just around the corner, unfortunately the threat of being broken into is not. The police would like to encourage the community to remain active in crime prevention. If anyone has any questions or concerns contact the local member of your Community Consultative Group or Cst. Calderwood at the Powerview Detachment. April 26.

A VCR was stolen from a Hollow Water residence. Powerview Hotel reported receiving a forged cheque for $199.33 April 27

Charges are being laid as a result of a spousal assault in St. Georges

A Manigotagan resident turned himself in after assaulting his wife.

April 28
A stereo was stolen from a Fort Alexander residence.

April 29
A vehicle was reported stolen. It was located, and the intoxicated driver charged.

A single motor vehicle accident on the North shore resulted in two occupants being taken to the Pine Falls hospital by ambulance. The driver will be charged with driving without a licence.

A patient at the Pine Falls hospital has been treated for lacerations to the face as a result of a dog bite. The dog has been destroyed.

A window was broken in Manigotagan April 29

A classic car in Pine Falls was vandalized.

A neighbour reported a break-and-enter to a home while the owners were away for the weekend. A suspect was found riding around on a bicycle from the residence.

Rural Crime Watch The Block Parent

It's a concept that's very simple, very efficient and very essential to the welfare of every neighbourhood.

In the most fundamental terms, a Block Parent is any responsible adult who cares enough about the well being of children and other persons to volunteer his or her home as a safe refuge when a need arises. A Block parent sign in the window lets children in distress know that a Block Parent is home to provide a safe haven.

And even when there is no cause for concern, the Block Parent sign can act as a deterrent to potential offenders who can quickly conclude that the neighbourhood has its own safety support system.

That's why it's safe to say about every Block Parent that even when they're not busy, they're working.

Legal Status
Block Parents have no legal status except their natural status as private citizens. They are simply volunteers who have agreed to act as sensible, responsible adults in an emergency situation in the community.

Why is the Block Parent Program Needed?

a) To provide the community with an organized method of protecting its children and adults.

b) To aid in the prompt reporting of emergency problems to the Police Department.

c) The Block Parent Program requires total community involvement which includes:

- Police Department
- Municipal Government
- Board of Education.

It is endorsed by the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police.

Who May Be a Block Parent?

Any responsible citizen, aged 18 years and over who:

- cares about the well being of everyone, especially children,
- has been screened by the Police Department,
- is willing to provide help for whatever time they have available.

What is The Block Parent Sign?

- The official symbol of the Block Parent Program of Canada Inc.

- An easy-to-identify red and white graphic design to be placed inside a window where it is clearly visible from the street.

- An indication to children and adults who pass by that they will receive immediate help at this home for any emergency.

- An indication to criminals or trouble-makers, that the citizens are alert, and the children in this community have been taught how to deal with strangers.

When is the Block Parent Sign Displayed?

Only when someone over the age of 18, who has been screened by the Police Department, is available in the home. There is no change in lifestyle. If the Block Parent is unavailable for any reason, he or she removes the sign. Absence of the sign does not mean the house is unattended.

What Does the Block Parent Do?

a) Offer help from dangerous or frightening situations.

b) Offer assistance to persons in distress by phoning the Police or the home of the child.

c) Assist the Police by reporting suspicious or criminal activity in the neighbourhood

d) Remove the Block Parent sign when not available.

e) All new Block parents receive instructions on proper procedures.

The Block Parent is Not Expected To.....

a) Provide food or beverage.

b) Provide toilet facilities.

c) Provide transportation.

d) Administer first aid.

e) Leave his or her home to break up fights.

f) Actively engage any dangerous person in any activity

If you are part of a community where Block Parenting is a possibility, contact your local R.C.M.P. detachment or Police department. Material used in this column, courtesy Grand Marais R.C.M.P.

Eastern Beaches Powerview RCMP Community Advisory Group meeting that wasn't

by Lorraine Neal

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Eastern Beaches Powerview R.C.M.P. Community Advisory Group was almost a non event. Constable Anne Calderwood was unable to be present due to the pressure of work. The meeting was very ably chaired by Jerry MacKenzie. Items of concern were discussed by those present. All concerns were prioritized, and will be passed on to Cst. Calderwood. The date of the next meeting was not set, but will be reported in these pages when it is finalized.

The Arts

Season opener for Northern Lights Artisans

by Lorraine Neal

The first show of the season, a Mother's Day Craft Sale, was held by the Northern Lights Artisans in Pine Falls School gym on Sunday May 7th. In keeping with their usual high standards, items displayed were of only the best quality.

We saw Irene's Soaps... a wonderful array of pretty, scented and functional soaps for all members of the family. Irene displayed soaps made from citronella which will help keep mosquitoes away. She also had soaps made from oatmeal. Oatmeal soap is very soothing for people with eczema or itchy allergic skin. (I know from personal experience... oatmeal soap gives great relief from eczema itch.)

The next display was Prairie Keepsakes, a table full of beautiful dried florals, wreaths, swags and other great items. As we walked the displays, our eye was caught by the exquisite Petit Point Jewelry. These creations are so dainty and pretty you want to buy them all.

Zedworks was the next big display. Zena Boyes, the designer of Zedworks always has something different and always beautiful. We liked the wood earrings, and the porcelain ones too. Here we'd also like to buy everything.

Aunt Essie was the next stop. Essie Guttman seems to be the epitome of everyone's favorite auntie. She likes people, and she like to please. The result is a lovely display table full of beautiful baskets, but the show stealers were the dainty Victorian Music Boxes. She will make them to order... they are really lovely.

Ray Fetterly, the genial retired former Ranger was on hand to display his fine birdhouses and his books. Ray has two books published, and is awaiting the publication of his third. For those uninitiated, Ray writes a fine story about his days as a ranger. He's a good storyteller.

Shirley and Grant Boulden were on hand with their lovely display of dream catchers, baby knits, doll clothes and puppets. Shirley has consistently good quality items for sale.

Gypsy Grass Florals had a beautiful display also. Their baskets of silk and dried flower arrangements are a sight to behold.

Small Scale Art Craft, very different art jewelry has nice clean lines, much of made from colored leather. Sure is worth a look.

Nancy Lou Ateah was on hand with her very beautiful watercolors and acrylics. Nancy's art is of consistently great quality. Most of Nancy's work is of local scenes, this is of course a bonus for those of us who live or cottage in the Eastern beaches area. As usual I come away from Nancy's display of art feeling happy to see it, but sad because I can't have it all!

Be sure to mark your calendars for the date of the next three shows, Sunday July 2, from 10 A M to 4 PM at Victoria Beach Sports Club on Pine Road. (Road accessible for this event.) The second show at the beaches will be on Sunday July 16th, again from 10 AM to 4 PM at the Birchwood Hotel, "Carnival of Crafts." The third "Christmas in September" slated for the Victoria Beach Sports Club on Sunday August 6th, 10 AM to 4 PM.

News from NESDA

Work planned for Pine Creek Trail

This year NESDA will be concentrating on enhancing the trail and getting people out to use it. The first thing to be done is to repair the signs the bears have chewed up. We are going through a process to determine which type of sign is not so tasty to our ursine friends. We are also going to get our trail pamphlets printed and ready for use at the trail site. A special box will be constructed and installed so that these pamphlets will be available to anyone using the trail.

NESDA is working with the Manitoba Model Forest, The Pine Falls Paper Company and an Aboriginal representative to produce a comprehensive guided tour suitable to all types of tour groups. Components of all the partners perspectives will give visitors a well rounded view of the local economy, social and historic aspects of our area. Sustainable development and respect for traditional usage of the area's resources will be the main focus of the tour.

We will not be hosting our annual supper this spring, instead it will be held at the picnic site on the Pine Creek Trail on Labour Day. There will be more information on this as plans are developed. Jill Papineau will be organizing this. She is presently leaning towards a pig roast for the main course.

Pine Falls Legion news

by Sharon Mignon

The Branch initiated two new members (Dan Polischuk and Clayton Poirier) and the Auxiliary initiated six new members (Kim Arsenault, Carolyn Boisjoli, Corinne Fisette, Jeannette Lavoie, Cathie Nicholson and Dorinda Watson). We welcome our new members and look forward to their participation in our organization.

The Ladies Auxiliary held their 6th Annual Legion Bowling Fun Tournament with 40 participants. First place winners of the Annual Trophy were George Dodds, Ryan Cyr, Arlene McIntyre, Leo Tardiff and Shirley Adams with a total of 3408. Second place went to Kristen Kahle, Sharon Mignon, Anita Vincent, George Sabot and Lyle Velie with a total of 3320. Third place winners were Bill Earle, Joel Johnson, Susan Gauthier, Bill McGuire and Gerry Gauthier with a total of 3310. A branch pin was presented to the lady and man who bowled the most pins UNDER their average. These were won by Shirley Adams for her game of 147 which was 51 pins under and Bruce Carlson for his game of 145 which was 40 pins under. Following the bowling, everyone enjoyed a delicious supper which was prepared by the Auxiliary and Branch members. We also had chances to win some of Lyle's meat draws. Thanks to all who participated and we hope to see everyone back next year.

Plans have been finalized for our 50th Anniversary V.E. celebrations. Tickets for our dinner and dance on Saturday, May 27th will be $12.00 per person and are available to anyone who would like to attend this dinner to honor our Branch veterans. A parade is scheduled for Sunday, May 28th with an OPEN HOUSE being held at the Legion Hall after the parade.

We held a successful "Cleaning Bee" at the Legion House on Sunday, April 30th with fifteen Branch and Auxiliary members and into hours our clubrooms had received a thorough cleaning. So if you didn't get in on this year's cleaning, there is always next year! Our Branch would like to know the names of persons from this area (other than those listed on the Cenotaph) who lost their lives in WWII or the Korean Conflict. If you have this information, please contact Bill McGuire 367-8977. The Branch would be very grateful for any assistance in this matter.

Remember, if you are interested in joining the Branch, contact Daphne Webb or pick up an application form at the Legion House. Any ladies interested in Auxiliary membership can contact Sharon Mignon 367-8376.

Our Branch has to make some major decisions over the next few months and it would be nice to see more of our members coming to the monthly meetings. We need more than a dozen faithful members to keep our branch surviving and more involvement from our younger members!!!

The next General Meetings for Branch and Auxiliary will be Thursday, May 11 that 7:30 p.m. Legion Hall.

Next week's column: The Hantavirus

For your information the week of May 8 - 14 is Nurses Week. May is also Huntington's Disease Awareness month. Multiple Sclerosis Carnation Day is May 13th, Friday, May 12th is Canada Health Day.....at festivity is planned at 2:00 PM in the Complex to honor workers in the health field.

If you are one of the many people who feel health care workers shouldn't be honored for their dedication to the sick and infirm, remember it next time you are sick, hurt or in hospital. Where would the rest of us be without nurses, doctors, technicians, and ALL workers in the health care system?

Child Find Identification Session at Walter Whyte School

by Lorraine Neal

More than one hundred and fifty local children were fingerprinted and photographed Tuesday, May 1st, 1995 at the first Child Find - All About Me, Child ID. The event took place at Walter Whyte School in Grand Marais, and is the first of what organizer Constable Stephanie Sorenson hopes will become an annual event.

Constable Sorenson initially made a presentation: subject Child Find, to the Parent Council of Walter Whyte School. Parents were asked if they were interested in this form of identification for their children. Such information is invaluable to police, in cases where children are lost or abducted. Consent forms requesting permission were sent home with children. Once consent was received the school recruited parent volunteers to assist with the task of photographing and printing.

Constable Sorenson said she hopes this will become an annual event because children can grow and change so rapidly during their formative and pre adolescent years. Constable Stephie spent a great deal of time organizing Child Find for Grand Marais. The students made poster advertising the service, and Jennifer Sosiak made the banner. There is a $3.00 per child cost for this service. The cost is to be borne by the R M of St. Clements.

Beaches Buzzes

As we daily watch newscasts on our local T V stations, we see news clips from Holland, England and even Germany. These newscasts remind us of the end of World War II in Europe. The date many people will never forget is May 8th, 1945. For some who read these pages, that place in time will never be forgotten. For others, too young, or not born then, it is only something either read about in a history book, or heard about from T V or grandparents.

We remember today, and again on Remembrance Day, those who gave the supreme sacrifice, but should we wonder when there will be no more of the ugliness of war? Will this beautiful earth of ours ever be free of war? We must teach our children to be tolerant of others.....it is o k to have differing opinions, and yes even to be different from each other.

Sunday, May 14th is Mother's Day.....if you are still fortunate enough to have your mother, try to spend time with her. It's nice to take Mom out for dinner, for she would be happy with nothing more than your undivided attention.

Falls Health Complex for the updating of equipment in the Operating Room.

Regional Wrap

*Benj Osis of Lac du Bonnet won the Manitoba 3-D Overall Trophy at the Archers and Bow Hunters Awards Night in Winnipeg. Benj, a member of the Lac du Bonnet Archery Club, will be competing in the 1995 Canadian Archery Championships in Dauphin.

Coaches' Corner

"To coach or not to coach, that is the question."

The very name 'coach' conjures up pictures of Don Cherry, statements such as "nice guys finish last", "when the going gets tough, the tough get going", etc., etc. But in fact, are we coaches or are we educators? Do we strive to teach knowledge, attitude and skills; or do we concentrate solely on skills to the detriment of the whole person?

Is winning trophies #1?
Does the winning of trophies, leagues and tournaments take over from the real reason why children first start out in sport - fun, friendships, and skills acquisition.

Children fail because...?
John Holt, in his book How Children Fail, stated, "Children fail because they are afraid, bored or confused. They are afraid above all else of failing or disappointing or displeasing the many anxious adults around them." Many times, we as adults, do not realize the pressures imposed upon children in sport - "last one to finish does sit-ups," "everyone practice, then you'll demonstrate to the rest of the group," being chosen last to be on a team in a scrimmage, sitting on the bench for entire games, etc.

Develop positive self-worth. We must develop positive feelings of self-worth and self-esteem, so that as children grow and mature, they can better tolerate some of the pressure that will befall them in later years. Learning to lose a game at the age of six, seven or eight does not prepare you to lose a job, a friend, or a sale when you are an adult.

Confidence is built early.
William Glasser in his book Schools Without Failure stated, "A child who has functioned satisfactorily for five years is confident that he/she will continue to do so,.... however, if the child experiences failure during the ages of five to ten, by the age of ten his confidence will be shattered, his motivation destroyed, and he will have begun to identify with failure."

Individualize our instruction.
We have to look at our children through the eyes of a physical educator, not a coach. We have to individualize our instruction, gear it to the level of the participant. We have to provide a variety of experiences that will develop running, jumping, throwing, catching, kicking, bunting, sliding skills, not develop five or six year old soccer, softball, hockey players who feel comfortable in their own sport.

Scout Trees for Canada

by Lorraine Neal

Saturday morning, May 6th, while other kids were either in bed, or home watching cartoons, groups of three hundred dedicated Cubs, Scouts, leaders, parents, brothers and sisters, were out planting trees at Traverse Bay Corner, and Highway #11 in the Belair Forest.

The Forest swarmed with enthusiastic kids, dogs, leaders and parents from all over the Eastern province. The list included troops from the 1st Fort Maurepas, Pine Falls area, 1st Beaconia, 1st Lake Winnipeg, (eastern beaches area) 1st Pinawa, 1st Lac du Bonnet, 1st Beausejour, 1st Oakbank, 1st John de Graff from Winnipeg, and three other groups from Winnipeg.

The biggest hit of all, was the attendance of "Smokey the Bear." Smokey did a great job of having fun with the kids and "helping" with the planting.

It is expected that the 50 millionth tree will be planted at the Belair Forest this spring. The jack pine trees came from Pineland Nursery in Hadashville. As well as planting 9000 trees, the groups also did a monumental clean up of winter debris left by careless people.

According to coordinator Todd Ming, this was a great year. There was a good turnout, and the weather cooperated beautifully. Those of us who travel that route on a daily or weekly basis will appreciate the beauty of the trees as they grow and mature. We owe a debt of gratitude to Cub and Scout Canada, the many dedicated Cub and Scout leaders, and parents who so diligently transport car loads of children to participate in events such as "Scout Trees."

Register now!

Spring is having a hard time getting started, but the Winnipeg River Junior Gardeners are going to "spring" into action anyway.

If you are a child between 5 and 13 years of age and have an interest in gardening, the Junior Gardeners is for you. Members plan their gardens, plant and tend them, and harvest and exhibit their produce.

The membership fee of $5.00 per child covers the cost of seeds and transplants, as well as instructions and prizes.

Judges go around to all the members gardens in late July or early August. Then at the end of August we have a garden show where the Junior Gardeners show off the flowers and vegetables they have grown. In September there is an awards presentation where prizes are given out for the best gardens, best show entries and the special event.

This year's special event will be a scarecrow competition. Every member will be asked to call on artistry and imagination of themselves, their families and friends to build a scarecrow.

If you are interested in joining the Winnipeg River Junior Gardeners in some gardening fun this summer give Cathy a call at 367-8215 before May 20.

S.O.S. A call for help

Part 3 By Wilda Ward

Dr. Stein Thompson was 30 years old in 1923, and had only recently graduated from medical school in Winnipeg. His medical training had been interrupted by World War I, where he had served with the Canadian army and been wounded at the Battle of Ypres. A newly married man, he had only recently come to Riverton as a general practitioner, after a short stint at Gimli. He was of Icelandic origin, the family name originally being Thomasson, and so he was returning to his roots by settling in Riverton, which at that time was a thriving lumbering and fishing town on the west shore of Lake Winnipeg, directly across from Manigotagan.

Like all G.P.s of this era, he was used to being called out at all hours of the day or night. Since the nearest hospital was located in Winnipeg, many hours away by train, he frequently made house calls, and treated even serious medical conditions in peoples own homes.

So it was not unusual for him to be awakened in the middle of the night by the shrilling of the telephone. It could have been anything - a baby choking with diphtheria, a lumberjack injured out in the bush, or maybe someone struck down suddenly by a stroke or a heart attack. This time it was Mr. Hudson on the line, calling long distance from Winnipeg, and asking him to make an emergency trip across Lake Winnipeg in the fastest way possible to the Selkirk mine, where a woman in labour was in urgent need of medical attention.

But this was just the beginning of the Freeze Up, that dreaded time when transportation in the North grinds to a virtual halt. How was he to get across the forty-mile stretch of Lake Winnipeg, and across country inland many more miles to the Selkirk mine, with the lakes and rivers starting to ice up?

With his black doctor's bag in hand he set out by horse and buggy from Riverton across Grassy Narrows (the causeway linking Hecla Island not having been built yet) to Thomasson's fishing camp on the South shore of Hecla Island. Two young Icelanders, the Palsson brothers, offered to take him across the lake from there. They set off in a large skiff, carrying a dog team in case they came across patches of ice the boat couldn't negotiate. If they had been forced to use the dog team, they would have dragged the boat behind them across the ice until they came upon open water once again. This method of travelling during Break Up and Freeze Up is commonly used in the North to this very day, only now they use snowmobiles instead of dog teams.

Luckily it was a late Freeze Up that year, according to Environment Canada long term records, and the lake was mostly ice free so Dr. Thompson reached the settlement of Manigotagan (or Bad Throat as it was then called) without any difficulty. The boatmen took him directly to Arthur Quesnel's house, which was the stopping place where all travellers met. And waiting for him there was Walter "Bubbins" Baker.

Bubbins, a 19 year old, was working at the Selkirk Mine at the time. When told that a doctor was being asked to cross Lake Winnipeg to help Mrs. Symms, he offered to set out on foot to meet him. Bubbins had no way of knowing if the doctor was actually aged to have a couple of hours rest before the doctor arrived at Quesnel's stopping place. To continue in Bubbins' own words:

"Arthur Quesnel was able to supply us with a horse and a mule. After my aunt put on a good hot meal for us we were on our way. The Doc had did a lot of riding in the First World War so it was no problem for him to ride. We made fairly good time on the way back. The mule did not mind wading across any water he did not need to swim, but when we got to the Wanipigow, which was called the Hole River in them days, it was wide open and flowing quite rapidly. We were able to swim the horse but the mule would have no part of it..."

So the doctor loaded their gear on the horse and rode it over the river, but he was afraid his precious black doctor's bag might fall into the water. So Bubbins tied the bag securely around his shoulders and went across hand-over-hand, along a rope someone had fastened from shore to shore, leaving the mule tethered securely on the far side.

Bubbins and Thompson then rushed up the hill, wondering if they were going to be in time to save Mrs. Symms, by now in her third day of labour, and her unborn child.

PUBLIC HOLIDAY TODAY AND TOMORROW—OFFICIAL

Czechs flown from Britain to save Prague

Soon after a Czech Spitfire squadron left Britain for Czechoslovakia yesterday large formations carrying Czechoslovak ground troops also took off for home—and the battle for the liberation of Prague. The commander, before leaving, said: "This is the greatest day of my life."

In a final burst of mendacity SS troops in Prague last night were firing the last shots of the war on helpless Czech civilians.

SS men went through the streets driving people out of their homes as other SS troops waited to mow them down with machine guns. So bad has been the conduct of the German troops that the Wehrmacht commander of the area broadcast a warning to his men to respect international law.

"Some breaches" he actually admitted had occurred. But earlier he had announced that he did not recognise what he described as the "armistice."

"German troops will continue to fight until they have secured a free passage out of the country," he added. According to refugees who

War winners may broadcast today

The Prime Minister will broadcast at 3 p.m. today.

It is probable that later in the afternoon General Eisenhower, Field-Marshal Montgomery and Field-Marshal Alexander will also speak over the radio to the Allied world.

At 9 p.m. the King will broadcast.

SPAIN BREAKS WITH GERMANY

Spain has severed diplomatic relations with Germany. It is officially announced in Madrid.

Goebbels and his family are found, poisoned

DISCOVERY has been made in Berlin of the bodies of Dr. Goebbels, his wife and their six children.

They were found by the Russians. All had taken poison and this was the cause of death.

Hitler's body has not been discovered and neither has the body of Goering.

There is now some speculation as to whether, after all, the Fuehrer and Goering may not have fled to a place of hiding.

It is pointed out, however, that their bodies may have been burned and the ashes lost in the wreckage of the burning Ost-Berlin, or some other of Berlin's destroyed buildings.

On top of the world
In the heart of London an Allied soldier — he climbed the Eros statue in London's Piccadilly — gets just as high as he can to celebrate the lifting of the shadow from Europe.

Celebrations delay due to a 'technicality'

By BILL GREIG

THIS IS VE-DAY. AFTER FIVE YEARS, EIGHT MONTHS AND FOUR DAYS OF THE BLOODIEST WAR IN HISTORY BRITAIN AND HER ALLIES HAVE GAINED VICTORY IN EUROPE.

Capitulation of Germany to the Allies was announced by Doenitz yesterday—but a mere technicality in the arrangements made with Russia and America delayed the British people's celebration.

One result of the delay is that Britain's workers get two clear days' holiday—today and tomorrow. This Cabinet decision was disclosed last night.

Originally it was intended that the first day's holiday would not begin until the Prime Minister had spoken.

The announcement late last night that today will be VE-Day was the final act in a bewildering day following the German surrender.

The people thronged out into the streets all over the country. In London there were thousands in Whitehall outside Downing-street patiently waiting for the word. Little aware of the drama taking place inside No. 10.

There was chaos and bewilderment where there should have been celebration.

Here is the story of what happened in No. 10. When the news of the German surrender arrived the Prime Minister was ready to broadcast at 4 p.m.

Hurried telephone calls were made to Marshal Stalin and President Truman so that the announcement could be made simultaneously.

Then it was that the trouble started. It was found that arrangements already made did not allow for the war ending so suddenly.

Mr. Churchill put his broadcast.

German prisoners of war have erected victory flag-poles at Catterick camp in North Yorkshire.

V.E. Day 50 years ago

The Community Voice asked some of the surviving veterans of the war how they celebrated on May 8, 1945.

For Arthur Brown there wasn't much opportunity to celebrate, he was in a German POW camp - Stalag 4B at Muhlberg on Elbe. He had been captured two days after DDay and spent the rest of the war as a prisoner of war. He said they had a hidden radio in the camp and "knew what was going on - we celebrated a bit," he said. Stalag 4B was liberated by the Russians. It took another month before he was turned over to the Americans.

Don Bosma was on board the Canadian frigate HMCS Lauzon in the North Atlantic returning to Canada after escorting a convoy to England. News of the end of the war was celebrated by "splicing the mainbrace" (distributing a tot of rum to the crew). He took a walk to the bow of the ship, thinking about what he was going to do after the war. A torpedo passed under the bow of the ship about 20 feet ahead. He braced himself for the second, which he expected to hit about amidships. But there was no second torpedo. He figured the U-Boat commander had come to his senses - he was surrounded by a flotilla of about a dozen warships.

Murry Manson was also in the North Atlantic, going in the opposite direction when they heard of Germany's unconditional surrender. "they heard I was coming so the quit." He said.

WAAF Margaret Dankowski was in PEL on May 8 to meet her brother on his way back from England. His ship was in dock but Margaret waited 13 hours for him to disembark. They had time for lunch before he had to board the ferry en route to Regina.

Steve Velie was a soldier in the First Canadian Division. He was in Appledoon, Holland when the war ended. "We had a celebration - not organized," he said, and later paraded through Rotterdam - to crowds of cheering people. He said they had a barrel of fuel from a V2 rocket (Ethyl Alcohol) "It was good alcohol but you had to cut it an awful lot." He said. "We all got drunk on that stuff after the parade."

Balfour Dahl was in Halifax on survivor's leave after having his ship HMS Nabob (a "baby" aircraft carrier) torpedoed. They had a big celebration a day too soon, May 7, with him were Jerry Sharpe, John Hutchison, and four others from Pine Falls. He celebrated again on the right day. The second time there was just him and Sharpe.

Bert Berthalette who was in the Canadian Navy (HMCS Neon) had just got back from leave and was in Grenoch, Scotland. "That night the lights came on." (War time blackout was over). "We went to Glasgow for two weeks." He said. "They finally caught up with us by putting announcements on movie screens telling us we would be considered AWOL if we didn't return to base." Ten days later he was on board the Ile de France on his way back to Canada.

Bill Sharpe was at an RCAF station in Yorkshire - asked how he celebrated VE Day he replied, "that's what I'd like to know".

Another airman in the RCAF was in a town in the English Midlands - he couldn't recall the name but did remember that it had 365 pubs. He spent the whole day trying to find a girl to celebrate with. He didn't get lucky but it seemed to him that everyone else did. "They celebrated." He said. "Boy how they celebrated."

On airman, air gunner George Lalor, was in Pine Falls. He had been invalidated out of the Air Force, bought a car in Winnipeg and returned to Pine Falls. On May 8 it seems he had a little too much to drink. He ran the car into a ditch - the car was a totalled.

Charlie Norman was a 10 year old in London. Union Jacks and red white and blue bunting was everywhere. Every block had a bonfire - using wood from bomb ruins and any bits and pieces of old furniture available. He remembers the adults doing an awful lot of drinking. By midnight the kids had the streets to themselves. Dawn was breaking before they went home to bed.
