THE SKIES CLEAR for SPORTS DAY Sat. July 13, 1968

It rained before, it rained after, but for two hours the sun shone forth on the annual Victoria Beach Sports Day. Children turned out in throngs to enter all the events. Thanks are in order to so many volunteers who ably ran the events and recorded the winners. Special thanks go out to Charlie Reiss who organized the program, and to Dave Grant who so ably performed on the loud speaker. Congratulations to all the winners of the various events. Winners were as follows:

CHILDREN'S ESSAY CONTEST

This week's winner of four theatre tickets is Cathy Blakesley, of 419 First Ave., age 13. Tickets may be picked up at the editors cottage. No entries will be discarded and will be rejudged each Friday. Rules—500 words or less, topic, anything concerning Victoria Beach.

VICTORIA BEACH

Victoria Beach is one of the only beaches that I have visited that still has retained its natural beauty and surroundings. Commercialization has not destroyed the lovely trees and pine scented air as has happened to so many other beaches.

Down at the lake is practically the only time to relax and really enjoy yourself. Many people come down to the beach to get away from the city. Here they can enjoy themselves by participating in the many activities provided by the Victoria Beach Community Club.

Saskatoon picking is one of the many pleasurable pastimes for young and old. The berries are plentiful throughout the beach and make lovely pies.

Another favorite pastime for the beach residents is watching the different animals which live here. The chipmunks are particularly interesting to watch, gathering food in their tiny cheeks.

There are also many types of birds at Victoria Beach and they can be seen building their nests and raising their young.

Perhaps swimming is the most popular sport all summer. The sandy white beaches are occupied throughout the day by people of every age. The water always is refreshing after a vigorous game of baseball or tennis.

The favorite sport or form of relaxation for adults is a quick nine holes of golf played on the golf course just north of the parking lot.

But the nicest thing about Victoria Beach is its great contrast from the city. There are no cars or busy traffic and you can enjoy some peace and quiet.

This is why I like Victoria Beach and what it provides.

Cathy Blakesley, age 13,
419 First Avenue.

Fire! Buckets! Alexandra Beach!

"My heart was in my throat!" "I didn't hear the fire bell, did you?" "The hose scarcely made an impression on it." "That brush on the bank is a serious fire hazard." "Lucky it just rained." "Mrs. Wallace rang a bell." These are some of the thoughts voiced.

Fire is the most terrifying thought a Victoria Beach cottager can have. This combined with wind is doubly terrifying. Sunday afternoon July 21st we had both of these. The day was wild. Winds gusting to 65 m.p.h. Fire began in the dry brush on the cliff. About six people were seen below. Was someone foolish enough to start a bonfire? Doubtful. Even the most unthinking could scarcely do that. The wind was so high it would be difficult to light a fire. Could it have been a cigarette carelessly thrown away? Perhaps someone knows, and feels guilty.

Most parents know that one spark, one cigarette, one match, is all that is required to leave our beautiful island a charred mass of burnt timber. But how many young people realize the danger of tossing away a cigarette without being absolutely certain it is dead? How many realize the potential danger of playing with matches, or lighting dried straws and watching them burn while holding them? As parents it is our responsibility to impress upon our young people the seriousness of the situation.

A flash fire could totally demolish all buildings and vegetation. Almost surrounded by water, many people would be trapped. Cynics said, "Some fire — where could it go?" But every fire starts small. In spite of the recent rain, the fire had dried out the area ahead. It started in the dry brush on the cliff, but spread over the bank. Green grass was burning with large flames. Where could it have gone? Ahead, wiping out the whole area. Nothing could have stopped it but people — or very heavy rain. We had the people. A large group of young people were assembled for a birthday party. They turned out to swell the numbers in the forming bucket brigade. The word spread quickly. The wonderful people of Victoria Beach answered the call, and came quickly bearing buckets. In less than half an hour some 300 people were assembled on Grassy Point. As Charlie

MacRae put it, "It resembled a huge cocktail party without drinks. Everyone was there."

The Herald congratulates the cottagers of Victoria Beach for their quick action.

FROM PENGUINS TO PEOPLE SWATTERS

The downpour of rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the many participants and spectators who came out to the clubhouse last Saturday for the Children's Masquerade.

The costumes were once again a challenge to our judges Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Dennehy and Mr. David Henderson. It was difficult but well performed duty.

To the recorder Noreen Henderson, announcer Nestor Swystun and the girls who volunteered to help Sandra Squires, Sandra Gilmore, Renee Sarchuk, Patti Sudermann, Gail Henderson, Debbie Quinton, thank you for your assistance.

The results were as follows:

Girls 4 and under — Fancy — 1. Susan Acland, 2. Joanne Bamford, 3. Kathy Rayner. Original — 1. Shelagh Pollard, 2. Sarah Beech, 3. Colleen Smith. Comic — 1. Susan Carrey, 2. Nancy Sarchuk, 3. Susan Oades.
