 House for Maskwa Project

By Caitlin Laird

Mustang Minerals held an open house in Lac du bonnet last night to obtain public feedback and answer questions regarding their proposed expansion and extraction from the pre-existing open pit mine in Nopiming Park, whose history dates back to the 1920's. They propose to operate the mine for a minimum of 7 years and produce 2750 tonnes of ore per day and an average of 9.2 million pounds of nickel per year (along with other metals such a copper, cobalt, platinum and palladium). A full feasibility study is slated for completion in 2009. A pre-feasibility study has already been completed, the results of which were deemed "positive." Financing will be sought as early as this upcoming Spring. The project requires a capital investment of about $125 million.

Mustang Minerals is in the process of completing an Environmental Impact Statement, which will be prepared by Wardrop Engineering, who has already collected data from Tensions were at the forefront of Thursdays' Municipal Board hearing, which will determine whether councils' proposed public workshop via borrowing by-law 33/08 is to proceed amid objections, criticism and raised voices. Council revealed that the shop would be 4,956 sq. ft, with 4,500 sq ft devoted to shop space, with a total fenced area of 10,000 sq. ft. What objectors have been taking exception to (among other things) is that the proposed site is zoned as recreation/open space/institutional. In order to circumvent this zoning, council approved its own conditional use of the site under the guise of an "administrative" building, which angers resident's like Joyce Robinson and Sean Kembell who made presentations on behalf of the objectors. Robinson pointed out that there would be "very little administration going on in a public workshop".

The central issue in this controversy appears to be location. Sean Kembell voiced concern over the negative repercussions that the workshop could have for recreation due to its proximity to a baseball diamond. He urged the Municipal Board to consider how children would be affected by the new workshop. "Young children and equipment don't mix", he said referring to the transportation of large equipment to and from the public works building in areas frequented by children. He felt that the location would eliminate the possibility of "synergy" for recreation in the area, such as the possibility of adding a soccer field adjacent to the ball field. He compelled the Board to issue a moratorium on the plans, so that it could become an election issue in the near future. "I don't see the urgency", he said.

This sentiment was echoed by Joyce Robinson, who called council's treatment of the proposal "a rush job" and gave detailed figures to the Board to outline what she believes to be "poor fiscal planning". When questioning public works supervisor Larry Stinson on council's tendering process, he said they used an invitation-al, as opposed to open process because it was "more expedient." Mayor Ted Pichor said they did receive three quotes from different companies and went with the lowest. He said that council's previous 10 year capital plan did include the construction of a public works building in the 08/09 year at an estimated cost of $300,000 (council's borrowing by-law is Continued on page 6

Town's Priorities Regardin Fogging "Bugs" Reader

It was very disappointing to learn today, Friday, Aug. 15th, that the weekly mosquito fogging did not take place last night. I was told by the Town Office that there wasn't anyone available to do the spraying because they were all at the public meeting which ran very late. Previous spraying has taken place between 11:00 p.m. and midnight (on my street). Does this give us an indication of the the Town's priority? A public meeting over community well being. With all the rain we've had and all the standing water in the Village Green, participants to this park deserve more. And today was Picnic in the Park!

 The July issue of The Town newsletter front page is entirely dedicated to the topic of west Nile virus. It states the Town intends to fog weather permitting. The weather complied last night, the Town did not.

150 Jobs Expected for the Region

 The region on wildlife, water quality, climate and air quality among other considerations. The assessment is undertaken in order to "minimize any potential negative effects" and in accordance with provincial statute. One of the stated purposes of the open house was to obtain public feedback for the EIS and address potential concerns regarding the projects' impact on land and resource use, water quality and traffic generated by the project. They plan to complete the environmental assessment study by this Fall.

 The project will likely involve either the use of the Pine Falls or Molson railway, both of which are being considered based on a variety of factors. Supplies that will need to be brought in include fuel (mainly), tires and chemicals. Construction is set to begin in 2010, which

YOU CAN PROTECT YOURSELF FROM WEST NILE VIRUS

WHAT ARE THE SYMPTOMS?

- A severe case of West Nile virus (WNV) can be life-threatening and may result in long-term disability.
- Some people develop an illness with symptoms such as fever, headache, fatigue, body aches and rash.
- Most people infected with WNV have no symptoms and do not become ill.

WHO IS AT RISK?

- In southern Manitoba, anyone can be exposed to an infected Culex tarsalis mosquito during the summer months.
- Severe illness most often occurs among older adults or people with chronic health conditions or weakened immune systems. However, severe illness has occurred in all age groups.

WHEN IS THE RISK HIGHEST?

- The risk of WNV infection is highest during late June, July, August and early September.
- The risk varies from year to year based on temperature, precipitation, mosquito population and other factors.

HOW DO I PROTECT AGAINST WNV?

- Reduce the time you spend outside between dusk and dawn.
- Apply an appropriate mosquito repellent.
- Wear light-colored, loose-fitting, long-sleeved clothing.
- Get rid of standing water around your home.
- Make sure your door and window screens fit tightly and are free of holes.

For more information about West Nile virus (WNV), including information about risk, visit our website at manitoba.ca. For WNV health concerns, contact your doctor or call Health Links-Info Santé at 788-8200 (in Winnipeg), toll-free 1-888-315-9257.

Cooperation between all local governments in this community is paramount.

Forget the Past – Look to the Future

By Charles Norman

The old animosities just will not go away. In spite of the fact that Pine Falls and Powerview have been working together in sports and recreation for years – and working together as if the boundary between the two communities did not exist – the division still exists within the Powerview/Pine Falls council.

And Powerview/Pine Falls council still operates, more often than not, as if St. Georges did not exist.

It is time that all three communities, Pine Falls, Powerview and St. George recognize that all three communities are part of one community, all of them dependent on the newsprint mill.

It is time that all three begin to work together as one community.

Seventy years of history cannot be made to go away with a snap of the fingers, and we should not forget the history of the three individual communities – but where it prevents us from working together it should be recognized for what it is – the detritus of history – and let it go.

This community is vulnerable. While the future of the mill looks a little bit better than it did a year ago it is still not secure. The US election and the Olympic Games are causing an increase in the demand for newsprint – but it is temporary – by January next year U.S. newspaper warehouses will again be full – there will be another downward pressure on the market and price of newsprint – more Canadian mills may be forced out of business – our mill may be one of them. Even if it survives and thrives the very fact that it may not be having a negative effect on this community. It will not grow; young families will not settle here, businesses will not invest here until the future is more secure.

The federal government recognizes this and has made available a billion dollars for at-risk communities like ours. Perhaps 20 or 30 million dollars could be spent here. You can do an awful lot with that kind of money. You could build and industrial park, and build and lease factories and equipment to potential manufacturers. You could provide jobs for the community and build confidence and enthusiasm for the future.

But none of this can be done if we don't work together.

Recently Powerview/Pine Falls had a meeting with the provincial economic development minister to discuss Powerview/Pine Falls participation in this fund.

They did not invite any representation from St. Georges. The Industrial Park will be in the RM of Alexander and water supply and sewage will be provided by the RM, but the RM was not invited to the meeting.

Another problem that all three communities are having is the delivery of medical services in the area. It is a problem for all three communities, but The RM visited a municipally owned clinic in Altona without inviting anyone from the other two communities.

If this were not enough, communications at a formal level are difficult.

If the RM decides to write a letter to Powerview/Pine Falls on some subject of mutual interest, they make that decision at a council meeting. They meet twice a month on Tuesdays. The town meets once a month – also on Tuesdays. Thus the letter from the RM could arrive for consideration at a council meeting a month later. Suppose the council needs more information – then the letter will be back to council a month later. At that meeting the town council decide they need a clarification from the RM on some point. Back to the RM goes the request for clarification. It arrives at an RM meeting two weeks later. The RM provides the clarification and sends it back to the town who get it two weeks later. The town then makes a decision on the original letter. It has taken a total of three months.

This is only one example of the problems that can arise from meeting only once per month.

It is time that the Powerview/Pine Falls Council recognized the fact that these communities are in a state of crisis and that meeting only once a month is not enough.

The town and the RM are in the process of forming a joint economic development corporation – The Edgewater Development Corporation. When this is complete they will be hiring an economic development officer. It has already taken too long, but that economic development officer will not be on staff until next year.

It is way past the time when we have to put aside the old animosities and work together to build a secure future for all three communities.

Protecting Canadians With Electronic Monitoring of Offenders

As the fall session of parliament approaches, our Conservative government is pressing forward with an aggressive agenda to get tough on crime and protect law-abiding Canadian citizens. This has been a central focus for our government since we took office, and we have been able to put in place several measures that we not only campaigned on in the last election, but that we have been pushing for since we were in opposition.

The Conservative record is clear: our party is the only one in parliament that takes the common-sense, tough-on-crime approach that Canadians expect. We have passed the Tackling Violent Crime Act which puts in place tough new rules that ensure that gun criminals, impaired drivers, and violent and sexual offenders serve tougher sentences for their crimes. The Act also protects kids from sexual predators by raising the age of sexual consent from 14 to 16.

These are long overdue and necessary measures. But we must continue to do more.

From strengthening the flawed Liberal Youth Criminal Justice Act, to reforming corrections and parole, we have a long list of things that need to be changed to ensure criminals are held accountable and communities are kept safe.

My colleague, Public Safety Minister Stockwell Day, introduced one of those changes recently when he announced that our Conservative government is launching a program to electronically monitor federal offenders. The one-year pilot, which will begin in September 2008, will include the monitoring of up to 30 offenders in the Ontario Region. Based on the results of the pilot project, the Government will examine options for extending this program across Canada.

The electronic monitoring system will function by having an offender wear an ankle bracelet with a Global Positioning System (GPS) receiver that reports its position to a monitoring network. Correctional Service Canada (CSC) will be alerted whenever an offender violates conditions such as curfews, residency or location restrictions. Following an alert, appropriate action will be taken and the police may be called as required.

This new program will allow officers to quickly detect any violations of certain types of release conditions; ensure offenders are abiding by the terms of their release; and increase safety for parole officers conducting late night checks of offenders under imposed curfews.

As Minister Day said, "Our Government is determined to ensure that those offenders who are released by the National Parole Board into the community are more effectively monitored. We have listened to police and victims groups who have been requesting such a tool for years."

It was a pleasure to see the support this initiative received from Steve Sullivan, the Federal Ombudsman for Victims of Crime whose office our government created to stand up for victims' rights. "I am very pleased with the government's announcement. Enhanced supervision through electronic monitoring will provide victims and the public greater protection," Sullivan said.

Our Conservative government recognizes that as offenders are released to complete rehabilitation, the protection of the public remains paramount. That's the goal of this program, and I look forward to seeing it succeed in the year ahead.

Please feel free to contact my office if you have any concerns or issues you would like to discuss. A Faith Perspective:

By Pastor Jake Doell

The Battle of the Kingdoms

The trilogy of "The Lord of the Rings" tells the story of two kingdoms, the kingdom of light versus the kingdom of darkness. The story brings out the tremendous battle that takes place between these two kingdoms. J. R. Tolkien takes the Biblical principle of the two kingdoms and wrote a fascinating trilogy that became one of the greatest box office hits of recent times.

The story of this battle is fictional and yet so real. You see the Bible – the Word of God has depicted this battle between light and darkness since the beginning of time. You see our first parents Adam and Eve were given the choice of which kingdom they wanted to live in. You see the test of whether they would eat the forbidden fruit of the tree of "the knowledge of good and evil" was a choice of two kingdoms. Would they believe and obey God or would they believe the lie of the tempter and disobey God. You see the kingdom of light is based on the truth of God's word and the kingdom of darkness is based on the lie of Satan the "father of lies." (John 8:44)

Some question the existence of a "real devil." Let me ask you this question; "Who was the inspiration behind the terrible tragedy that recently took place on a bus?" You see the Bible tells us the reality of the tremendous battle between good and evil, darkness and light. "For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms." – Ephesians 6:12. War, murder, rape and the oppression of addictive lifestyles are all manifestations of the kingdom of darkness in this world.

The "Good News" is that God has not left us powerless to flee and resist the kingdom of darkness. There was a time in my life where I chose to believe the "lie of the kingdom of darkness." It actually stated off as an enjoyable adventure. But after a while this new found freedom turned into slavery. I became a slave to my habits and gradually I found myself in a very dark place in my life. I'm so glad that King Jesus of the "kingdom of light" came and rescued me. "For He rescued me from the kingdom of darkness and transferred us into the kingdom of His dear Son, who purchased our freedom and forgave our sins." (Colossians 1:13&14) I've also peeked at the end of "the Book" and I know that the kingdom of Light wins.

 seeking $230,000 in Local Improvement Debentures and $50,000 from the Town's Gas Tax Reserve Fund).
 The justifications for the project given by council were that the current workshop is too small (it is only able to hold 3 large pieces of equipment and there is no room for a fenced compound). The building is up for sale, with council's lease expiring September 1st and though they were given an offer to purchase the space by owner Don Chapel, they declined as it does not meet their needs. They calculated the rental cost over the next 15 years to be at least $216,000, compared to a maximum borrowing cost of $22,914 per year over the next 15 years for council to own the building. They also cited their expected lower operating costs at the new location and the impossibility of using the two existing workshops from pre-amalgamation because of their inadequate size (the Ward 1 shop is to be tendered for sale).

Other grounds for opposition emerged throughout the evening's presentations; the environmental impact of the location, consequences for water services and the detriment to property values for residences in the immediate area. Many of the objectors (there were about 20 present) live on Louise Street and expect to be directly affected by the location. Those in attendance spoke up about what they felt was a lack of consultation on the part of council and their annoyance that the project had been described as "a done deal" at the May 29th public hearing. While many were upset that a deposit had already been made to Green Bay for construction, CAO Marlene Watson did explain that the contract stipulates that the work must begin in the 08 year, or the deposit will be returned in kind.

Though the Municipal Board was clear that it would only consider evidence pertaining to the borrowing by-law itself, it did question council as to whether "feasible alternatives were being considered", alluding to heresay within the community that if vacated, Pine Falls arena would provide a suitable location. Presenter Bob Poitras made the suggestion that the town's staging area at the South end of Art Street be considered, though whether this is viable because of residential considerations and non-conformance regulations is still unclear. Poitras suggested that council build a road from his proposed site to the highway, which he acknowledged would be costly but would "eliminate traffic and ease peoples' anxiety." The Fire Hall site was once again mentioned as a possibility, but was dismissed by Councillor Jack Shwaluk and others because it is "not big enough" and the land is owned by Tembec.

One resident objector made the closing remark that "it would be nice if we could work together as a community", and with that the board adjourned the acidic dialogue three hours after it had begun. A decision is expected in the coming weeks.

Doug Hanson New Champion

Doug Hanson survived the heat, slick greens, Gene Lazaruk's charge and his own balky golf clubs on Sunday to finally emerge as the 2008 Pine Falls Golf Club Champion after a one-hole sudden death playoff. Doug drove the green in the first hole of sudden death and managed to get down in par, while Gene missed the green and ended up bogeying the hole. Going into the third and final round Doug was in a cruise mode with a seven shot lead built up he the first two days of the competition over both Gene Lazaruk and Ed McMullen.

With all three playing head to head on Sunday, both Ed and Doug struggled, ending with scores of 80, while Gene put on a great charge and ended his round with a fine 73. The playoff ensued and Doug Hanson emerged with his first Club Championship. Doug learned to golf here on the local track, and has become a very good golfer over the past years after living in the Maritimes for a few years. After steady play all summer, he was tabbed as a possible threat to win the championship and proved observers to be right. He shot rounds of 76, 74 and 80 before winning the title in the playoff.

Lazaruk had the consolation of winning the Senior 55 +Crown for the fourth time.

Ed McMullen and Al Borody were tied for second. In the Super Senior-65+ competition, Glen Hibbert emerged the winner. Ray Lavallee was the reigning champion and his participation was sadly missed. Submitted PF Golf Club

A natural history of the East Beaches and Winnipeg River

Great Blue Heron

By Charles Norman

The great blue heron is not an uncommon sight along the shores of Lake Winnipeg on calm days and it can often be seen hunting along the edges of the Grand Beach and Hillside lagoons.

The great blue heron usually nests in colonies, often in trees in swampy areas remote from human habitation and where it is difficult for predators to reach. Thus colonies are not often seen by humans.

About twenty years ago Abitibi Price loggers came across a breeding colony some miles inland from Lake Winnipeg. They did not reveal the exact location but ceased all logging operation within about a quarter of a mile from the colony. Herons return to the same nesting sight year after year until their droppings kill the trees and a new site is found.

The great blue heron, because of its height, (about three feet tall with its neck outstretched), gives the impression of being quite thin but adults weigh in at more than five pounds with males usually being larger than females.

It flies with deep slow wing beats, with its neck doubled back with its head tucked back between its shoulders and the long, thin legs trailing behind.

Sexes are similar in appearance with both sexes exhibiting brighter plumage in the breeding season.

The great blue heron feeds mainly on small fish usually less than three inches long, but will also take frogs, shellfish, insects, small rodents and small birds. It hunts by standing absolutely motionless for several minutes waiting for prey to come by, or by slowly stalking along the water's edge.

In Manitoba Breeding takes place in late March.

Both sexes arrive at the nesting ground at the same time and breeding takes place almost immediately. They take new mates every year.

Old nests may be taken over or a new one built. In either case the male occupies the territory and its defence becomes part of the mating ritual. The nest can be up to three feet in diameter with a central cavity about four inches deep and a foot across. It is lined with moss lichen or conifer needles. Both sexes build the nest, which takes about a week. One to four eggs are laid, usually two or three. Incubation time is 28 days. Incubation is shared by both sexes with the male taking the day shift and the female taking over during the night. After the eggs hatch both parents share in the feeding of the young. For the first week the young are fiercely protected, but later they are left alone for extended periods of time while the adults forage for food.

At about eight weeks old the young begin to fly, and after another two weeks leave the nest for good.

There are tens of thousands of great blue herons in Canada and it is not considered endangered.

The great blue heron migrates to the Caribbean in winter and flies day and night to get there.

Traditionally a big bike ride conjures up the image of a lot of people on a lot of different bikes. In this particular case we have a lot of riders and 1 BIG BIKE. The bike holds a total of 30 people, 29 peddlers and 1 driver who is provided by the company that owns the bike. As of writing this message, we have 2 complete teams. Team 1 is the Bluewater Peddlers and this is a team comprised of 29 women! The hope of team captain Lori Robb is to help raise awareness to the unique and sometimes under-identified symptoms of Heart Attack and Stroke for women. Team 2 is the Team for Hope headed up by team captain Melinda Pluchinski and is comprised of 29 family members and friends. It is this team's goal to inform people about the conditions children face when they are born with heart issues.

Team 3 headed up by Don Robb is a team of men. We still need a "few good men" to help move the big bike! It is this team's hope to best the time of the lady riders! To date we really do need a few good men to help fill in the almost 20 empty seats!

So if you know a few good men or if you one of those good men, come to Midway Foods sign up and get your pledge sheets. The BIG BIKE is coming on Tuesday September 9, 2008.

Don't let it ride away!

Trampoline Safety

Trampolines have become increasingly popular as a backyard recreation. This has raised health and safety concerns because they can cause serious injuries if they are not used properly. Some minor injuries caused by trampoline use, include sprained ankles and wrists, to more serious injuries including skull fractures, to broken necks and backs. The majority of the injuries were caused by unsupervised and inappropriate use.

Most trampoline injuries are the result of:

- Attempting tricks or flips.
- Colliding with, or landing on another person on the trampoline.
- Being pushed off the trampoline.
- Landing improperly on

- the trampoline.
- Falling off the trampoline and landing on the ground or a hard object.
- Bouncing into contact with the springs or frame.
- Jumping off, instead of climbing off the trampoline.

You can minimize your risk of injury by taking the following precautions when using a trampoline:

- Be sure to inspect the trampoline before using it. Make sure that the springs are secure, the bed has no holes or tears, the padding is securely fastened, that there are no bends or kinks in the frame and that the leg braces are securely locked. Also, ensure that the trampoline is assembled on a level area.
- Be sure to have mature supervision when the

- trampoline is in use.
- Only one person should use the trampoline at a time.
- Children under the age of six years are not recommended to use the trampoline.
- Keep bouncing low and under control, remaining in the center of the trampoline.
- Never use a ladder with the trampoline because it will allow unsupervised access to young children.
- Somersaults are an advanced skill that should be performed in an advanced facility with the guidance of a certified instructor. Never attempt these on your own because landing on your head or neck can cause paralysis. Injury may also be prevented by not attempting any flips, stunts or tricks.
- The trampoline should be set up in an open area away from structures, trees and other play areas.
- Only use a trampoline that has shock absorbing pads that completely cover the springs, hooks and frame in a contrasting, easy to distinguish color from the trampoline bed.
- Make sure the area under and around the trampoline is completely clear of objects or obstructions.

- Never spring from the trampoline to other objects.
- Do not jump onto a trampoline from a higher place.
- Do not wear jewelry while jumping and remove sharp objects from your pockets.
- Do not use your backyard trampoline when under the influence of alcohol, any drug or medication.
- Respect your physical limitations. Avoid bouncing for long periods of time and do not bounce when tired and short of breath. Do not bounce when you are pregnant or have circulatory ailments.

• A trampoline enclosure with safety netting may help prevent injuries from falls. However, it should not be used to replace adequate supervision. Although there are currently no Canadian regulations regarding trampolines, Health Canada is monitoring their use. If there is any evidence of safety related problems with a specific make of trampoline, such as a flaw in design or construction, Health Canada will take appropriate action to ensure that the health and safety of Canadians is protected.

Recreation Updates

For Powerview/Pine Falls, St. Georges & R.M. of Alexander

What a beautiful day for Picnic in the Park this past weekend. The Division Slaves had the park rocking - what an incredibly talented group of young men. They even played the tunes for a good old game of music chairs for the children. It was priceless. Faces were painted, balloons were filled, books were read, bowling balls were knocked over and laps were made around the park. Josh & Jesse were troopers by sticking their faces in the hole for kids to throw goop sponges at them. All went very well except for my BBQ that just didn't want to heat up to get the burgers cooking. Oh well, there always has to be something! I think everyone was also impressed with a young man by the name of Mike Miechkota-Lauze who went on stage with his guitar. I think everyone's jaw hit the floor when this unbelievable strong deep voice started belting out Johnny Cash tunes. Thank you to all who attended and a special thank you to all the volunteers who helped for the day. We could not have done it without you!

Our first Teen Pool Party was on this past Saturday night from 8 pm till midnight. Not to often you can play a mean game of water polo at night at the pool while the tunes are blasting! Fun was had by all who attended on a warm August summer evening. Lets hope we can make it an annual event.

Swimming lessons are now over and we are coming to the home stretch with the summer day programs for the kids. Check below for the dates and times for the rest of August. Make sure to mark the Family Pool Party scheduled for this coming Saturday August 23 from noon until 5:00 pm. BBQ will be cooking up burgers and dogs and games will be organized. This is a free event to all PRC Summer Members and $2.00 charge for non-members.

I am trying to arrange for all the different organizations to meet together at the Pine Falls School on Monday September 8 & Tuesday September 9 for the communities to register for all fall programs. If you would like to set up a table to provide information or registration of a program please give me a call at 367-9142.

Saturday morning at the 4P festival we will be hosting the pancake breakfast to help raise funds for equipment needed at the Pine Falls Pool. We will not be cooking the traditional pancakes, but yummy breakfast sandwiches and hash browns. So don't make any plans for the morning and come start your day with the smiling faces of Nicole, Jessica, Paige and myself serving a hot breakfast and coffee!

Have a great week and make sure to wear your sunscreen - it's hot out there!
