St. Georges in the chips

by Charles Norman

Smashed windshields, chipped paint, and chipped headlamps caused by repairs to Highway 11 between Powerview and Great Falls, is resulting in more than 100 Autopac claims for windshield replacement alone.

Resurfacing of that section of the highway began about ten days ago. Contrary to usual practice, chips placed on the new tarmac surface have not been rolled into the tarmac, and surplus chips have not been removed by brushing. Because of this there have been numerous incidents of loose chips causing damage to vehicles using that section of the highway. St. Georges residents are especially hard hit. The problem is likely to continue until stones have been pressed into the tarmac - and loose stones scattered - by vehicles using the road.

Highway 11 is the responsibility of the Manitoba Department of Highways, not the RM of Alexander; even so, the RM has had more than 60 complaints.

Gail Farmer of St Georges called the Department of Highways. With five smashed windshields in one household, plus paint and headlight damage, she thought she had a legitimate complaint. She phoned the Department's Lac du Bonnet office and was referred to a Wayne McKeKeren in the department's claims office in Winnipeg. It wasn't a pleasant experience, and Mrs. Farmer suggests any woman wanting to make a complaint to McKeKeren get a man to make the call.

"He was so rude." She said. "He was badgering me. How do you know this? How do you know that? I was so mad." When she asked to speak to his supervisor he wouldn't give her a name. Farmer will be writing to the Minister of Highways to make her complaint, actually two of them, Another two windshields at risk. Approaching vehicles on Highway #11 are likely to throw stones at each other. One or both windshields could be ruined.

one about the rudeness of McKeKeren and the other about the shoddy job of the highways repair crew.

RM of Alexander Reeve George Harbottle said that according to the Department of Highways they would pay the deductible of any Autopac claims. He did not know why Autopac should pay any portion of a claim resulting from the actions of the highways department.

The Echo understands that a petition is being circulated in St. Georges. Complaints to McKeKeren can be made by telephoning him at 204-945-1429. Autopac claims can be filed at the Papertown every Tuesday.

This years 4P Festival saw many exciting events. The towns were buzzing with all kinds of people. There was a fleet of Baseball Players that came to participate in this years baseball tournament they hailed from Winnipeg, Selkirk, Powerview, Little Black River, Lac Du Bonnet, and Sagkeeng. Baseball fans were treated to some great plays and some hard hitting ball. For this years trapshoot contest there were 28 competitors in all. The skills these shooters possessed were near perfect. The Mud Bogan Championships were held at the Bog sit located on Hwy. 304. This Championship event saw crowds of well over 400 in attendance. The competitors were from Peguis, Lac Du Bonnet, Manigotagan, and Winnipeg. The events had 4 categories: (Bracket I, Tires 33.5 and less) the event one was won by S. Masson, of Wpg., 2nd Kevin Sarapu of Lac du Bonnet, and 3rd to Curtis Thomas of Manigotagan. (Bracket II tires 33.5" to 38.8") Event two was won by Jim Staples of Peguis, 2nd went to Shawn Wilson of Peguis, and Les Daniels of Peguis. (Bracket III tires 39" to 48" D.O.T) event three was won by Ken Prince of Peguis, 2nd went to Jim Staples of Peguis, and 3rd place was Shawn Wilson of Peguis. (Bracket IV open) 2nd event "one winner take all" this event (the main event) was won by Ken Prince of Peguis. The crowds were treated to great runs, excellent drivers and an occasional mud bath. The kids had a blast, hats off everyone (volunteers, sponsors, and competitors) who helped make this event the success that it was. Friday night action was held at the Powerview Arena which housed the Sik Tai Kickboxing matches. The fights were cheered on by 300+ fans who were all rooting for their hometown fighters. Danielle Fenez lost by decision, fans were saying she put on one heck of a good fight. The parade went on schedule on Sunday. The children collected lots of candy and enjoyed the clowns. The Sunday night social held at the Pine Falls Arena was the place to be, there were approximately 2000+ people in attendance. This years market square was visited by many shoppers. There were approximately 40-50 tables of vendors set up for potential buyers. The arts and crafts that were on display were excellent. Monday was geared towards a family day of fun. Children and their families gathered at the Village Green and were greeted by the talents of Tanya Magnon and the fun began with all sorts of races and games. The kite flying contest had participants that ranged in ages from 2 1/2 to 17 yrs. of age. The winners of the 10 yrs. and younger categories were: 1st Kendra Osis, 2nd Tess Houston, 3rd Brady Osis, and 4th to Jill Watling youngest entry winner went to 2 1/2 yrs. old was Kachina Bernard. The Family Pickeral Derby hosted many entries this year. The weather was great and the families had a lot of fun. They were all treated to a lunch of hotdogs and cold drinks a big thank you was extended to all the volunteers who worked together to make this event the fun filled day it was. The winners were: 1st place winner Clifford Jr. and Clifford Sr. Houston. Total length 63.25" Second Place winners were the Cyr family, Dennis Wendy, Collin, Kelsie, and Kyle, total length 56.75". Third place winners were Johnny Walker, and Cody Cyr, total length was 54.25". The Midway was back this year and was the highlight of this weekends festivities for the kids. Children could not get to the next ride fast enough in all their excitement, candy floss, and candied apples were enjoyed by the kids. The Great Falls Women's Institute hosted breakfast both Saturday and Sunday at the Powerview arena. The food was great, and much appreciated by the many hungry customers. Close to 250 cars carrying perhaps as many as a thousand people showed up for the Sunday evening fireworks display. Crowds began to arrive a little before sunset, and continued to park until just before the display began at around 9:30 an hour and a half after sunset. In the meantime the children had a great time, most of them with glow-sticks. As the sky darkened they took on the appearance of laughing, dancing fireflies. The pinnacle was spectacular. A huge red fireburst high in the sky, discharged a hundred or so fire balls, glowing red, each of which burst into another dozen or so, and again each of these burst yet again. A massive, glowing three-tier umbrella floated slowly to earth, almost to ground level. A unified sound of oohs and aahs were made and followed by a spontaneous round applause.

Picnic in the Park popular

by Toni Bruneau

Memorial park was transformed into a mini amusement park last Sunday for Lac du Bonnet's Picnic in the Park. Children and parents paraded the park for games, ice cream, hotdogs and the ever popular, pork on a bun.

Lac du Bonnet Community

Centre board member Cliff Franklin said the event was a huge success. "Everybody was having a good time." Children's energy levels were high as they played bean bag baseball, went on pony rides, cheered on the horse races and visited the pluck a duck pond.

"It was a good fund-raiser, but on top of being a good fundraiser, it was also a very good Sunday afternoon for families to get out and enjoy," Terry Fisher said. It is estimated that up to 200 people came by to play, relax and visit. Fisher said there were a lot of comments and suggestions for "next year" and was optimistic about the event becoming an annual.

Lac du Bonnet Community Centre board members ran with the picnic in the park fundraising idea after receiving a donation from the Manitoba Pork Council. Along with Fisher and Franklin, Rod Demoline, Gary Buhay Vicki Short said it turned out pretty good considering it was raining cats and dogs the day before. The weather was definitely a major factor. The board had also sent out notices through the schools last Thursday which she felt really helped. "We'd really like to make it into an annual thing," she said, adding that she received nothing but positive comments. Because almost everything was donated which reduced expenses considerably, Short estimated over $800 was raised for the Community Centre.

Pork on a bun was popular at the picnic.

4P Festival TrapShoot

by Gord Sokoloski

This years competition saw twenty eight persons entered in the contest as well as two others who just shot a round or two for fun, as well two of my grandsons fired a 12 gauge shotgun for the first time. My daughter-in-law,

Claire, also tried a shot. I am very proud of their efforts as well as the two other ladies who participated in this weekends event. During the qualifying rounds Chad Hanlan shot three perfect scores of 25. Cam Sokoloski also shot a 25. This allowed Chad to place in the "A" flyte elimination with a 50 out of 50 and Cam placed next with a 49 out of 50. Brent

Chad Hanlan - shot three perfect scores

Osis placed a distant third in this elimination flyte with a strong 46 which indicates the quality and competitiveness of the shooting in this sport. There were many others who shot scores of 20 or more much to their credit as dedicated participants. Slightly more than 4000 rounds were fired to decide the flyte placements and the final winners. The results were Don Chadney placing first in the "A" flyte with a 47. Cam Sokoloski placed second after a tie breaker with Chad Hanlan who placed third. The "B" flyte saw Bill Thompson in first place with a 46 which included another perfect score of 25 for a round. Ron Anderson followed up with second and his oldest son Marrett took third place. "C" flyte put Al McKay in first place with Dave Desautels second and Dan Kemball a close third. This year our one lady competitor shot a 100 rounds. It is a pleasure to congratulate Rochelle Vinck for braving the weather as well as a sore shoulder to compete. What happened to our junior entries this year. (persons under 18 years old) Hope to see you next year. I want to thank all the volunteers who worked so hard to make this annual event a success once again. Last but not least by any means are our sponsors who so generously contributed to this community event. Their generosity allowed the club to give out almost 1700 dollars in prizes. Not to be forgotten are the spectators that came out to watch and cheer on the contestants.

Thank you One and All.

No changes are proposed to fleet rebates and surcharges, existing time payment fees or existing service and transaction fees.

PARTICULARS OF THE APPLICATION: The following rate adjustments are proposed for policies issued between March 1, 2001 and February 28, 2002.

Kite Flying at the 4P

The Annual 4P Festival Kite Flying Contest was held on Monday, September 4th at the Power-view School Grounds.

Approximately thirty people participated in this relaxing event. The wind was perfect and some of the kites were so high they were lost to the naked eye.

Kendra Osis (right) won first place in the competition for the under 10 age category for the highest and longest flying kite.

Youngest entry was 2½ year old Kachina Barnard.

Nespor wins 1st LdB Men's Open of the 21st century

The 44th golf classic was held at the Pine Falls Golf Club Sunday, August 27, with a total of 80 entries.

The tournament got underway with a 9:00 a.m. shotgun start under threatening skies, which prevailed most of the day. The course was in excellent condition but strong winds raised havoc practically all day. However play moved along rather quickly without too many delays.

Congratulations to Joe Nespor who will have his name placed in the record books and engraved on the Lac du Bonnet Golf Club's plaque. Nespor tallied a 37 on the first nine and a 38 on the back nine to edge out Don Cherrey of Minneapolis, Minnesota and last year's winner, John Chapman of Winnipeg who came in with 76.

Following the tournament, golfers gathered at The Lakeview in Lac du Bonnet for dinner and award presentations. Among this year's event winners were 20th century champions who were acknowledged by the club: Lac du Bonnet golf legend, Don Stupak won the championship 26 times, the first being in 1961 and the last 1996. Robert Kost won in 1970, John Chapman 1997 and 1999, Don Cherrey 1976 and 1979, Gary Rollins in 1990 and Joe Nespor in 1992 were also 20th century champs.

Promotional products to please

by Toni Bruneau

Robin Law had the desire to start her own unique home based business here in Lac du Bonnet. She said it was hard thinking of a business that didn't exist in the area. Her choice... Select Promos & Awards, and after five months of researching and accumulating her network of suppliers, she's ready to serve you.

Robin has lived at Keystone Heights in the Lee River area for eight years. Her three children, Morgan 16, Monty 15, and Sammy 14 are very excited about their mother's new endeavor.

Robin's Select Promos &

Awards provides specialty promotional products for businesses, sports teams, special events and fundraisers. She says she's "excited to bring the convenience of this service to the eastern district and provide personal consultation while establishing professional relationships within the community."

For customer appreciation give-aways, restaurants may require custom wrapped chocolates or menu magnets while a car dealership would be better suited with keychains or ice scrapers. Everyone's needs are different and Robin has the products and know how to assist you in getting the most out of your advertising dollars.

Many sports enthusiasts can now save a trip to Winnipeg by calling Robin. Whether its uniforms and hats, or chocolates and candy for fundraising, she will guide you to appropriate products to suit your budget.

Robin will be attending the Canada Wide Imprint Show in Calgary, mid-October to make sure she is up to date with the latest. The number of items she presently carries is endless: the popular custom printed pens, mugs, keychains, magnets; silkscreening, embroidery and embossing on wearables such as t-shirts, caps, jackets, sports bags and golf bags; or wedding packages complete with custom balloons, napkins, glassware and attendance gifts. How about pewter dog tags for grad gifts, water bottles wrapped with custom labels to commemorate your fun run, a special employee recognition gift or customer appreciation reward... the list goes on.

Specialty advertising has grown steadily to become a major form of advertising and promotion. Companies are becoming more aware of the significant role specialty items can play. The products Robin provides are practical and pro-

Accomplishment

Recreation Ramblings

by Michelle Chudd, Recreation Director Winnipeg River Recreation District

Last weekend I took part in a bike ride (I'm sure I told a lot of people about it prior to going). In early spring a group of us decided we should do something - get motivated and accomplish something to help us get physically active. The idea was born - a "century" bike ride (100 km). The location: Carman, St. Lucipin, Rosiele, Miami, Altamout.

Well, did I know that this was hilly territory? Manitoba, hilly? Okay, now I can answer that, yes Manitoba is hilly. The first day we rode 53 km with 10 km of really nice wind (OH MY GOD!). The second day we did 51 km (our fearless leaders lied about the distance). On day two, it was looking like a few of us were just not going to do it. The support vehicle looked really good and our behinds were aching and the legs were like lead.

Stubbornness and group motivation prevailed and everyone finished. I have to say, for someone that is not used to biking long distances this was an accomplishment. And next year... we're going to do it again, same distance - different territory!

Powerview Fire take league championship

The Pineview Mixed Slo-pitch came to an end on Monday, September 4th at the Rupert Ball Park with the Powerview Fire and Whipmasters playing a best of three series.

The Fire won two straight games to become the 2000 League Champions.

The Fire had previously come back from a two game deficit to the Poppers in the best of five semi-finals. While the Whipmasters defeated the Muskrats in three games to one in their semi-final play-off.

The 5 Star Shooters beat the Mohawks in two games of a best of three series to become the 2000 B Side Champions.

This year saw sixteen teams participate in the Pineview Slo-pitch league. Competition was tough and organizers hope that next year will draw more teams into the league.

Fans who came out to watch over the year were treated to some skilled plays and homeruns.

The league players would like to thank all of the fans who came out to show their support for friends, family and favourite teams.

'Round and about the Beaches

It's September - Already!

by Monika I. Evans

Well, here was the last long summer weekend already gone. Most of the cottagers that came out were busy getting the cottage ready for winter and closing it down for the season. There are a few hardy souls that come out for the winter, but the rest are busy draining water lines, winterizing their toilets, cleaning out the garden and all that other stuff related to closing up.

Now comes the preaching part - if you don't want to lose it over the winter, then take it home to town with you. Even the most vigilant Neighbourhood Watch can't protect every cottage from break-ins. As the local representatives, my husband and I try to keep an eye on approximately 215 cabins during the year. The break-ins in our area have decreased in the past few years, but that could change depending on all sorts of circumstances.

In the summer, our job is easy since there are many people out and everyone keeps an eye on each other. During the other three seasons, we find that we have to be much more observant and note and strange vehicles parked in, or driven through our area. Other permanent residents also help us by keeping their eyes and ears open if they notice anything strange.

A chain across the front of a driveway is a dead give-away to the fact that there is no one home. All that does is make the thief have to park outside the chain and just walk around the posts or under the chair. I keep telling people that this is not a preventative, but an invitation to look around. Too many trees and bushes close to the cottage also makes it much easier for thieves not to be seen by neighbours. Your cottage is an investment, so not to be seen by neighbours. Your cottage is an investment, so why not spend a little more money to burglar-proof it. Putting up sensor lights around the cottage will discourage thieves since most thieves want to quickly grab your treasures and then run. They don't want to confront the cottage owner, and when the lights go on, the thief takes off.

Any items such as a microwave, television, vcr, cd player, etc... have them identified with an engraver with your social insurance number or some other number which you then register with the local police. The police are then able to identify your things should stolen items be located and possibly you would have your things returned. For more ideas on how to burglar-proof yourself, contact your local RCMP detachment and they will be pleased to provide you with all types of information to keep you safe. Cd's, except for classical music are very popular grab items, as are piggy banks, or liquor, these are the things that get taken first. Hope you have a nice and safe winter.

Well, September will be a busy month, especially during the third week. On the 22nd the H.E.L.P. Centre will be running a Health Promotion Fair at the Senior's Scene at 1 Ateah Road, Victoria Beach. For more information call Dee Rickner at 756-6471 on Wednesday from 1-4pm or Friday from 10am to 1pm. Many Health Care Organizations will be represented and they would love to see you there to answer any questions you may have. This fair is for all ages and there will be door prizes, refreshments, a scavenger hunt, hunt videos and over 30 displays. Marilyn Zarecki, Home Economist of Manitoba

Agriculture and Food will be the speaker and her topic will be "A Laugh a Day Helps Stress". Watch your local news bulletin or see the ad in the September Beaches News. The fair will be held from 1-5pm.

On Sunday, September 24th, there will be a fall supper at the Seniors Scene to raise funds for our Beaches Library. Turkey dinner with all the fixings will be on the menu. Again, look at the local bulletin boards for more information. Hope to see you there. Ticket information is on the notices.

Next week the fall functions will start with a vengeance. My husband and I are starting a computer course in Pine Falls next Thursday. He's only a beginner, but I'm advanced, so I get to do more interesting things - I hope. Got my seven file folders, all in different colour, and my pens and highlighters, so I'm ready.

Hope you had a great and safe long weekend.

EMCA 2000-2001 Season

You are invited to join the Eastern Manitoba Concert Association on a musical journey this season. Our 2000-2001 lineup will take us across the ages and the genres on a musical magic carpet ride. To find out more about the ride, read on.

Our September opener promises to be a rare treat for the discerning music fan of Eastern Manitoba. Manitoba's own Scrú MacDuhk will bring their energy and talent to the Pinawa Community Centre stage on the 29th, playing and singing tunes with origins ranging from Celtic, Appalachian or French to original compositions by band members. Nominated for a Juno this year, and two Prairie Music Awards in October, this group's star is rising.

Our magic carpet changes course for October, taking us to the country where Amanda Stott's sweet vocal's originated. A young singer from Brandon, Manitoba, Amanda seems to have been born to grace the stage.

The concert November 24, might be said to take us to the heavens, via Boston. The angelic voice and devilish wit of singer/songwriter Vance Gilbert, often heard at the Winnipeg Folk Festival, will warm the first chills of winter away. This ex-jazz singer, now sailing the folk circuit, can wow a thousand strong with his capella voice or guitar licks as well as his timeless and compelling lyrics. Listen for the stories in his songs and let yourself be enchanted by this performer. Local singer Dan Frchette of Motel 75 will open for Vance.

On Monday, December 18, when the frantic pace might threaten to overwhelm, our journey will take a gentle turn to the 17th and 18th centuries with the crisp renditions of Musik Barock. Under the dynamic leadership of Artistic Director harpsichordist Eric Lussier, this Manitoba string ensemble has attracted a growing and enthusiastic audience. The magic carpet ride through this concert will be smooth and joyous.

If the new year brings doldrums, the EMCA lineup will provide a cure. Winnipeg-based taiko drumming ensemble Fubuki Daiko will bring their

Lac du Bonnet Slo-Pitch League 2000

The Lac du Bonnet Slo-Pitch League ended one week ago, on August 29. Winners were: (clockwise) Southern Comfort are A Side Champions; Connie Dancyt of the Classics accepts the Pennant trophy from Norm Lussier; and Submerged hold B Side honors.

compelling rhythms and athletic movements to the Pinawa stage January 12. This group has a repertoire of both hard driving and soft subtle musical pieces, and prides itself on mesmerizing audiences everywhere with their strength and precision. Let them beat away the post-holiday blues.

Tiller's Folly will take our journey to the mystical West Coast February 2. This group has been captivating audiences with their exceptional musicianship, versatility and passions since 1994, sweeping them on a musical voyage through time and tradition. Irish and Scottish jigs, reels, aires and ballads will set toes tapping throughout the evening, while we learn a bit about the compelling history of the Folly's home province of British Columbia.

The month of February will not close without another stop on our journey. On February 23 virtuoso guitarist Sylvie Proulx will bring her exceptional artistry and remarkable technique to the EMCA stage. Having travelled the world studying and playing, Ms. Proulx has built a solid reputation as one of Canada's finest guitarists. Her repertoire ranges from Dowland to Bach to contemporary to music influenced by folk traditions, particularly those of South America. Our magic carpet shivers in anticipation of this musical treat!

The EMCA series will not fade into the sunset gently. The final spot of the year on April 6, belongs to that quintessential prairie rose, Connie Kaldor. Connie's wry sense of humor on stage complements her powerful voice and instrumental work. Her lyrics have a way of cutting to the emotional heart of things, bringing an audience together in unexpectedly shared memories.

The 2000-2001 EMCA season promises its audience a terrific journey through the music of our time and beyond. Why not hop aboard to enjoy the ride?

Opening The Bible

In the last article, we used the first verse of the bible as a springboard into what I believe is one of the weightiest questions man can ponder: "What is the purpose of life?"

On one hand, if we have all come from the "primordial slough" of some evolutionary process: life is an accident, and has no meaning, so I suppose we can just chose our purpose.

On the other hand, if we have come from the creative hand of the Everlasting God, it is only logical that He created us with His own purpose in mind.

According to the bible, God created us for the purpose of His glory. It tells us that, "whatsoever you do, do it all unto the glory of God." It doesn't tell us to live for our own glory, for our country's glory, or for the church's glory. God created us to give Him glory, and that is the purpose of life.

God urges us to give up our small ambitions, that we might "seek first His kingdom, and His righteousness", where, "in His presence is fullness of joy, and at His right hand are pleasures forevermore."

We may try to find fulfillment in life through our own pursuits and self glory, but in the end, we'll find it to be vanity, and chasing after the wind.

One of the richest men in America, when asked, "how much is enough?" replied, "just a little bit more." On the contrary was a missionary who before dying in the jungles of South America penned these words: "He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain what he cannot lose." One man sought the glory of the creation, while the other sought the glory of it's Creator.

God has created us all with the capacity to give Him glory and honor. It may be that we have misdirected those abilities, and find life to be empty. If so, why not take a time out in the game of life to make sure we set the right goal before our eyes.

A famous Christian hymn, was written by a man whose life story exemplifies this. John Newton had become a drunken foul mouthed slave trader before surrendering to the God whom he raged against for years.

He wrote, "Amazing grace, how sweet the sound, that saved a wretch like me! I once was lost, but now am found, was blind, but now I see."

John went on to become a bible preacher in England that had great influence in stopping the slave trade.

My thoughts may not agree with your current perspective, but I think it's worth taking some time to look at life in this way, and see if it doesn't make sense. It is natural to think that we are the center of our world-but what if God is?

Until Galileo created a telescope powerful enough for astronomical observation, people thought that the sun revolved around us on the earth. Now, we know that they had it backwards, and we revolve around the sun.

Likewise, I would propose to you: that we ought not make up gods to revolve around our lifestyles, but that God is the center of life, and we must come to Him to find our true purpose.

If you have any comments feel free to contact me.

Pastor Todd, Box 128, Great Falls, Manitoba, R0E 0V0.

The Warning signs of suicide:

Suicide among youth is higher than in any other age group. This is a very difficult topic for many people for a huge variety of reasons. Some of us chose not to discuss it. Unfortunately, suicide will most likely touch your life in some way, at some point.

What to look for:

Suicidal Threats - Someone may state outright that he or she is contemplating suicide. They may say things like: "I wish I had never been born." or "Everyone will be better off when I'm gone." One of the myths surrounding suicide is that people who talk about it do not do it. This is simply not true and all threats should be taken very seriously.

Withdrawal - The person may stop communicating with others and want to be alone. Trouble at work or a change in school grades or avoidance of family members can be an indicator of withdrawal.

Depression - A suicidal person may become very depressed. They may be unable to function at work or at school. You may see that this person is expressing feelings of despair, grief, guilt, shame, hopelessness and helplessness.

Moodiness - Mood swings are sometimes a sign. Also, be aware that someone who suddenly becomes inexplicably calm after a period of deep gloom or mood swings many not be well. He or she may have decided on suicide as an out and thus feels "calm" in having made the decision.

Changes in personality - A marked change in attitude, personal appearance or activities may precede a suicide attempt. You may also see changes in eating or sleeping patterns.

Self-destructive behavior - Suicidal urges may be expressed through participation in dangerous activities such as high-speed driving or unsafe sex. Alcohol and drug abuse often go hand in hand with suicide.

Experience of a life crisis or trauma - Depression, divorce, grief and loss may prompt a suicide attempt. A drop in self-esteem following a personal set back may also contribute to thoughts of suicide.

Giving away possessions - A suicidal person might start to give away their cherished possessions.

These are only guidelines. There is no one type of suicidal person. If you are concerned that someone is suicidal - for whatever reason- arrange professional assistance for that person immediately. You can call a mental health worker, the hospital, tell your school counselor or call a crisis line. If your worried about someone you know please share you concerns with someone! It is better, in the end, to err in the favor of caution.

Camp Jeunes Voyageurs

Canadian Parents for French sponsored another summer camp at Powerview School between August 8th to 11th. This year's theme was a study of the ocean and ocean life. The children learn about the role of the ocean as an ecosystem as well as learning about all the animals that inhabit these huge bodies of water. Learning games such as ocean Jeopardy promoted this learning process while games such as octopus tag and sharks and minnows allowed the children a chance to have fun while keeping in our ocean theme. They also looked at ocean life above water and participants put their creativity to the test with a Pirate Theme Day.

For crafts, they continued in their theme in making ocean creature mobiles, designing tin foil boat, and using sand to make a picture with.

Friday afternoon, the parents had lunch with their children and then the children put on a mini-ski for the Moms and Dads. It was a great opportunity to practice your conversational French while having fun.

These girls were always wearing a smile and the children loved the. Hopefully next summer will bring another fun camp for our children.

No parent likes to be told how to raise their children. So here are some tips you can post on your fridge to help remind you about the important things we forget to bring about when the going gets tough raising children. Children are always hearing

"Do this" or "Don't do that", but there are some "dos" and "don'ts" that apply to parents, as well. Here are some to consider for yourself as a parent:

Do give lots of hugs and kisses. According to a Boston University study, children who receive hugs and kisses from parents are more likely to be well adjusted as adults, to have a successful marriage, and to get along better with friends and coworkers.

Don't automatically assume you know what's bothering your kids. Take the time to ask why they're upset, and really listen to their answers without brushing them.

Do set aside some time each day to spend only with your kids. And at least once a week (or once every few weeks) set aside time to spend with each child individually, doing an activity of his or her choice.

Don't avoid discipline. All children need it, and those who don't get it tend to not know limits and may become rebellious.

Do take every chance you can to let your kids know you're interested in them and their lives. Before long, you'll find they're interested in you and your life, too.

Don't overprotect your kids. Children should be encouraged to progress to the level of responsibility appropriate for their age. With each growing year, children should make more of their own decisions.

Do encourage your kids to express their feelings honestly, without denying or dismissing them. Kids should feel they are able to discuss anything with their parents.

Don't label your children. For example, terms such as "chubby," "stupid," "bashful," or "slob" can be really embarrassing to kids and can cause lasting damage to a child's self-confidence.

Do accept your children for who they are. If parents don't accept their children, the children will never learn to accept themselves. Resist the urge to make your children into something they are not.

Don't say "Nothing is wrong" after your kids have heard you and your spouse arguing. They will either blame themselves or imagine that the problem is worse than it is. Give your kids a simple explanation of your disagreement.

Do be honest with your children. If your kids find out you have lied about something, your credibility is diminished. Children must be able to trust you and know that you will speak to them honestly.

Don't spank or hit your children. This only conveys the message that "I'm bigger than you, so I can do it" and that violence is the way to solve problems. Instead, discipline with time-outs and clear-cut consequences for your children's misbehavior...

Part two will conclude next week with more helpful tips.

ALL THE RIGHT Stuff

Dear Ms Know-it-all: What should I do if I drop my fork on the floor when I'm dining out? Should I pick it up? Should I leave it? Should I ask for a new one?

Klutzy Diner
Dear Klutzy: If you are at your mother's dinner table, without inconveniencing any of the other guests, pick up the errant utensil with your napkin, take it to the kitchen and get yourself both a clean utensil and a clean napkin.

If you are dining in a private home, pick up the utensil only if it's convenient. Place it at the top of your place setting, and do not use it. If your host notices, he/she may wish to remove it. If your host notices that you have dropped your fork, she/he should replace it. If your host doesn't notice, discreetly bring to his or her attention so that it can be replaced.

In any situation where there are servers present, leave the utensil where it fell, unless it is in the way. Beckon a server, explain what has happened and let the server pick up the utensil and bring you a new one.

Dear Ms Know-it-all: Are there some things I shouldn't drink with wine?
-Food & Drink

Dear Food & Drink: Some international foods were not designed to go with wine, so be creative and experiment with different varieties. Some poor food-wine combinations are chocolate, curry, grapefruit or cantaloupe, before or with wine, as these foods will dull the taste of wine. Artichokes mixed with red wine will result in a metallic taste. More and more hosts pour Champagne with everything from Asian-influenced main courses to Indian curries. The effervescence of Champagne can refresh the palate so that the spices do not overwhelm the wine. The right sparkling wine can make a meal memorable and create a festive mood. If you are enjoying a spicier, ethnic meal, try these food-and wine combinations:

- * Cajun: Alsatian white wines, Champagne.
- * Mexican and Indian: Chardonnay, beer.
- * Sushi: Sauvignon Blanc
- * Chinese: White Zinfandel.

Dear Ms Know-it-all: What should I do if my cutlery is dirty?

-Fastidious

Dear Fastidious: If you are dining in a restaurant, ask your server to replace the offending utensil.

If you are dining in a private home and the cutlery looks soiled, you must grin and bear it, unless it is extreme. You may have to ask for a replacement, or you may pretend to drop the offensive utensil on the floor and then ask for a new one.
