Here's what the weatherman has in store for us for 1986

by Pyteke Blaauw

Nothing more changeable than the weather, but the good ol' Farmers' Almanac has been providing readers with forecast for more than a century. Here is a brief glimpse of what lies in store for us in the mid-west.

The prairies

Severe cold waves in early January and during the latter part of the month will pull monthly mean temperatures to 4° C colder than usual, despite a sunny January thaw at mid-month. Snowfall, generally light and occurring during cold spells, will be 5-10 cm above normal.

February will have cold snaps early in the month and at mid-month, but will be 1-2° C warmer than in the southwest and east and near-normal in central sections. Snowfall, mostly during the first two-thirds of the month, will be close to normal.

Spring temperatures will be below normal by 0.5-1° C in the west and 1.5-2° C central and east, with 10-20 cm below-average precipitation, except normal in the northwest. Total snowfall will be average or slightly above.

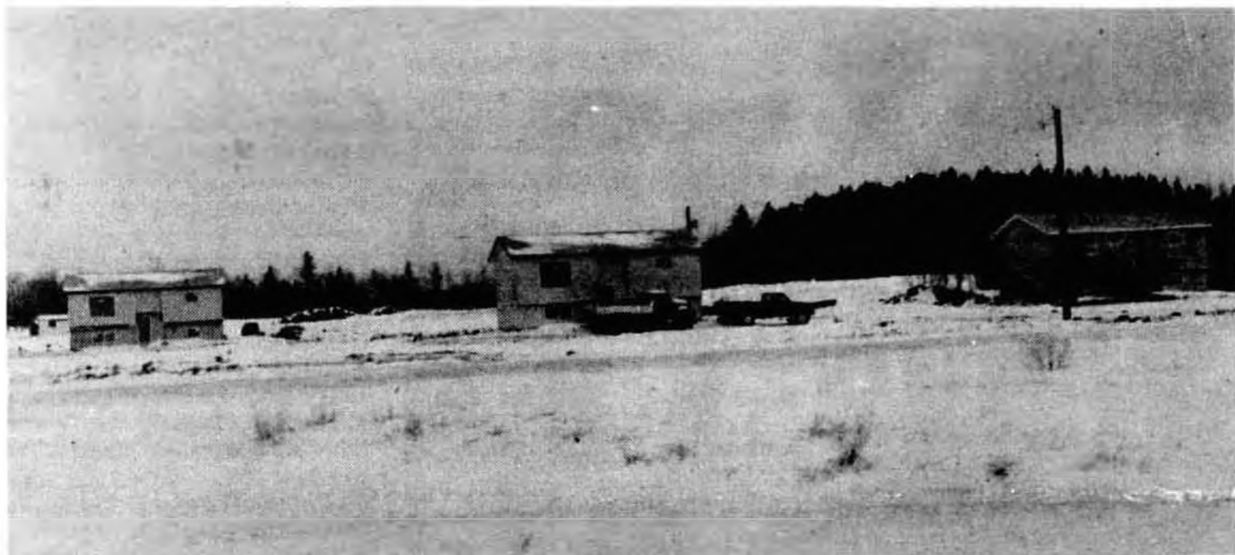

Cold waves early and late in March will bring monthly mean temperatures 3° C below normal in the west and 4-5° C below in the east. Frequent light snows, plus a major snowstorm shortly after mid-month in central and eastern sections may bring monthly totals as much as 15-25 cm, above normal; western sections will be 5-10 cm above.

April will be 3.5-4° C warmer than normal in southwestern sections and about 1.5° C warmer than usual in northwestern areas and the east, with several short cold waves and then a heat wave at the end of the month. Precipitation will be frequent but light in eastern sections and heavier but less frequent in the west.

May will be a cold, dry month with an extended period of cold, wet, and snowy weather alleviated only briefly by a sunny and warm spell before month's end. Temperatures will be 2-3° C colder than normal east and central, and 1.5-2° C below in the west; precipitation will be normal in the east, 25 mm below normal in central sections, and 10-20 mm below in the west.

The summer will be about 0.5° C cooler than normal, as much as 1.5° C cooler in the northwest, with slightly above normal precipitation in the east and north. See 1986 / page 7

These soon to-be-occupied new dwellings on Grandvie Bay in St. Georges were built by C.M.H.C. under the rural and native housing program.

St. Georges gets 3 rural and native housing units

by Pyteke Blaauw

North of Hwy. 11, in St. Georges, three almost identical houses are reaching their completion stage. Occupation date is anticipated for March 1st. They are being built by contract of the Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation. The foundations were prepared before Goodman Construction in Gimli placed the "pre-fab" shell. Work is presently underway to finish the interior.

C.M.H.C. and M.M.F.

Under the Rural and Native Housing program, C.M.H.C. and the Manitoba Metis Federation have worked together for the past 12 years to supply lower income families with a means to single family home ownership.

It is a subsidized housing project, with C.M.H.C. holding the mortgage and monthly payments are based on 25% of gross income. Mortgages span a 25-year period. Roy Nichol, C.M.H.C. officer in Winnipeg explained this program is jointly funded by the federal (75%) and provincial (25%) government.

M.M.F. functions as the delivery agent for C.M.H.C. The regional M.M.F. offices take applications from potential candidates for this housing program and carry out initial screening. Murray Kocis, the M.M.F. housing officer for this region mentioned that the accepted applicants usually identify the property and if the requirements are met C.M.H.C. does the purchasing, as well as the issuing of building contracts.

Time span

From the moment an applicant has identified some available property till the time he or she occupies the to-be constructed house, a period of two years might well elapse. When it concerns the purchase of existing houses this period can be shortened. Ms. Gail Carriere, assistant housing director for M.M.F., stressed that all residents of rural Manitoba can become eligible under this program regardless of native origins, as long as income warrants such eligibility.

When questioned as to how people would find out about this particular housing program both Kocis and Carriere stated that word of mouth seemed to be the likely route.

Adds Carriere, "The regional offices do hold meetings where information is passed on."

Says Kocis, "In June '85 the allotted budget under C.M.H.C. for this program was spent, since then I have received 50 applications. The area I cover is a large one, from Ste. Anne to Whitemouth, including Beausejour, north on Hwy. 59, 304 as far as Manigotagan."

The '86 budget is currently under negotiations between M.M.F. and C.M.H.C. If approved Kocis, who has been temporarily out of work since his salary is part of these negotiations, will be able to continue as a field worker.

U.P.I.U. elects new executive

by Pyteke Blaauw

The U.P.I.U. Local 1375 officially installed its new executive for 1986 on January 8th.

Local 1375 of the United Paperworkers International Union, counts over 400 members who work in the Abitibi-Price paper mill in Pine Falls.

Executive

Serving on the executive are: Paul Pelland, president; Dorian 'Butch' Trehart, 1st vice-president; Richard Fenez, 2nd vice-president; Marcel Guay, 3rd vice-president; Jules Bouchard, recording secretary; Bob Pfefferle, treasurer; Ken Kahle, financial secretary.

Paul Pelland, president

"We are in the second year of a three-year collective agreement," says Paul Pelland, newly elected president. "This will give the executive good preparation time, come negotiations in 1987."

Pelland (age 36), papermaker with Abitibi-Price brings with him five years of shop stewardship, one term of 3rd vice-president and four years as 1st vice-president, feels, that this major union in a one-industry town has a vested interest in keeping the relationship between mill management and union a positive one.

"Historically the U.P.I.U. has had good communication with management. We have respected each other's goals in the areas of economic growth and industrial relations. In a one-industry town, we realize that the livelihood of many depend on the well functioning of the mill," continues Pelland.

He intends to build on the good understanding between management and union. The continuation and developing of this understanding will depend on keeping the lines of communication open.

Crime Stoppers

No doubt you have all seen the television broadcasts by the police departments in Winnipeg requesting public assistance in solving crimes. Well, Crime Stoppers will soon be provincial wide, thanks to organizations such as Lions Clubs, Chamber of Commerce and many volunteers, the program was established and functions through a division of the RCMP with the assistance of a volunteer board of directors. Our representative on the board for the Eastman region is Monty Violoux, proprietor of the Birchwood Motel at Traverse Bay.

Tuesday, January 21st, 7:00 p.m., Pine Falls Legion Hall, Gary Murphy from the Winnipeg headquarters of Crime Stoppers will present a brief history of the program and tell us how we can make our communities better and safer by assisting in this program.

Travel and home security

Charlie McKinnon, a former member of the Powerview detachment will be here the same evening to present a film and talk on how to have a safe vacation and some tips on home security. Charlie will also assist the Pine Falls Home and School Association present the Block Parent Program; a program established quite some years ago in cities, by concerned parents, to make their communities safer for their children.

Very simply it means volunteering your home as a place any child can go to for help in almost any distressful situation he or she may encounter out on the street.

Come out and learn how you can help. It's easy!
Sponsored by the Winnipeg River Lions Club, the Powerview RCMP and Pine Falls Home and School Association.

Come out for a very interesting and informative evening and learn how you can help make your community safer and have a safe vacation.

New executive Membership in the union

An employee entering the mill and who has 30 worked days, is eligible for union membership. Membership is voted for, since it places the employee on the call list, which in turn helps secure a permanent position.

Short time

Much to Pelland's regret, Abitibi-Price, Pine Falls is presently running on a six-day operating week. "We recognize the economic restraint," says Pelland, "and it is not within the powers of management to change this, be we would much sooner see a seven-day operation. Men are out of work because of this short time."

When contacted mill manager Bruce Hansen confirmed that the six-day operation is likely to continue until the fall of '86, after which a return to a seven-day

Hillside highlights

by Jocelyn Stewart

The festive season was a great success at Hillside. Many cottagers braved the cold to join us over the holidays, bringing snowmobiles, cross-country skis and the inevitable water containers for those never-ending treks to the nearest well or spring. At Hillside Point the Kerr family was in residence a record sixteen days, keeping us all in high spirits. The Chubatys, Papineaus, Roths, Lemoines and Managres also were here.

Now the travellers are beginning to return home. Welcome back to Eileen and Jack Sutherland after a month of fun visiting relatives in B.C. It's some consolation to us stay-at-homes to hear the weather wasn't all that wonderful out there.

It's time to face up to our new year's resolutions. At our house it's called "increasing your physical fitness". We quickly narrowed that down to "regulated walking". First a drive around the neighborhood, to measure the distance in miles operating week is anticipated. "That's the best projection we can make at this point in time," stated Hansen.

Inaugural supper

After the installation meeting of January 8th the outgoing executive and its trustees, the new executive, trustees and committee members joined for a late supper. Five U.P.I.U. members serve as representatives on outside committees. They are: mill council — Al Majeau and Lionel Nobiss; health and safety committee — Brian Berthelette; Pine Falls General Hospital board — Donald Hills; Pine Falls School board — Herb Janson.

The international representative of the U.P.I.U., Frank Hurley, originally from Terrace Bay, who will likely be chief negotiator for Local 1375 when the union takes its place on the bargaining table, also attended.

of the usual walks, then into the book on "aerobics", to set some goals. We began with a mile a day, covered in twenty minutes, five times a week. So far, so good. We resolve to increase the distance and decrease the time. But it will never come to jogging; we'd be going too fast to see nature's happenings around us. Happy New Year to all.

FOCUS ON:

Follow the signs

by Marilyn Zarecki

In the last few years everyone has become accustomed to the clothing care symbols found on garment labels. Care symbols were designed to ensure that textile articles will not stretch, shrink or change color beyond acceptable limits if the instructions are followed. The use of care symbols by manufacturers is not required by law, but they can provide valuable information to the consumer. Do you know what they mean, and how well do you use them?

The colors of the symbols — red, amber and green — correspond to the colors of traffic lights, and denote stop, caution and go. That seems quite obvious, but suppose you had to take a test on the rest of the symbols the same as a test on the traffic signs before getting a driver's license. Would you be able to pass?

First of all, what are the five basic symbols? For washing, it is a 'tub', and ironing is an iron. A triangle represents bleaching, a square means drying, and a circle stands for dry cleaning.

Knowing how the colors and symbols are combined is of next importance. Any symbol which is red and has a large 'X' through it means don't do it, e.g. a red circle and 'X' means don't dry clean. A yellow circle involves caution such as dry clean but tumble dry at low temperatures — while a green circle means go ahead and dry clean.

Other information is often included within the symbol. For instance, one of the yellow colored symbols has a hand in the wash tub which means hand wash in lukewarm water. The "CL" in the triangle instructs one to use chlorine bleach as directed by the product's company.

Take a look at the drying symbols, they are all very logical. A horizontal line signifies drying the article flat. The box with a miniature 'clothesline' strung across it means hang to dry. Drip dry is represented by a series of three vertical lines. The box with the circle actually looks like the front of a dryer and its door. If its color is yellow, tumble dry at low temperatures; if the color is green, tumble dry at medium to high temperature.

Quite often it is the temperature for ironing and washing that presents the most problem. Both have three temperatures. For ironing, the symbol with 100° C means iron at a low setting, and a medium setting is denoted by 150° C. These 'irons' are both yellow. The green 'iron', set at 200° C is, for ironing at high temperatures. Now for the 'tub' temperatures for washing. A yellow 40° C tub means machine wash in lukewarm water at a gentle setting or reduced agitation. The same applies to the yellow tub at 50° C., but it is using warm water. If the 50° C tub is green, it is still machine wash in warm water, but at a normal setting. Machine washing in hot water and at a normal setting is a green 70° C tub.

Yves and Danny

Lastly, a trick question: When do you consult the care symbols of labels? Not just when the article needs cleaning, but before you purchase it. Know the expense and time required to keep it in good condition, and include this information in your decision to buy.

If you feel you have passed the care symbol test, why not have some fun teaching a child (or perhaps your spouse) this symbolic language. The knowledge gained could be valuable when extra help is needed in the laundry room, or when mother isn't around to answer all the questions.

Winnipeg River WI news

Our Christmas meeting was held on December 16, 1985 at the home of Sharon Ogg in St. Georges. A delicious pot-luck supper featuring everything from traditional turkey with dressing and cranberries to wild rice and exotic desserts started off the evening.

After stuffing ourselves with scrumptious goodies we left the menfolk while we had our meeting. Program ideas for the new year were discussed and congratulations were handed out to Sharon Ogg and Loreen Carlson for perfect attendance for the past year. When the meeting adjourned we joined our husbands for a gift exchange where everyone's "unknown friend" was revealed.

On Monday, January 6, president Barbara Mitchell attended the Provincial Skills' Day at the Carlton Inn in Winnipeg as an observer. Barbara is running for the position of eastern regional representative for the provincial board in the upcoming W.I. elections. Good luck from all W.R.W.I. members.

I would like to now introduce the new executive for the W.R.W.I.: president Barbara Mitchell, president-elect Renate Johnson, secretary Edith Bourgeois, treasurer Bella Chochinov, directors Sharon Ogg, Cathleen Thurston, Peggy McMullen.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Allard reading room. The program will be "Self Defense for Women" with the RCMP showing a film "How to Say No to a Rapist". Roll call will be new year's resolutions. See you there!

EDITORIAL

Rough trade

Some earnest readers of The Winnipeg River Review might have noticed the absence of a bird's eye look on 1985.

With the first edition published in September '85, it seemed rather presumptuous to reflect on the year's events based on The Winnipeg River Review's perspective, thereby ignoring three-quarters of the by-gone year.

What we will do is take you back to the first editorial (September 11, 1985) written by Russ Preston, publisher and chief editor of The Winnipeg River Review. He expressed the wish to see The Winnipeg River Review become "...a permanent fixture in every home; a necessary communication medium in the community, and an essential part of every retail merchant's promotion budget".

On his part he pledged to supply a weekly newspaper filled with reports on local happenings and events.

Many have welcomed the dawning of The Winnipeg River Review, our circulation to date is close to 1200 and steadily increasing. We are encouraged by your support but running the risk of breaching the journalistic code of ethics I dare pose one question, "Have you noticed the size of the paper lately?" — an average of ten pages. Not because there is no more copy — there is plenty of material but each week copy and advertising is carefully gauged. A simple matter of "cheques and balances". If the revenue does not warrant it, the paper won't grow. Revenue comes in all sizes, not necessarily full page advertisements.

We are keeping our side of the bargain in trying to cover newsworthy items within the community. We are hoping you will keep yours through advertising and subscriptions.

Together we will become "a permanent fixture in every home".

The book nook

by Liz Laurila
What exactly does our librarian do?

Besides assisting the board in setting up goals and objectives she's there to respond to the needs of the community through the library. Tell her about an idea you have for a project and she's sure to be able to expand on it. Give her a little time and she'll find you a host of material to match your interest.

The librarian is instrumental in setting up the numerous programs that take place at the library. Not only in finding out what the public would like but also in providing necessary informational material. The librarians are always willing to assist in the quest for information be it through books through a resource person of that particular field. If you're stuck on where to go call the librarian. I'll bet she'll have a book, an address or a phone number that will set you on the right direction.

Besides being active on the floor to aid and encourage young and old alike, the librarian has her fair share of paper work. She must supply a report of expenditures, help prepare a budget and select and order all books, read and know the provincial laws that affect the library. When she's finished with all that she must make time for meetings and relevant workshops. All in all wouldn't you say they are very busy ladies.

Operation fresh start

by Pyteke Blaauw
January is, for many organizations, an opportunity to assess the year's programming, add or delete plans for the ensuing year.

The Winnipeg River Review contacted a number of community organizations in the district, and came up with the following breakdown.

Note: not all organizations could be reached. We will be delighted to print other community organization's plans upon receipt.

Marc Dupont

The centre is just about ready to open its doors to the community. The centre is aimed for all youth from ten years and up. A grand opening is planned in the month of February, perhaps in conjunction with the winter carnival.

The addition of more facilities and equipment is part of the long-term objectives. Also the hiring of a summer employment student is considered.

Read any good books lately?

by Anne Cavers
This was once a sure-fire way to start a conversation; one wonders how successful it would be today!

If we lacked a community library it would be of great concern, but we in Pine Falls are fortunate in having had a lending library since 1949 — thanks to interested residents and the continuing support of Abitibi-Price.

We have some interesting new books at Pine Falls Public Library. Have you seen the reviews on the hit movie, Out of Africa? Then you know it is based on the life of storyteller Isak Dinesen. We have just purchased her biography and one of her books, Letters from Africa. Several other books by this author are on our shelves.

If you read Clan of the Cave Bear and Valley of Horses, both by Jean Auel, you will wish to read the third book in this series, The Mammoth Hunters, also new at the library.

James Michener's latest, Texas is in, as well as Robertson Davies' new book, What's Bred in the Bone.

Other recent acquisitions from the best seller list are: The Handmaid's Tale by Margaret Atwood; The Red Fox by Anthony Hyde; Elvis and Me by Priscilla Beaulieu Presley.

We also have some magazines and periodicals available for lending. If you have a pre-schooler, you will be interested to learn that books from the well-stocked elementary school library may be borrowed during the evening hours for your child. We also operate a paperback exchange (one for one) for those who prefer this type of reading material.

Come in and see us! Pine Falls Public Library is now located at the west end of the elementary school. It is staffed entirely by volunteers and is open Monday and Thursday from 7:00 - 8:00 p.m. Books may be borrowed for two weeks and may be renewed. Magazines are lent for a one-week period. There are no membership fees, but a fine of two cents per day is charged on overdue books. After all, we are lending the books, not giving them away!

The library committee is always open to requests for book purchases or magazine subscriptions. If you have a suggestion which would help us make the library more interesting and useful, please phone any of the following: Shelagh Geer 367-2227, Lenore Bartlett 367-2329, Ev Litchfield 367-8688, Mary Halpin 367-2454, Mary MacLeod 367-2729, Thea Hanson 367-2313, Anne Cavers 367-2354.

We plan to keep readers informed on a regular basis on new arrivals at Pine Falls public library.

The telephone — an extension of your personality

Myrna Morris doesn't know it, but she launched this column. She did it with a thoughtful essay on the editor's best friend, the telephone.

Mrs. Morris publishes the Valley View, of Rose Valley. Her little sermon is called, "telephone manners." She makes the point that too few people use Mr. Bell's invention in a suitable manner. She wishes that more managers would check up on the way their employees use the telephone. In many cases it's the only link between business and customer.

Well, three cheers. There aren't many words written on this subject. Being addicted to the instrument myself, I have a thousand thoughts on its use and abuse.

The telephone becomes an extension of your personality. I like those callers who introduce themselves and get right to the point. I fret when someone has to excuse themselves to find pen and paper; to me these should be the instrument's inseparable companions.

Next time you learn that your directory is being renewed, think about changing your listing. I support the liberated trend of putting the first names of both spouses in the book. Every journalist I know wastes a hundred calls a year trying to locate women in that almost all-male publication.

All this telephone chatter set me to wondering where we go from here with this important link with the world. It's appropriate that we should know. Not only is the 'phone a Canadian invention, but we're the gabbiest of all the races. Calls per adult run around 750 per year. Putting my own 'phone to work, here is what I learn; if you've got touch-tone, you're ready for supertech. The dial's at the end of its line.

Touch-tone is the new world. Those tones soon will tell a batch of computers how to perform services for you. I learned all about them from experts at MTS, SaskTel, and AGT.

In Manitoba or Saskatchewan you may subscribe to the new MTS system, "Hello Central." This is a computer-operated message system with global access.

In Saskatchewan, SaskTel favors a "call-management system," as its next breakthrough. This will put a small video screen by your telephone. Return home and that screen will show you the numbers of all the persons who called. Touch one of those numbers and you'll be instantly connected. Going out? Call-management permits you to re-direct your calls. This service spells the end to crank calls; you'll always be able to identify who called you.

AGT is hard at work reducing the load on party lines; the average is down to 2.7. Alberta residents may now subscribe to TINA, which provides access to a large computer. AGT has the largest mobile service in the world.

For an instrument of this importance, it has occasioned few entries in the books of famous quotations. Humorist Edwin Carpenter describes the telephone as the only thing that can interrupt intercourse. From this I conclude he was a bachelor, for certainly he didn't have a flock of little kids in the house.

Managing your money

by Harry L. Mardon

A vital step that has to be taken before a sound money management program can be started is to clearly identify your current financial position.

You establish this by taking an inventory of all personal assets and liabilities. The previous column listed what average Canadian households would have as assets. It's always a pleasure to list these assets.

Now comes the rather disheartening task of compiling a complete list of all liabilities. When you undertake this exercise, allow space on your worksheet for two sets of figures. The first should be headed amount owing; the second, monthly payments.

There are four main categories under the general heading of liabilities: mortgages, loans, accounts payable and other debts.

The frightening upward spiral of mortgage interest rates during the past few years has made everybody super-sensitive to the current status of their mortgage loan. List the mortgage(s) by type, lender, interest rate, renewal date and retirement date. Alongside it list the amount still owing on the principal. Then list the amount of monthly payments made to the mortgage holder.

(Monthly payment amounts are needed to establish an operating statement, which is the step we take after completing this inventory of assets and liabilities.)

The next category is loans. Normally, these will be for such things as a car, furniture, personal, business, investment and consolidation of debts. As with mortgages, list the amount owing and the size of the monthly payments.

The accounts payable category includes such things as credit purchases, revolving credit accounts, outstanding bills and taxes.

In these times of easy credit, this area can easily become a dangerous minefield. The cost of credit in terms of annualized rates of interest is now generally higher than even mortgage rates, as bad as they are today.

As with loans, list the amount owing and the monthly payment figures for all accounts payable.

This is a special target area which we will deal with thoroughly in due course.

Finally, list your other debts. Family or personal debts, guarantees and other forms of financial obligations you undertook. Perhaps you co-signed for a friend's loan. That is an obligation you will have to assume if the friend becomes a non-friend by skipping town.

As before, list amounts owing along with any monthly payments you are making to clear some of these other debts.

Now comes the moment of truth. Total the amounts of all outstanding liabilities. The difference between total assets and total liabilities will give you your net worth.

Don't be too appalled if this works out to a deficit amount; that your liabilities exceed your assets. What really counts is that you have a true picture of your net worth at this time. Many things can be done in time to tip the scale the other way.

The immediate challenge is to establish whether your monthly expenditures exceed your monthly income.

These four students put on a marvelous play of Angels and the announcement as to why Jesus was born. 'Garrison's Garage' a delightful comedy

Garrison's Garage — a heartwarming, delightful comedy that's just right for an evening's entertainment will be playing at the Pine Falls School on Friday, February 7th at 7:30 p.m.

Garrison's Garage by Ted Johns is this year's MTC touring production. The eight-week tour will begin January 27th and will visit 32 communities throughout Manitoba and northwest Ontario. It is expected that as many as 5,000 adults, seniors and students will be thoroughly entertained by the 39 performances.

Garrison's Garage takes jabs at everyone's favourite scapegoat — Revenue Canada! A hapless Revenue Canada official runs into car trouble in a small town, and discovers that the mechanic's books aren't quite what they should be. The official faces a dilemma as he learns from the local lass that there are more fascinating figures than the one on the total line!

The tour of Garrison's Garage is the largest ever undertaken by MTC and is sponsored, for the first time, by the Royal Bank of Canada. It is through the generous support of such corporations that MTC is able to continue to bring the finest in professional theatre to rural Manitobans and Ontarians.

The tour will begin in Beausejour on January 27th and will visit Gimli, Altona, Steinbach, Kenora, Red Lake, Dryden, Atikokan, Pine Falls, Pinawa, Thompson, Leaf Rapids, Snow Lake, Flin Flon, The Pas, Swan River, Virden, Winnipegosis, Grandview, Dauphin, McCreary, Carberry, Wawanesa, Brandon, Hamiota, Minnedosa, Neepawa, Rossburn, Crystal City, Somerset, Killarney and Miami.

Tickets can be purchased at Pine Pharmacy and the Royal Bank. This performance is sponsored by the Pine Falls Drama Club.

Attention farmers

All farmers in the area may be interested in attending a meeting on The Farm Financial Crisis — Policy and Legislative Options to be held in Selkirk on Thursday, January 16 at 3:00 p.m. in the Holy Eucharist Hall, 271 Sophia.

The Hon. Bill Uruski, Minister of Agriculture, hopes to provide farmers, farm organizations and the public an opportunity to respond to the options outlined in a discussion paper he released a short while ago on the aforementioned title.

Praznik and Roch to host task force on agriculture

Lac du Bonnet P.C. candidate Darren Praznik and Springfield P.C. candidate Gilles Roch will host a public meeting of the Manitoba Progressive Conservative Task Force on agriculture and economic development at the Ladywood Hall on Tuesday, January 21, 1986.

The Task Force, created by Opposition Leader Gary Filmon in order to continue the process of consultation with Manitobans which Mr. Filmon began when he became P.C. Leader two years ago, will be in northeastern Manitoba to listen to local farmers, business people and community leaders about local problems and possible policies to assist agriculture and strengthen the economic base of our communities. Mr. Filmon toured the Lac du Bonnet constituency with P.C. candidate Darren Praznik last summer.

In announcing the Task Force locally, Mr. Praznik said that it is important for politicians to listen to people on an ongoing basis. "The visit of this Task Force," noted Mr. Praznik, "will give local people the opportunity to speak with the people who will be making government policy should the Progressive Conservatives form the next government in Manitoba."

The public meeting of the Task Force, which will be chaired by former Agriculture Minister Jim Downey and M.L.A. Warren Steen, will begin at the Ladywood Hall at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, January 21, 1986. All members of the public are invited to attend and speak with the Task Force.

Paper Kings now at 7 and 6

Barry Cyr at the January 10th Paper Kings game in Pine Falls.

by Gord Sokolowski

The Paper Kings' 7-5 loss to St. Andrew's Aces on January 12th brought the Kings' record to seven wins six losses and one tie for seven games played so far.

The Aces 19 men to our 13, along with Aces No. 17 Kevin Lunney who scored four times, was too much for the Kings. The teams both worked hard and there was a lot of heavy hitting but only 11 penalties, 8 for Aces and 3 for Kings. Could it be that the teams are adjusting to the new rules? Maybe it is just that the officials aren't calling all the infractions. I do know that it frustrates and confuses the players with the inconsistent manner in which the rules are interpreted.
