CENTENNIAL SPORTS DAY—1970

If having in excess of 240 children participating in the Sports Day is successful, then Centennial Sports Day 1970 was a resounding success. Jim Rutherford did a great job on the 'mike' as starter. Teenagers George Tumell and Hedley Auld proved to be the best finish line string holders at the beach! Thanks to all the volunteers who helped and also to Al Wiggins and Silverwoods Dairy for their usual good ice cream.

BRIGADE '70

Everyone's been talking about the canoe brigade of modern day voyageurs who departed from Kenora, July 1st and were due to show at Victoria Beach by Friday, July 10th.

A chain of fifty or sixty canoes set out from Kenora to retrace the route of the early voyageurs following the Winnipeg River past Minaki, Pointe du Bois, Pinawa, Lac du Bonnet, Pine Falls, etc. to Lake Winnipeg, then along the Red River to Winnipeg.

All members of the Brigade to whom the Herald reporter spoke said the trip had been a tremendous experience, pretty arduous and a bit of a test of stamina and endurance. The weather hadn't been altogether kind, especially during the first few days and so the brigade was running a little behind schedule. Therefore, when they neared Traverse Bay on sunny Thursday, July 9, Lead Bourgeois Don Starkell suggested that they keep paddling and press on to Grand Beach where they could have a day "Lay-Over".

Charlie Mitchell and son David managed to drop off and visit their family. Charlie cut a dashing courier-du-bois figure in his brigade outfit (plus brigade beard).

We certainly missed the colorful spectacle of having the Brigade make camp here but we drove up and visited their camp-site at Grand Beach and felt the very companionable relaxed atmosphere of the Brigade.

May such adventurous outdoors men flourish amongst us and every summer see such a romantic re-enactment of history.

BEACH PEOPLE

Connaught Beach had the most glorious sand until the winds of fate removed it for a fine choice of pebbles. All the regulars are around, and the Coxes will be back from two months in England and Ireland on the 15th. Crows and rabbits are very plentiful this summer. The women and children haven't yet succeeded in prodding the men into erecting the second volley-ball post, and since the hailstorm of the 7th, the stairs require a mountaineer's skill. However, the sunsets are still superlative, the choice of birdsong the widest and the lush greenery quite tropical!

Nice to see Jack Williams back down following major surgery. Jack and Olive will be at their cottage, 420 - 8th, for the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rae, Kelly, Kirby and Jody, formerly of Winnipeg will arrive from Edmonton on July 20th for a summer vacation at their cottage 403 - 7th Ave.

Major and Mrs. C. A. Christian of Ottawa were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Huget at 403 - 7th Ave.

Ron and Tammy MacIntosh are holidaying at 207 - 8th Ave. with Ronnie, Scott and Shauna-Lynn till July 27th. Following a camping trip to the Duck Mountains they will spend the last two weeks of August here.

Mrs. E. Houston, 210 Sixth Avenue, opened her cottage on May 16th for the 1970 season. This is her 23rd year on Sixth Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Houston and son Shawn spent two weeks in June at the family cottage, 210 Sixth Ave.

Items for the Beach People column may be left in the Herald box, which is located in the Library (open 11.00 a.m. to 12.00 a.m. or 7.00 p.m. to 8.00 p.m., Monday to Friday).

BEACH READING

One of the things that I enjoy doing as the summer holidays come to Victoria Beach, is to stroll along the sand to see what everyone is reading. Last year it was Arthur Hailey. "Airport" was all over the beaches with a good scattering of "Hotel" and "In High Places" too. I even overheard a discussion of "Airport" at the Bridge Club. Connaught Beach had the cultured elite with "Cancer Ward" and "The First Circle" by Solzhenitsyn passed back and forth. 1968 was, I think, the year of "Valley of the Dolls", every beach was thick with it. This year, however, there seems to be no firm favourite as yet, except that the emphasis appears to be on humour.

Several men on Alexandra are sharing Farley Mowat's "The Boat Who Wouldn't Float" and it is raising many hoarse chuckles. I imagine it will soon find its way from Alexandra to our Yacht Club. One matronly sun-worshipper on Patricia was quivering with shocked giggles when the retired bank-manager discovered the Crematorium Urn of his mother's ashes contained pot in Graham

Greene's "Travels With My Aunt". On the same beach a bespectacled male was describing, rather enviously, I thought, the antics of Kingsley Amis' anti-hero, the hotel-keeper, in "The Green Man" to his loving wife. Gerald Durrell's "Birds, Beasts and Relatives", kept one good-natured hostess, at the bottom of sixth, awake past midnight, while her guest snorted over it in the guest-room.

I have encountered a few more serious books; there were the distraught readers of "The Godfather" and "The Landlord", a cyclist with M. Muggeridge's "Jesus rediscovered" in the basket, and a bather left the Canadian "Arrow of Mercy" by P. Smith, lying on the sand. No one seems to be reading M. Lawrence's latest. I'm not surprised: her "The Firedwellers" was so depressing, I nearly copied her heroine's escape route. I am surprised though, that no one is reading either Pearl Buck's latest, "The Three Daughters of Madame Liang" with a strong story and interesting glimpses of Red China, or John Fowles "The French Lieutenant's Woman" which gives you a choice of endings.

However, the summer is still young and I may find the 1970 beach-seller yet.

9:00 a.m. (DST) — CLUB HOUSETHE CABARET DANCE

Barbra Streisand and Prime Minister Trudeau did not make it to our Centennial dance but we did have a record-breaking crowd with many friends reuniting for the first time in years. This included the Fletchers and Nutters from Ottawa, who did attend the gala affair in the capital, and many more from out of town.

The Club was decorated as a cabaret with tables, checkered tablecloths, candles and some excellent posters that would have put Toulouse-Lautree to shame, by Lil Adamson of Winnipeg. The delicious food was supplied by the "Merrymakers" of Victoria Beach and the Bakery provided a beautifully decorated birthday cake for Manitoba, complete with emblems and good wishes.

Our president, Barb Sudermann, introduced the Council members and the Victoria Beach Club executive as they were piped in by Alf Mathers.

Doreen Benningen, our acting mayor, led the Grand March and cut the birthday cake to a rousing chorus of HAPPY BIRTHDAY MANITOBA.

The dance was convened by Mrs. Al Moore, ably assisted by her decorating committee: Pamela Swystun, Riley Anderson, Glen Karr and Stuart McQuaig.
