

USKIW RESIGNS after 20 years

Sam Uskiw, MLA for Lac du Bonnet and Minister of Natural Resources

WINNIPEG (staff) — after almost two decades of politics Sam Uskiw has called it quits.

At a press conference Tuesday morning (December 17) Uskiw explained that the major reason for resigning the cabinet, effective January 2nd, was because he had purchased an Ellice Avenue business with other family members and he wanted to avoid any possibility of a conflict of interest.

Uskiw had been MLA for the Lac du Bonnet constituency for 19 years and held several cabinet portfolios including Agriculture, Highways and Tourism. Presently he is Minister of Natural Resources.

Both Uskiw and Premier Pawley denied a rift between them over policy in regards to Abitibi-Price and logging in Atikaki Provincial Park or the current AECL hydrology study.

Uskiw said he was happy to have had 20 years in politics and that his departure was "not unhappy" at all either.

It is expected the New Democratic Party will announce soon a prospective candidate for the Lac du Bonnet constituency.

Landowners threaten to take L.G.D. to court over drainage

by Pyteke Blaauw

The Thompson brothers, landowners and farmers, represented by their lawyer Chuck Chappel, want the L.G.D. of Alexander to assume clearance and maintenance of a municipal drain since it is hampering their farming. This was brought forth at the L.G.D. of Alexander's council meeting of Tuesday, December 10th, 1985.

Lawyer Chappel stated it was the L.G.D.'s statutory duty to do so, the Thompsons were encountering difficulty obtaining crop insurance, since the fields were considered too wet.

Reeve Thompson pointed out that the land had only been purchased one year ago, but had been leased by the Thompsons since 1980.

Chappel retorted that clearance of this third order drain, which leads into Catfish creek could not be considered the responsibility of the landowners. And if the council decided not to undertake this clearance his clients had given him the instructions to challenge the L.G.D. in court, adding that a settlement within the council's chambers would be preferable avoiding unnecessary time and money.

Council did not pronounce itself pro or against, but listened to the offers from the Thompson brothers to assist the council in helping the clearing procedures, looked at pictures depicting the actual location of the drain and heard Chapel state that a decision as soon as possible was needed to see this land become workable before the beginning of the spring of 1986.

Request for land lease and road construction

Dennis Duff approached council for the leasing of some land which is owned by the L.G.D. Reeve Thompson pointed out that while the provincial lands branch has the mechanics in place to lease Crown Land, the L.G.D. does not in regards to its land.

Said Reeve Thompson, "This land has never been appraised. We have never leased any land before". The matter was referred to the Winnipeg River planning district. Duff will not be able to lease the land until all studies are examined.

Paul Caya, who wanted a road construction leading to his leased Crown Land which also runs adjacent to the R.M. of Lac du Bonnet requested a motion pertaining to the willingness of the L.G.D. to cost-share this construction with the R.M. of Lac du Bonnet.

Reeve Thompson referred to previous communications with the R.M. of Lac du Bonnet. Also stating that two resolutions were duly made to this effect. The L.G.D. is willing to construct a road within its boundary, which covers one quarter mile. The R.M. of Lac du Bonnet would take the responsibility for the remaining mile. Thus far the R.M. has not agreed to do so.

Road maintenance budget

Mel Saunders, from the Department of Highways agreed to discuss road maintenance of highways with the individual councillors of the four wards and to present next year's maintenance budget for the highways within the L.G.D. at the next council meeting.

How to house the ferry

The St. Georges Historical Society submitted the plans and construction mode for the shelter of the ferry. The proposed structure

Recreation district

Councillor Gelinas noted, that although the recreation district had received the approval of the Minister of Culture, Heritage and Recreation, things would perhaps be rushed a bit, in trying to hire a recreation director in the middle of the sports season. Gelinas will report the outcome of an upcoming recreation district meeting.

Christmas road lights will be up soon. Hydro will provide the hook-up and the service will come for free.

Pathway between Powerview and Pine Falls

Communication from the Powerview School in regards to a proposed footpath between Powerview and Pine Falls, was acknowledged. To ensure proper safety of the student population the transport supervisor of the Agassiz School Division, Mr. Hirst had indicated the need for proper pedestrian walkways.

Council felt that with the increased patrolling by the R.C.M.P. Powerview detachment the safety of the Powerview students was now better protected. The proposal of the principal of the Powerview School to let the bus students board earlier, as to avoid confusion between the pupils who walk to and from school and the bus students would also help.

The matter of a footpath was not further addressed.

Winnipeg River planning district

The need for a planning district board meeting was stressed. No meeting was held in November. Harbottle stated that

No logging this winter in Atikaki

Abitibi-Price was asked and agreed not to start logging operations this winter in the Atikaki wilderness park.

Premier Howard Pawley made a direct request to Albert Reichmann, president of Olympia and York Developments of Toronto, which holds controlling interest in Abitibi-Price.

Through Mr. B. Koken, chief executive officer, Abitibi-Price in Pine Falls learned that all logging operations in the proposed park will be suspended this winter. A meeting between the provincial government and Abitibi-Price is scheduled for January 1986.

Says Brock Bartlett, manager of woods operations of Abitibi-Price in Pine Falls, "It's now a matter for the politicians to fight out. We here will keep a low profile. They (the politicians) will decide".

Abitibi-Price received cutting privileges in this part of Manitoba (north of the 51 parallel) in 1979.

It was only in the past year that Atikaki, Manitoba's only wilderness park was designated as such.

Christmas concert delightful, entertaining

A Grade 8 student of the Pine Falls School mentioned that he already had seen the concert twice over, during dress rehearsals, and he saw no need to be there right at the beginning. Probably a case of never to be admitted butterflies, and excited because each student does tend to get jittery when he or she has to stand up there on the stage to perform for so many friends and relatives.

The Pine Falls School Monday night's Christmas concert proved that once again.

Not a parent was missing — not even a distant aunt

The gym was filled; the pupils excited; and performing they did. Songs, skits and more songs. The audience loved it, teachers held their breath.

From kindergarten to Grade 8, they all came prepared ready to take to the stage.

Some of the skits were written by the students themselves, and especially the parody of the Seven Days of Christmas created and performed by the Grade 8's was hilarious.

The Candlelight song was performed by three Grade 3 students was heart-warming.

And the Grade 1 wishing everyone a Merry Christmas in different languages was equally endearing. (Was it really Icelandic I was hearing?)

When principal and emcee Bill Borlase introduced Santa Claus and the younger ones in the audience dashed to receive some treats, here in Pine Falls another school Christmas concert was concluded.

RINGETTE REVIEW Petites win 2, lose 1

The Pineview Ringette Petites experienced their first defeat in the league. The game on Sunday, December 15th, 1985 in Beausejour resulted in 6-5 for Beausejour.

The home games on November 30th, 1985 and December 1st against Ste. Anne and Selkirk respectively resulted in victories (10-0, 12-1).

In all three games Danielle Fenez (center) was major scorer for the Pineview team.

Foyer Chateauguay celebrates 10th anniversary

The residents of the Foyer Chateauguay, in St. Georges rejoiced in the 10th anniversary of this senior citizens' home and were treated to an evening of delightful carolling by the community choir on Sunday evening, December 15th, 1985.

All residents and guests assembled in the main foyer of the home, while the members of the community choir under directorship of Edgar Desautels performed a wide array of familiar Christmas carols. Gillis Boulet and "Bud" Houston accompanied the choir on guitar. During the intermission Mrs. Berthe Jubinville reminded everyone of the 10th anniversary of the Foyer Chateauguay and presented directors Mrs. Eliane Boulet and Mr. Jean Dupont with a plaque honouring them for their 10 years of service as directors of the board. She expressed the wish to see them continue for an equal number of years if not longer.

A beautiful decorated cake depicting the anniversary was then cut by Mrs. Boulet and passed around.

The foyer was officially opened in June 1975. It is spacious and well designed. The 15 units all lead to the hall which is known to the residents as "Main Street".

The building is situated in the centre of the Village of St. Georges, overlooking the Winnipeg River. Last Sunday traditional choir performance was well appreciated by the residents and guests. When choir conductor Desautels announced the song "Joy to the World" one elderly lady remarked, "And we are certainly having it".

ture will be made of metal. Councillor Raymond stated that plans are not final yet but it seemed likely that the society intended to seek approval for a metal structure.

Both Councillors Grewinski and Roman questioned the esthetics of said structure in view of the fact that the adjacent museum is made of wood. Conformity of the two structures would be preferable.

The Winnipeg River planning district will eventually have to deal with the issuing of a building permit, and council cannot legally oppose any building projects, since no zoning laws exist in St. Georges. This was pointed out by resident administrator Roger Bouvier.

Reeve Thompson referred mostly, to the 45 anonymous letters of objections received in regards to this project. She admitted to the controversial nature of this project but had difficulty siding with a, what she called "silent majority". The anonymity of the objection letters bother her.

In 1982 a park was planned, which was considered as a place for the ferry, and greeted with the general approval of the Village residents. But this plan for a park was shelved.

The L.G.D. has approved and executed the blocking of a drain to accommodate the present location of the ferry, therefore implying the more or less permanent place for said ferry.

Committee structure

Reeve Thompson proposed a two-member committee structure rather than three. Adding that committees were to meet the Monday prior to a council meeting. Aside from the regular four committees (standing, finance, personnel and policy, recreation and culture) a fifth was added — environment and planning.

The latter was considered necessary to provide input concerning issues in regards to waste disposal grounds, peat moss, inspection of subdivisions and other environmental concerns. This committee would not duplicate the Winnipeg River planning district.

All councillors also serve as regional board, like the Pine Falls Hospital board, the Veterinary board in Lac du Bonnet, Eastgate Lodge (Beausjour), etc.

Great Falls garbage dump

The Provincial Department of Environment has to approve the chosen site for its suitability. The suggested site is located on Crown Land, which is presently leased by an individual. The site seemingly is far enough removed from human habitation to qualify, but studies in terms of proximity to groundwater level will have to be conducted. The required fencing of any water disposal ground was discussed. At present the L.G.D. administers four disposal sites. They cost-share two with the R.M. of St. Clements and the R.M. of Victoria Beach for the total cost of $30,000 per annum. The dump servicing residents in the Traverse Bay/Victoria Beach area is causing concern, and as Reeve Thompson stated, these current problems could have been avoided if an environmental committee within the L.G.D. council had been in place.

the proposal for subdivision of the Dean property needed to be dealt with by the planning district.

Papertown proposal

The Papertown Motor Hotel is offering to sponsor community activities, by way of a point system. Several community organizations will compete for cash prizes as given by the management of the Papertown, based on food consumption in its establishment.

The Powerview Athletic Association (P.A.A.) is one of the participating community organizations, and will allocate any received money to the installation of artificial ice in the rink.

Said Harbottle, "We suggest that all of you, will eat out and eat lots, and that you deposit the receipts in the P.A.A. box."

Taxi license

Fred's Taxi has closed its operation.

Village of Powerview agreed to write a letter of community support to the proposal of David Theinhorson, proprietor of the Pinewood Hotel, in regards to his interest to start operating a taxi service. Gelinus suggested to first obtain information as to whom Fred Cyr was negotiating to sell his business.

Water utility

Harbottle reported that the new sewage pump was installed. Mayor Trudell suggested the construction of a shelter at the lift station, and outlined inherent dangers if safety precautions at the lift station were not adhered to.

The proposed lagoon site received permission from the Dept. of Natural Resources. Council will negotiate with the Water Service board to access all available grants in regards to this relocation and expansion.

Emilien Wilcott will receive $908.00 for increasing pipe size of waterline from 1/2" to 1 1/2". This is being cost-shared between the Village and said property owner.

Council agreed not to sell any property near the existing lagoon commonly referred to as Ban-nock Town.

Councillor Oman stated that since the relocation of the lagoon was still in its early stages, no commitment as to the sale of the adjoining lands should be made.

Waterlines and hook-ups. Who pays for what?

From the records, dating back to 1977, Secretary-Treasurer Harbottle could not draw any firm policy as to the division of cost-sharing in regards to water and sewage service between the property owners and the Village. There seems to be no clear understanding who pays for what length of the hook-up. Mayor Trudell urged for a thorough investigation into the matter, particularly how this will affect proposed subdivisions.

New subdivision

Mr. B. Osis appeared before council to discuss a proposed subdivision of his property. Councillors Tardiff, Gelinus and Oman engaged in debate with Mr. Osis. Secretary-Treasurer Harbottle stated that the discussions were basically preliminary. It will be awhile before final agreement between Osis and the Village of Powerview in terms of each responsibility in regards to the proposed subdivision will be reached.

Even if our winter has started a month earlier than usual, the very cold spells haven't dampened our enthusiasm, here we are a week from Christmas and we feel it in the air the joyful anticipation of the great day.

Some are celebrating the birth of Christ, others, the arrival of Santa. Wherever we go, be it in stores, beauty salons, homes, etc. the radios or record players are playing Christmas carols; along with the decorations, bright lights, all is helping to prepare us spiritually and emotionally for the festive season.

Many are on the go shopping for presents, but the mothers are busy cooking for their loved ones. At the library we have a few new Christmas books, "Better Homes and Garden Cookies for Christmas", "Kids Party Cookbook", Also books on needlecraft "Creative Needle Craft" by Bantam, "Step-by-Step Needle Craft", "Creative Cuisine Cooking For Christmas", and "The Good Health Cookbook" by Octopus Bk.

After all the hustle and bustle a good book would help you to relax, as mentioned before, we have a very good selection of books.

Wishing all our readers a very happy and safe festive season. REMINER: The library will be closed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 24th, 25th and 26th; but will re-open Friday 1:00 - 4:00 p.m., Saturday 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.

EDITORIAL

This marathon of goodwill

It is all drawing to a close, within days Christmas will be upon us.

A good number of women are reaching a frantic state of exhaustion, our children are almost unmanageable because of excitement and the men are getting weary because of year-end demands and major job pressures, mounting bills and pending parties.

In the midst of all this our conscience is trying hard to make us feel guilty with subtle messages, emphasized by moral institutions whispering that with all this activity we are well on our way to losing the true spirit.

The commercial breaks are far from subtle, they urge us to spend, be it on Princess Cuddelina or Wuzzles, so that our children will delight us with starry-eyed rapture on Christmas morning.

We go through this every year, and every year we more or less silently vow to start earlier with the preparations, or not to prepare at all.

It is hard to capture the true Christmas spirit be it christian or paegan. With violence and natural disasters all over the world and 256 returning soldiers losing their lives in a plane crash it is hard to understand where the superior powers that govern us are directing us to. And with this dimly cold weather one also wonders if there is going to be a winter solstice.

We bear gifts to show goodwill. But in this small community we do not have to wait till the 25th of December to show goodwill. A knock at the door and the message that the car lights were left on, a telephone call to inquire if I had left some camera equipment behind, showed goodwill.

I'm considering my options: either walk the freezing streets in search of inadvertently left on lights or go back to the baking of Christmas bread.

I'll choose the latter and sigh with Robert Frost — The woods are lovely, dark and deep But I have promises to keep And miles to go before I sleep.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor

On the grand opening of the Sagkeeng Alcohol Rehabilitation Centre, I was very pleased with the reception I got there. It was like coming home again. So to the staff I would like to say many thanks. I was the guest speaker there at that time.

To many friends and relations I must apologize that I could not see you all or at least have a short visit. My time was limited as I had other speaking arrangements and had to leave at the time I did. But like General McCarther once said I shall return, (if God wills). Right now I am on my way to Alberta.

I want to wish every one around Pine Falls and district a very Happy Christmas and New Years.

God bless.

Yours truly,
Al. J. Thomas
P.S. I am now retired from government security, jail services, police and court programs.

Dear Editor,

It was a sad day Monday, December 2nd when we heard Marie Louise Vincent had passed away. She lived here for some time and made many friends here. We still remember the sunshine of her smile. I personally admired her very much seeing she brought eleven lovely girls and three boys, and adopted another boy, into this world — fifteen in all. She certainly earned her place to be with the Lord that she always wanted. God bless you dear.

Papertown introduces unique, novel fund raiser

by Pyteke Blaauw

The point system

After you have finished dining at the Papertown Motor Hotel, do keep your receipt, and deposit it with the community organization of your choice. This receipt may make this organization some money.

The plan is plain and thought out by the owners of the Papertown, Rene and Lorraine Raymond and their four sons, Paul, Michael, Laurent and Peter. They approached several community organizations with the following proposal: diners are invited to keep the receipt of their consumption and drop it in designated containers, which are located all over the community. Each participating organization collects these tabs once a month. Each dollar spent at the Tall Spruce Dining Room equates to one point. The organization which gathers the highest points will be first prize winner. Second and third prizes will be made available.

The amount of money equated to each point will be based on a percentage of the bar receipts in any given month. This, according to Mr. Rene Raymond, in a good month, might well be in the neighbourhood of $2,000.

Three organizations in the race

The Powerview Athletic Association, the Pine Falls Paper Kings and the St. Georges Community Club have entered the competition.

The plan started as of December 1st, 1985, all three organizations have established drop off points, i.e. placed containers at conspicuous places, and are awaiting the outcome.

Rene Raymond, initiator of Unique Fund-Raising plan between the Papertown and local organizations.

Reason for this fund-raiser

"Certainly it is publicity for us," says Raymond senior. "But we also see it as a good way to support community activities. We are continuously approaching to support a number of activities. We have sponsored a wide variety of causes in the community."

Says Peter Raymond, "By taking this route, we will suspend all other gifts and concentrate on the participating organizations. We like to promote more eating and less drinking," contends

Rene. "It is the bill that is run in the dining room that really will get the points, although any alcohol consumed in the restaurant will certainly be added."

Raymond explained that a bar bill does not qualify as a point counter. "Only the food consumed in the bar will qualify, since that consumption goes through the cash register in the restaurant, and the receipts are personalized by waitresses."

A fourth organization is sought

Rene Raymond expressed his disappointment to the fact that the Winnipeg River Lions Club had not joined in this venture. "Four organizations would make this plan work better," he stated.

In this particular plan, where three cash awards are given per month, it makes for better competition if four organizations participate. The Lions objected to joining this fund-raising project, as it is in conflict with its philosophy in regards to alcohol consumption.

Raymond senior, a Lion himself, respects the club's decision, and the Papertown Holdings Ltd. is inviting a fourth group to come on board. "We would certainly like a women's group to join," adds Raymond.

And the winners are...

The P.A.A., the St. Georges Community Club and the Paper Kings certainly are eager to work in this campaign.

Says Alain Grenier, president of the P.A.A., "We are going to install artificial ice in the Powerview rink and any money coming to the P.A.A. by way of this plan will be used for that purpose."

There are several deposit boxes — the municipal office in Powerview, Osis Building Supplies and at St. Croix's. The individual members of the board of P.A.A. will also take the receipts.

According to Roger Bouvier, president of the St. Georges Community Club, any cash award to this organization will be used for construction and renovation of the existing community centre. "We need quite a few things done on the building," said Bouvier.

Stubs intended for the community club can be dropped off at the Library Allard, even after or before opening hours, through the book slot. All directors of the club will also accept the receipts.

Jerry Cyr, manager of the Paper Kings indicated that if the club was to receive money through the Papertown plan it would certainly come to good use in offsetting travel and equipment expenses for the team. "Our gate receipts just about break us even," stated Cyr. "Although we have sponsors, we still have to fund-raise and this plan might be a good one."

The Paper Kings will receive their receipts through manager and players.

Promotion

Since this is a novel project for this community, nobody really knows what the outcome is going to be. Each of the organizations hopes it will catch on. It is felt word of mouth will be the best promoter.

On January 2nd, 1986 the first tally will come in. After that date the participating organizations will know how they fared. The manager of the Papertown will know approximately what it will cost them each month. And each member in the community might become part of a rather unique race.

Communities donate to care home

At the Pine Falls General Hospital annual Christmas party, Mr. Roger Bouvier, resident administrator, L.G.D. of Alexander, presented Mr. R.C. Willett, hospital board chairman, with cash and cheques totaling $4,052.00 for the Sunnywood Manor Personal Care Home.

Mr. Bouvier stated that representatives for the St. Georges Community Club, St. Georges Historical Society, Caisse Populaire, L.G.D. of Alexander, Co-op, Club Rendons Nous, Librairie Allard, Ligue Femme Catholique, and Ligue Sac de Sable, were all involved in obtaining funds through door-to-door canvassing, etc. This broad representation of organizations and individuals approached the various community area residents who are strongly supportive in wanting to see a personal care home for our elderly residents.

The building of Sunnywood Manor has become quite a personal, sensitive cause for a multitude of communities. Door-to-door canvassing for funds was an exhaustive undertaking and demonstrates the willingness of kind and generous people who have a vision which they will work towards making a reality.

The organizations and their representatives are to be commended for the great deal of effort and time spent in collecting such a large amount of money as well as sincere gratitude to all those who gave so generously to such a worthwhile community cause.

Over the past week the two large donations (includes Pine Falls Health Auxiliary — $6,000.00) has brought the total contributions to $125,202.00.

The governing board and administration wish to express their appreciation to the numerous communities for their involvement and support in moving towards our mutual goal in seeing the completion of a much-needed project which will fulfill our community health care needs.

Season's greetings from the Papertown and District. The weather has been milder recently, and let's hope it continues.

Myrtle Mackie has returned to Pine Falls after being away for five weeks and two days. She had an enjoyable time. She visited with Ken's sister, Mrs. Marjorie McIntosh, and Jessie Willoughby at North Bay. Then she went to Paris, Ont., and visited with Don and Kay Rapley, and Kay and Myrtle went over to London, Ont., to visit with Bob and Lennie Kirkup. Then Myrtle went to Ottawa and visited with her brother and his wife, Wayne and Ellen Anderson. Then Mac and Doreen Miller picked Myrtle up and took her to Pointe Claire, Quebec, to their home. Then they took her to Montreal on Sunday, Dec. 1st. Then Myrtle came back to Ottawa and back to Pine Falls. It was a lovely trip.

Fred Kotowski of Powerview, Man., passed away on December 7th at the Pine Falls Hospital. Sincere sympathy to his wife Maria and relatives. (See Obituary)

Congratulations to William Mann and Annette Abraham of Fort Alexander who were united in marriage at the Fort Alexander Anglican Church with Reverend G. Lynn officiating. A reception was held at William Abraham's home and fifty people attended. They had a nice meal and social time. William and Annette will reside at Fort Alexander.

Janice Whitford, daughter of Reverend Canon and Mrs. J.W. Whitford, was away to the Island of Crete in Greece for three lovely weeks. She visited with friends. She is now back to Winnipeg. Janice is a registered nurse at the Misericordia Hospital.

Three new buildings have been built in St. Georges next to Luger Jubinville. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boyer will be moving into their new place there on February 1st.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ephrem Vincent on the weekend of Dec. 7th were their daughter and son-in-law, Florida and Danny Howe, and their children, Melanie and Joey from Winnipeg.

Need for fresh thinking

This column begins with a call from Ottawa. A friend in high places wants me to collect some opinions on farm finance.

Now, even without details this interests me. I believe that Canada's greatest need today is to find a way to inject millions of federal dollars into the tottering food industry.

There's fresh material available if you're interested in debate. The best written account of this topic is a new booklet issued by the Canada West Foundation. You can get your own copy if you mail $4 to the Foundation at 1230, 101-Sixth Avenue SW, Calgary T2P 3P4. I give this publication "A" for excellence.

And now for the wizard question from Ottawa: How would the public react if FCC ceased making loans, and instead began making investments in Canadian farmland?

For introduction, let me give you a grossly over-simplified example. Assume with me that family X has $25,000 and wants to buy land valued at $100,000. Please assume further that all the necessary conditions are met. If so, FCC invests the $75,000, and under this arrangement becomes owner of 75 per cent of the shares in this new deal.

After the first crop comes off, FCC is paid an amount equal to 75 per cent of the gross profit, after agreed-upon deductions have been made for costs of operations, labor, management and so on. I know what some of you are going to say; this is not unlike some farm-remote deals.

Implicit here are a couple of interesting points. Any time the farmer feels flush with cash, all or any part of the FCC shares may be bought back. Of particular interest these days of low commodity prices, there are no payments in poor years. No crushing debt load accumulates under this deal.

From a public point of view, this arrangement is chancy. In bumper times FCC may, repeat may, show a profit. In lean times, in order to make more investments, the public will have to put up big money from the treasury, which must be accepted as an underlying purpose.

Do I have an opinion on this? No I don't. Farm finance is not one of my specialties, but I have friends who will help me.

The stockbroker thinks it's great. He's old enough to remember when the insurance companies were sacrificing farms in the late thirties, and he says the FCC would never do this if they came into ownership.

The banker is skeptical about the administration. He worries that some of the investments will be controlled by persons who don't have suitable performance records.

I get roughly the same response from Bert Hargrave, the rancher from Walsh who spent a dozen years as MP for Medicine Hat. Friend Bert believes farmers will be well motivated to buy back their own shares, but he also fears that some applications will be approved which should be turned down.

Do you have an opinion on this? If so, let's hear it.

When the nation's trying to save an entire industry, there's a burning need for fresh thinking.

Those new farm-help programs in Alberta and Saskatchewan will help plant the next crop, but by no means do they do away with the need for federal money.

Christmas hard for the alcoholics

The season of festivities, socializing and egg nog touched with rum is one that almost all of us look forward to throughout the month of December.

Friends gather around for a few drinks, reminisce about the years gone by, and have a laugh or two at the shenanigans of a friend who has had "one too many".

But there are over one million people, spread throughout 110 countries that find this to be the hardest time of the year, one that tests their endurance to the limit. They are recovering alcoholics.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a voluntary, world-wide fellowship of men and women from all walks of life. From doctors and lawyers to truck drivers and miners, they gather together in an effort to attain, and maintain, sobriety.

Last month Thompson was host to the 14th annual round-up meeting, which was open to the public. Speakers from Winnipeg, Dauphin, Leaf Rapids and Thompson shared their experiences with humor, sadness and a touch of incredulity, thinking back over the years of hell they had created for not only themselves, but the ones they loved.

Abel L. was convinced his drinking problem was the result of the "baracuda" he had married.

"And the children," he scoffed, "what else would a baracuda have, except baby baracudas."

He can laugh now, admitting his wife is no monster, but a loving, caring person, who gave him everything he needed. He just couldn't see it. The whiskey bottle stood in his way.

Alcoholism is considered the third largest health problem in Canada. This figure is accentuated by the fact that approximately 30 per cent of the admissions into the hospital are related to alcohol abuse.

Kidney disease, heart attacks, stroke and liver problems are just a few of the results from this type of abuse.

It is estimated that each Canadian over the age of 15, consumes 11.27 litres of alcohol per year.

For the recovering alcoholic, life is a 24 hour cycle. Abel's philosophy is that any old fool can stay sober for one day.

"And I want to be better than just any old fool."

He was fired from his job nine times. This was no great blow to his ego because he doesn't remember the first eight times.

"I just kept coming back in the next morning, and they would say "Oh, God, here he is again."

As an alcoholic Abe would explain his life as going to places he didn't like, spending money he didn't have, to impress people he didn't know.

Lee E. still has some friends from the "old days", but finds he is still being tested after eight years of sobriety.

"I have learnt how to deal with this situation," says Lee. "They offer me a drink, I refuse. A bit of coercion goes on, and finally I say yes, and take it. I then pour the drink on the ground and ask for a refill. It usually ends there."

Lee admits to being an alcoholic since he was 18. A handsome, distinguished looking gentleman, he recalls his past when he was thrown repeatedly into the drunk tank for his weekend, lost his wife and family and jeopardized the safety of those who worked with him.

"I was shy and insecure, definitely had no morals, and even if drinking didn't take these feelings away, they helped me cope with them."

On the brink of losing his second wife, he turned to AA. The fellowship offered him the one most important factor missing from his life — direction.

The most surprising turn of events in his life is the fact that he has achieved through sobriety all the things he originally drank for. No longer shy or insecure, he spoke warmly and with seemingly little effort to the group of strangers.

Christmas is a time of deep depression for the active alcoholic.

"When you lack self-worth," explained Lee "you have a hard time accepting all the love and warmth that goes with the season."

"You feel you aren't deserving of the presents, or the forgiveness that flows so freely during Christmas."

Alcoholics Anonymous was founded in 1935 by a New York stockbroker and an Ohio surgeon. Both at the time were considered hopeless drunks.

The only requirement for membership they had set up at that time was the honest desire to stop drinking. There are no registration fees, and the organization is self-support through their own contributions, which is limited to $500 per year, per member.

No record or case histories are kept, no follow-up or research is done — each member is accountable only to his own conscience. You are simply supported in your endeavours.

The disease of alcoholism is a three-fold issue, affecting the physical, spiritual and mental capabilities.

Vern B. from Winnipeg says he was baffled by his behaviour. "I drank when I was happy, I drank when I was sad, I drank when I had every reason not to. It was a physical compulsion."

Today he looks at it as an "allergy". He is simply staying away from the source.

The Fellowship has adopted a policy of "co-operation but not affiliation" with any other organization concerned with the problem of alcoholism.

However, the Alcoholism Foundation of Manitoba considered a successful discharge as being one who has linked with an outside support system, citing AA as the number one choice.

There are twelve steps in the AA program. "God only gave Moses 10 commandments," laughs Lee, "but he knew we would need a couple extra as a safety measure."

The first step is admitting that you are powerless over alcohol. This acceptance is seen with each member who speaks, "My name is John D., and I am an alcoholic."

Once this is achieved, you must believe in a power greater than yourself, to restore you to sanity. You must then turn your lives over to that power, whatever you may deem it to be.

A total inventory of yourself is taken, and you must then face those you have hurt in the past, and make amends. Prayer, meditation and the carrying of the message then follow.

The application of the message is gentle and unassuming. You feel it rather than hear it. The atmosphere is warm, friendly and comfortable, a definite feeling of belonging. Abe considers this the key to the success of the fellowship.

"We all have a story to tell and we tell it to those who understand — other members."

There was a time when he was accused of having a drinking problem.

"Hell, I had no problem with drinking. I had a problem with living."

The answer for Abe and one million other members, lies with Alcoholics Anonymous — a program of living.
