Adult day care is on its way

by Marjorie Thompson

Adult day care

In late 1985 the Manitou Rapids Arts Council was approached to sponsor the adult day care program in this district.

Adult day care is for seniors who require assistance to remain independent in their own homes and hinges its program on social stimulation. The program will provide seniors with a lunch meal, and an opportunity to visit and enjoy a variety of activities. The program will take place in the lounge of the Pineview Lodge in Pine Falls.

Funding

The day care program will be funded by the Manitoba Health Services and will be jointly planned by the committee, Mrs. Mary Power (continuing care nurse) and Ms. Linda Balken (representing the provincial adult day care committee).

It is planned to operate the day care on a twice weekly basis — Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. Starting date is anticipated for early April '86.

Why Arts Council's involvement?

It might appear odd to some, why the arts council is involved in this type of a program. We offer the following explanation.

For some time the Community Health Services explored the possibility of an adult day care. Mrs. Mary Power, as continuing care nurse, was aware of a number of seniors in this region, who for a variety of reasons could no longer make use of senior recreational pursuits on their own volition.

To offer an adult day care service the Community Health Services needed to find a sponsor, willing to take on the basic administration. Many organizations were approached, but the criteria, laid out by the Department of Health could not be met. One of the criteria was the need for the voluntary organization to be incorporated, since public funds would be channeled through this organization.

The Manitou Rapids Arts Council, although not directly active in the field of services to seniors did meet the requirements. The board of directors of M.R.A.C. approved the idea, a committee was established, and the program is ready to roll.

Paid co-ordinator

At this time the committee is looking for a paid co-ordinator, to develop and run the program, work with the caterer, the volunteers and participants to ensure an enjoyable and stimulating course of events.

Volunteers will be an integral part of the program and all interested people are welcome to come forward.

Transportation

Transportation of the participants to and from the program will be done by paid drivers from various areas (i.e. Pine Falls, Powerview, L.G.D. of Alexander, Stead and Victoria Beach).

Anyone interested in these positions is welcome to inquire to the committee.

The committee meets the first and third Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Arts Council's office, Townsite Building, Pine Falls. For any further information call 367-8785.

Four district communities take part in Fine Option Program

by Pyteke Blaauw

Three years ago a program was established to allow offenders under the law to pay off their fines by performing unpaid community work. Four communities in this district are currently offering this alternative to offenders in their respective areas of residency — Fort Alexander, Manigotagan, Hollow Water and Seymourville.

How it works

Only the people charged and found guilty of an offense which calls for the payment of a fine are eligible in this program. When the fine has been established the offenders are given the choice to either pay it or enter in the Fine Option program.

A formula is applied to equal the number of hours worked to the amount of the fine. If for example the fine is $300, 70 hours of work is required to pay this off (hourly rate established at $4.30).

Fine Option workers are usually put to general janitorial services, snow removal and public works. It is understood that only non-profit organizations are to be used with this additional work force.

In Fort Alexander it is the Anicinabe Resource Centre and in Manigotagan, Seymourville and Hollow Water the Public Works Department of the respective community councils do take charge.

Are the results satisfactory?

According to Henry "Buzzy" Phillips, co-ordinator of the program in Manigotagan, the program is working out just fine. Since April 1985, the time Phillips became involved with the program, eight to ten offenders have worked their fine off. Only two did not report for duty. In that case the judge is notified and the court will deal with the case anew.

Local criticism

Not too long ago, a Manigotagan resident complained to the correctional officials in Winnipeg, claiming that the offenders were put to work for the Manigotagan Development Co. This was considered illegal, since the complainant considered M.D.C. a private enterprise.

Phillips took exception to this allegation and stated that the Fine Option program has never applied to M.D.C.

Fort Alexander

The Fine Option program in Fort Alexander is larger in operation than the one in Manigotagan.

Mrs. Jean Fontaine, from the Anicinabe Resource Centre reports an average of twenty workers per month. Candidates do not necessarily live on the Fort, and not all are status Indians either. The co-ordinators, Kay Courchene, Nancy Bunn and Jean Fontaine look for suitable work locations, all are non-profit organizations, some are also with private citizens re-

42 racers take part in Duck Lake ski race

On Sunday, February 2, 1986, the Duck Lake Ski Club hosted an invitational club ski race. There were a total of 42 racers in attendance, 52% were from the Whiteshell Ski Club in Pinawa, 26% were from Duck Lake Ski Club and the remaining 22% were from the Wanipigow Ski Club in Manigotagan/Hole River. Something is wrong when the host club can only provide as many skiers as another club from 80 km away, and only a quarter of the total. An invitational club race is designed to be a fun event for everyone to enjoy. Yes, there are excellent young racers destined for the provincial ski team, but on the other hand there are also mothers and fathers, brothers, sisters and friends who are there just for the sheer fun of it. The serious races make it exciting. The touring racers make it enjoyable. You don't have to participate to compete against others, you can keep track of your race times from year to year on a strictly personal challenge. Next winter we will probably host the Eastman cross-country races again. I am putting out the challenge to the community now to see if we can provide half of the racers for that event.

This year's race was probably as close to perfect as you can get. We had a high of -4° C under broken cloud. The only complaint that was heard was, "It's too warm". There was fresh snow, a newly groomed track, and a colorfully marked ski trail that made it almost impossible to make a wrong turn; however, a few always manage to slip under a barrier and get lost. Once again, the trails committee deserves our thanks for all their hard work.

This year may have been the best officiated race that Pine Falls has ever seen. The Cross-country Ski Association of Manitoba hosted a two-day Level 1 official certification See 42 RACERS / page 7

Jeanette Schmidt (625) races towards the finish line at the cross-country ski race in Pine Falls on Sunday, February 2.

Marla Stovin-Myers (626) follows closely behind. (For detailed results see Duck Lake Ski story.)

No measles reported here

by Pyteke Blaszuk

Recently a sudden outbreak of "red measles" in Thompson and Winnipeg found youngsters scurrying for revaccination, to avoid chances of a province-wide epidemic.

Local situation

Mrs. Margaret Richardson, public health nurse for this district, reports that no need exists here to apply the same rules as were established in the city of Winnipeg (eg. after the Christmas break, all children who could not furnish the school authorities with a measles vaccination chart were refused entrance to the classroom). Mrs.

Richardson however, did look at years and years of accumulated charts and concluded that this district is well immunized, that a good system or record keeping has been in place, that only very few children needed to be contacted for re-immunization. Those appointments were made and as far as the Community Health Services are concerned, the preventative steps needed to avoid a possible outbreak of measles have been taken.

Excellent medical services

According to Mrs. Richardson, the people in this district enjoy excellent services in the field of preventative medicine. She explained that the need for re-immunization would apply to those children who received the measles vaccination before their first birthday. Babies at that age still carry antibodies from their mothers. These antibodies might react against the vaccine, rendering the vaccine ineffective.

Symptoms of red measles

Red measles, or rubella, might cause encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) medical records state this to be the case of 1 in 1000. Sufficient reason to take proper preventative steps.

Early symptoms of red measles are relatively innocent and very similar to a "common cold". Runny nose, cough, (often a barking cough), and a fever. Three to four days before the outbreak of the rash the mucus membrane in the mouth shows infectiousness.

The rash appears usually three days after the onset of the above mentioned conditions. The rash is red and raised, often starts on face and neck and works itself down to the rest of the body.

A person is infectious from the day of the outbreak of the cough till approximately four days after the rash has appeared.

Usually as soon as the rash is apparent the fever subsides.

We can be grateful for the responsible manner in which the parents have handled the immunization program for their young children in this district. We are equally indebted to the Community Health Services for its diligent record keeping.

UCW invites you to a meeting with a difference

by Mrs. Shirley Finkbeiner
We invite you to an evening that is a little bit different. On Monday, February 17, 1986 at 8:00 p.m. in the United Church Hall in Pine Falls, we have arranged for a guest, Mrs. Minnie Kliever, to present her seminar which she calls "Minnie's Mailbox Ministry". Sometime ago Mrs. Kliever felt that there was a need for us all to engage in a mailbox ministry when she realized there are many people who are lonely and hurting, and a cheery card was a wonderful way to let them know that someone cares and thinks of them.

For groups such as each of ours, this remembering, keeping in touch, and cheering up has always been important.

The whole purpose of the seminar is to encourage people to communicate with one another, in the home, or by mail. The presentation is interesting, humorous, filled with practical illustrations and will challenge

The high cost of insurance

Peter Warren hit the nail right on the head the other morning when he said that while a nation was in mourning over the tragic loss of seven astronauts, only a few short days later lawyers were scrambling for action. From his point of view it appeared they looked on the catastrophe as a chance to make a big buck.

Warren, an outspoken journalist and broadcaster on CJOB, went on to say that following the tragic deaths of many thousands in India slightly more than a year ago airlines were packed with lawyers heading for the action.

The same is true right here at home although we have not experienced any tragic loss of death.

Greedy lawyers and soft-headed judges (who are still only lawyers but have stepped up a rung or two on the power ladder) have combined to put liability insurance premiums sky high to the point where municipal councils and other publicly run organizations are having to take a long hard look and shake their heads in bewilderment. They cannot afford to pay the premiums nor can they afford the exorbitantly high settlements in most lawsuits.

As an example of how far lawsuits have gone there was an article in the Free Press a few weeks ago. A chap visiting from Alberta tried to enter a cemetery via climbing over a steel-railed fence — rather than find a gate and go through in the normal fashion. The fence collapsed and the visitor was injured.

He sued. The judge found the town and the municipality in which the cemetery was located, and the man himself, were all equally responsible. The two municipal bodies each have to cough up somewhere in the neighbourhood of a quarter million dollars apiece (I may stand corrected on the amount).

These kinds of settlement are happening every day. No longer is the amount a few thousand dollars. More often than not it reaches far into the millions.

We sympathize with someone who because of some type of accident becomes crippled. If that accident was of his own doing, as the above incident, is he entitled to a large insurance settlement so he may live in financial comfort for the rest of his life? We think not but judges obviously think otherwise.

Lawsuits have gotten out of hand.

Something must be done to limit the number of lawsuits in the first place, and secondly, to limit the dollar amounts.

Governments are going to have to step in with legislation to establish maximum limits and lawyers will have to find other ways to increase their salaries. And judges are going to have to use more common sense, with the betterment of society as a whole in mind rather than an individual.

Was the Overture Concerts Association a seed potato?

Organizations come and go, a natural course of events. We know that phoenixes rise from ash heaps. But when seemingly healthy organizations are forced to fold, one tends to wonder.

It concerns the Manitou Rapids Overture Concerts Association. It started in 1981, the concept was simple, by virtue of membership people could enjoy world class concerts right in their home town. The membership in 1981 brought in 670 members; a resounding success. Since that time 20 concerts have been offered, ranging from internationally acclaimed dance groups to folk singers and classical musicians.

Over the last three years the memberships dwindled, and the association accumulated a debt. Not a large one; any professional agent in larger centres would only be too glad having to worry about a $1600 deficit. But this is rural Manitoba and M.R.O.C.A. is a volunteer non-profit organization. In the "good days" when the bank balance looked good, it offered higher priced concerts, instead of banking against "leaner days".

Last week the board decided not to plan for a 1986-87 season. The two remaining concerts will certainly go ahead as planned, but the board members have grown tired of fund-raising schemes, dipping in their own pockets to offset some unscheduled costs and kicking in doors to recruit memberships.

Was it all just a passing fancy? The Overture Association does not think so. Since 1981 many touring artists have performed in this district. A climate was created. Other organizations discovered it was relatively easy to contract professional artists to perform in gymnasiums and arenas.

Usually when events cease, it is because the board members are exhausted. This is not the case with the Overture Concerts Association. It seems as if the potential audience is exhausted. "Too much going on, too many places to be" is the frequent complaint. And if there is time for entertainment it is now offered in the comfort of one's own home through the electronic media.

Life entertainment has been a necessary ingredient in people's daily diet since time immemorial. And here we are ready to scoff at that. Pity!

Do speak up, those of you who like to rub shoulders with fine performing artists. Be it musicians, actors or dancers, they are more than willing to come. They even like to come here! Let's not wait till something disappears before you notice you miss it.

Rodents star in a drama

Three cheers for Anne Norgan. Thanks to her classroom project, at least one batch of fourth graders knows the benefit of a healthful diet. Her work may even remind the rest of you of the perils which lurk even in your own kitchen.

Mrs. Norgan acquired three laboratory rats, which the youngsters quickly dubbed Snoopy, Snoozy and Snowball. These rodents starred in a drama in dietetics.

Two of them dined exclusively on a healthful diet, carrots, celery, lettuce, ground beef, broiled hamburger, cheddar cheese, and skim milk powder. They thrive.

Not so with Snoopy. This sorry creature had to suffer through three weeks of junk food. On a diet of Coke, coffee, Cheezies, potato chips, chocolate cake, Frosted Flakes, and other sugar-coated junk, he went into an obvious decline. As he turned into a twitchy, listless mess he became a powerful messenger, and the youngsters got the message.

This six-week experiment took place in Moosomin, and was the subject of a feature in the World Spectator. It's a reminder, which we all need, that youngsters who get the junk-food habit early in life will likely carry it into adulthood, with predictable results. As is usually the case, it's a habit which can be cured with imaginative tuition.

The sprouts are not the only ones who need lessons in food. I learned a lot when I visited a friend who works as a nutritionist in the public service.

Among her patients are a number of senior citizens with a common problem; their malnutrition led them into physical decline, which made them susceptible to a raft of diseases. They're mainly female, usually widows living alone. They'd all qualify as expert cooks, but they lack the motivation to cook a full-course meal for one. As it was explained to me, they're tea-and-toasting themselves into serious trouble.

Prairie weekly papers talk a lot about food. Through them I learn about programs like Meals on Wheels, which is a blessing to thousands of seniors.

I also learn about what happens to those who over-eat. Scores of prairie communities have weight-loss groups, usually Weight Watchers or T.O.P.S., which stands for take off pounds sensibly.

As a serious people-watcher, I'm now engaged in a study of portability. Many people today want to dine on the fly.

In the morning when I'm headed for the post office, I often have to wait to get on the blacktop. Usually about half the oncoming cars sport coffee cups on their dashboards; breakfast on the run.

If you're inclined to over-eating, there's a new trap awaiting you. From an architect who designs shopping malls, I learn that a hot new money-spinner is the "food station". This is a small take-out bar which offers a food specialty. These are so popular that there's now a word to describe what their patrons are doing. To mall proprietors, these patrons who snack while they windowshop are "grazing".

As you think about how well-fed the majority of we Canadians are, remember that you read it here first; obesity is widespread.

THE CAREERSTART EXPERIENCE IS GOOD BUSINESS

MANITOBA CAREERSTART MAKES ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL SENSE

Emloyers with the potential to create new jobs may benefit from CAREERSTART '86, a Manitoba Jobs Fund program.

Under the CAREERSTART program, they can apply for wage assistance to create employment opportunities for students and young people during the summer months. This program will be in operation between May 5 and September 14, 1986.

ECONOMIC SENSE FOR BUSINESS

Many employers can use a new employee to become more productive. But often they can't justify hiring an additional person until after they've increased business activity.

With the help from CAREERSTART, an employer can create jobs now, and increase productivity sooner.

Last year alone, Manitoba businesses created employment for 5,800 students and youth through the CAREERSTART program.

SOCIAL SENSE FOR MANITOBANS

This program does more than just reduce youth unemployment. It makes social sense for all of us. By giving young people the opportunity to gain work experience and learn new skills, CAREERSTART benefits Manitobans as individuals and strengthens our entire workforce.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS

Employers applying to CAREERSTART for the summer of 1986 must submit applications by Thursday, March 27, 1986.

An employer can identify a suitable student or youth, as qualified under the guidelines, prior to submission. If a prospective employee has been identified, joint employer and employee applications should be filed.

To obtain further information and applications, send in the attached coupon, or call Toll-Free 1-800-282-8089.

If you are an employer and would like additional information and application forms, mail this coupon to CAREERSTART '86, 114 Garry Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, R3C 1G1 in Winnipeg phone 945-0901 or 945-0902.

course on February 1 and 2 at the Pine Falls Elementary School for the Eastman region. A prerequisite of the course was to officiate our club race. This is a brand new course designed by the Canadian Ski Association in preparation for the 1988 Olympics in Alberta. An official for the Olympics requires Level 5 certification, and for an average day 350 to 400 officials are required for cross-country skiing entry. The course was presented by George Baldwin of Winnipeg, who is also the chief of race for some of the major races in the province. The eight participants in the course were: M. Gold, V. Keenan, I. Sokoloski of Pine Falls and L. Ewing, J. MacMillan, R. Moyer, S. Ryan, J. Szekely. A thank you goes out to C. Laporte and A. Russell for their help as course controllers of Pinawa (beat us again!). It is the synchronization of a minimum of seven stop watches, the count-down starts every 30 seconds, and the atmosphere of the race that makes it exciting for even the weekend skier. The next time you have a chance to enter a race, do it! You may surprise yourself and have a good time.

Bird notes

One of the most beautiful scenes of the winter recently noticed was a flock of cedar wax wings in a brilliant array of bitersweet, feeding quietly.

Cross-country skiing

This past week skiing conditions have improved greatly. New snow has repaired trails previously damaged by the January thaw. Skiers will enjoy the Christmas card scenes of our rural municipality.

Annual Snowdrifters poker derby will be held Saturday, February 8th, 1986. Entries can be made between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. at the Victoria Beach Sports Club. Dance will follow the event starting at 9:00 p.m., also at the Sports Club.

The book nook by Mona Bossi

This week's display is oriented to our younger readers and entitled "Roar into Reading"! It deals with the diversity of animal life on this planet of ours and is portrayed through a large selection of books ranging from practical information to tales of fantasy woven around the creatures of the present. "Zoo Books" is a marvelous edition dealing with each animal species and a new book in French entitled "The Animal Picture Word Book" by Claudia Zeff and published by Usbyne and Hayes Publishers is very well illustrated with a simple guide to all the animals - both English and French - excellent for the beginner. Other titles deal with cats, dogs, horses, birds including those in peril of extinction and many more too numerous to list.

Remember, if there is any book that we do not have in our library it will be available from Lac du Bonnet Regional Library or through the interlibrary loan system throughout Canada and even the world.

Please feel free to drop in or call with any suggestions you may have for the library - your input is most appreciated.

Hillside highlights

by Jocelyn Stewart

Nothing stops curling enthusiasts and though the weather turned nasty just in time for last weekend's mixed bonspiel, cottagers David and Jerry Stammers of Park Avenue East, came out for the three-day event, along with teammates Ed and Cathy Shachtay, who are members of the Plumeridge family, Hillside Road. Baby daughter, Ashley Shachtay, born December 22, 1985, was visiting Grandma for the first time. Cathy and Glenn Halgren, also bonspiel curlers were glad to have Cathy's mom, Alice Watters come from the city for a bit of help babysitting Keri, who's almost two.

The bad weather gave us a rare sighting of the big black stray cat who's lived in our neighborhood through five winters now. He's totally wild, able, and fit — gives no quarter and offers no friendship to humans. But he is a good mouser and may have a den he uses sometimes under our deck. He's been a loner since the neighbor's cat moved away, and we see him only infrequently — a glimpse as he slides under the steps, an illusion of black rock against the snow when he sits motionless under the bird feeder waiting for one of them to get careless. The severe cold and blizzard conditions make hunting impossible, a dangerous situation if small animals are getting scarce. A few days ago we saw him, he came at dusk and he wasn't alone. An unusual sound made me look outside and there sitting hunched atop the bird feeder tray on the deck was a small mottled grey cat tearing furiously at the frozen lump of lard covered sunflower seeds. More surprising, the big black cat was standing off from the deck, quite visible against the snow, watching intently. I touched the glass, and in one bound he was gone. The smaller cat looked up at the window revealing a missing lower front tooth and sunflower seeds stuck to her chops, then she too took a flying leap and was gone. In the face of such desperate hunger we put table scraps out by the back door, which soon disappeared. Next night we put food out again, and stood watch. The grey appeared, wary and nervous, to feed; and we soon became aware of the big black, standing just out of the circle of light, again watching the grey intently. We think he's found a mate, and is trying to fatten her up, teach her the ropes of living free.

Here's a hearty meat dish which will make a nice change for family dinner one of these cold winter nights. It's delicious and different. Serve it over a bed of steaming rice, with stir-fried carrots, celery and zucchini:

1 1/2 lb. stewing veal
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms (or 1 can mushrooms, fluid reduced by boiling)

1 small onion sliced
Butter, salt and pepper
1 can mushroom soup (or 1 small pkg. sour cream)

1 tsp. lemon juice
Cut veal into 1" cubes and brown in hot butter. Remove to casserole dish with lid. In browning pan sauté onions and mushrooms. Add lemon juice and mushroom soup (or sour cream) and heat slowly, but do not boil. Pour over meat, cover and bake 1 hour at 350°. Serves four to six.

KINGS UPSET GIMLI

by Gord Sokoloski

Paper Kings have come on strong winning three of their last four games. Cam Sokoloski opened the scoring for the Kings at the 14:40 mark to even up the score one to one. Then Len Berthelette, Andrew Hutchison, Guy Fenez, Brian Cyr along with Cam's second goal added to the 6-2 score at the end of the first period of play.

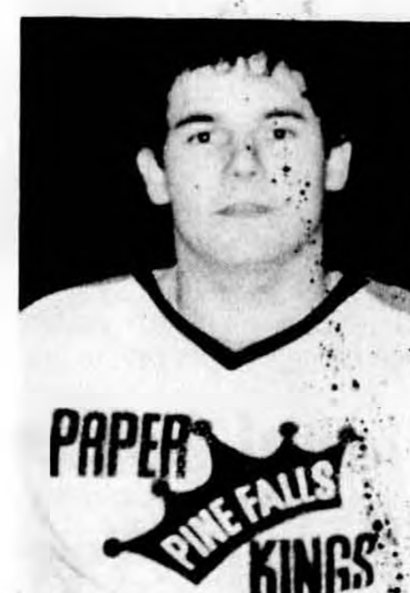

Cam scored his hat-trick goal in the second period and picked up his fourth goal of the night at 1:31 in the third. Len Berthelette scored his second goal with only 37 seconds left on the clock to make the final score read 9-2 Kings over Wolves.

The game was very physical with a number of players on both teams receiving cuts and injuries. Even linesman Al Borody caught a stick on the nose which needed a bandage repair. Gimli had 14 penalties to Kings 13.

There was some unhappiness about a local referee doing the game since new league rule requires that all intermediate games are to be refereed by an out-of-town official. Mr. Jack Fedych, referee-in-chief assigned Glen Hibbert to this game for reasons as yet unknown.

The Paper Kings now have only two games remaining in regular league play, one this coming Sunday at 7:00 p.m. at Pine Falls against Transcona and one the following Tuesday at Lac du Bonnet.

NO. 18 PAUL MAGMAN "A"

Paul, who hails from the Maritimes, is a physical education teacher in our area. He showed up at the start of the season telling the team he was a defenceman and wanted to play hockey. After observing Paul trying to get the rest out after an easy summer, he was told the team might be able to use him. What the team forgot to tell him was they needed him as they only had three other defences. Since then, Paul has worked hard, shown a lot of common sense and, more than anything, has shown that he is truly a defenceman that any team would be proud to have. With 10 assists to his credit, he has given a lot of forwards some good passes. Paul's main ambition this season is to score a goal.

DENISE CYR

Denise who is married has always lived in Pine Falls, works for Abitibi-Price and at 25 years of age is one of four brothers who all play for the Paper Kings. Denise has played for the Kings for several years now and is in the top five in the scoring department. His dad Gerry also works with the team as manager and assistant coach. The boys all work hard during the game and now are working on Dad to put the skates on. Just think of it, the announcer comes on the mike saying, "Cyr scores — assisted by Cyr and Cyr and backed up by two more Cys." What a combination. In the stands Denise's wife Wendy and mother Annie complete the Cyr domination at Paper Kings' games.

Council grapples with proposed garbage dump at Great Falls

by Pyteke Blasuw

"There is no good to come out of the dump," wrote a resident of Great Falls, protesting the proposed garbage dump site to service that area. The current nuisance grounds are on hydro transmission line territory, and have to be closed. The proposed one is planned south of the village, and although it will meet the requirements of being 1300 feet away from habitation, the neighbouring residents don't like the idea very much. An increase of small and large wildlife is anticipated, making the area less safe and less pleasant for humans. Reeve Thompson, presiding over the January 28th L.G.D. of Alexander's council meeting, suggested that the residents of Great Falls would perhaps truck their garbage to the nuisance grounds in St. Georges. Councillor Roman did not think this a solution, and suggested to investigate alternative sites. He suggested Bruneau's abandoned gravel pit, some six miles away from the Village. Council agreed to look into this.

Requests for grants
The council is currently planning its 1986 budget, and this is the time when requests for municipal support to local community groups are received. All were referred to budgeting.

House numbering in Lester Beach
Council approved a system for house numbering in Lester Beach.

Cottagers unsure of beach privileges
Two cottagers' associations in the Bird River area, Hazelwood Cove and Ander Subdivision, are still uncertain regarding Hydro's proposal of beach access. This matter was supposedly dealt with in November '85. Resident administrator Bouvier was instructed to write to both associations to invite comments and arrange for a meeting. Bouvier pointed out that a special meeting for all cottage associations is to take place on February 6th in the council's chambers.

Thompson Brother's law suit

Two landowners in the Stead area have threatened the L.G.D. with a lawsuit if council would not maintain a municipal drain suitably. Solicitor for the L.G.D. of Alexander, Michael McCandless, advised council of three options: a) Do nothing; b) Brush the drain and leave it at that; or c) Undertake a grand scale local improvement project. Council is obliged to maintain the drain, but it was generally agreed this would not improve matters. Council is not obliged to improve the drainage system. It was decided to table the matter. Edgar Vincent who attended the meeting as an interested citizen, as well as an ex-council member, expressed his disturbance over the demands Stead farmers in general were making to council.

Snow clearing for senior citizens
Mr. Vincent also noted the existing disparity in regards to snow clearing of private driveways of senior citizens. The grader does clear some drive ways, but cannot do them all because of the inability to back in or out. Vincent suggested that either the L.G.D. clears all the drive-ways for the residents of 65 years and over, by a variety of ways, or not at all. Reeve Thompson agreed that if it is done for one, it needs to be done for all, citing that the cost factor might prohibit this. Council will investigate.

Councillor Raymond agrees to go pin hunting

Mrs. Simone Dube sought approval from council to subdivide a parcel of land near Hwy. 304 and 11. The Winnipeg River Planning District is not ready to approve this and council cannot do so without the Planning District appealing the decision. A long discussion ensued regarding the location of land survey pins. Mrs. Dube, intent on having this matter resolved, reluctantly agreed to go pin hunting with Councillor Raymond from Ward 3. Discussion will continue after a report has been filed.

Council opposes the storage of nuclear waste in Minnesota
As requested by the Concerned Citizens of Manitoba Inc., council passed a resolution to oppose the storage of nuclear waste in Minnesota, since, as was pointed out by the above mentioned group, this could possibly affect the drinking water for the citizens of Southern Manitoba.

Advertising for policing of Ward 1 for summer 1986
Although a letter from former summer constable David McKenzie was received implying his availability for this summer position, council nevertheless decided to advertise for the position.

Pineview Bunnies win 'A' side of Portage tournament

by Wayne Martin

A road trip to Portage
Feeling that this is the year for the Pineview Bunnies, because of the fine blend of new talent and some girls now in their fourth and final year in the Bunnies category.

The weather was stormy and the trip was long. The parents thinking how nice it would be for the girls to win this tournament. The girls (because we let it slip out) only talked and dreamed of getting to the motel with the pool. We finally arrive at the motel, it's amazing how well the girls listen as we casually mentioned they could put their swimming suits on and they did. We only had to tell them once.

Game No. 1
Saturday 3:00 p.m.

After the usual pre-game pep talk Pineview defeated St. Charles 12-1, showing a strong team effort and the team balance we thought we possessed. Shots on goal Pineview 32, St. Charles 10. Before you could congratulate the team they asked to go back to the pool.

Game No. 2
Saturday 6:30 p.m.

The pep talks now come from all parents, we know if the girls lose this one Sunday's game will be 8:00 a.m.

We casually horrify them by mentioning that game would replace their morning swim. The first three minutes of the game were all Beausejour, but due to excellent goaltending, they only scored once. The girls then responded with a 12-3 victory. Their reward (and ours) was the next game is Sunday at 4:15 p.m. Shots on goal Pineview 19, Beausejour 14.

Pineview Bunnies (7-8 year olds) proudly display their trophy, for winning the A side at a recent ringette tournament in Portage la Prairie.

Game No. 3
Sunday 4:15 p.m.

Quest for gold
Sunday's thoughts kept returning to the big game. Those poor kids could only think of swimming and the game room, while the cool, calm parents began to get the pre-game butterflies.

Another slow start, only this time Portage jumped into 2-0 and 4-1 leads. Most people now think we've met our match. The Pineview supporters begin their "let's go" chant, and the girls respond. The first period ends Portage 5, Pineview 4. The second period was totally offense while managing to score 6 unanswered goals. Final score Pineview 10, Portage 5. Shots on goal Pineview 30, Portage 16. The parents were ecstatic about the victory, the girls wanted to go to McDonalds.

Three cheers for Jacqueline Grenier, Chantal Vincent, Michelle Gauthier, Tracy Martin, Roxane Cowan, Stacy Lamoureux, Kelly Pinnell, Jayme Guay, Jody Wilcott, Marne Tardiff and Nicole Grenier. Coaching staff Alain Grenier, Alain Wilcott and Julie Tardiff.

LET'S SEE YOU DO IT... OUTDOORS!
PARTICIPATION

Communities take part in Fine Option Program

quiring assistance, particularly in case of elderly who need help with cutting firwood, general repairs in the home, etc. The schools also offer good opportunity for participants, be it as janitorial staff or in certain instances teacher's aides.

On the question what type of offenders they are dealing with, both Henry Phillips and Joan Fontaine stated that the offenses committed are basically minor ones. People with accumulated parking tickets, or speeding infractions and the not so minor ones of impaired driving charges do qualify under this program.

Spin off
Sometimes there is the added advantage for the participant to be permanently hired by the organization after he or she worked the fine off. Mrs. Fontaine cited an instance where a teacher's aide was recruited by the school on a permanent basis.

Administration
When an offender has completed the assigned hours of work successfully, the community organization receives $20.00. This is to offset the administration cost, time commitment of personnel, travel, etc. This according to Mrs. Fontaine is not considered sufficient. The Ancinabe Resource Centre sees itself supplementing the administration cost to a certain extent.

In general however the program is considered a good opportunity for offenders to pay back their fines without having to spend time in jail.

Statistics
Since the program started in 1983, to November 1985, more than 14,250 offenders registered through more than 120 resource centres across the province and 9,222 completed their assigned work.

This amounts to almost 50,000 hours of unpaid community work performed by offenders, valued at approximately $2 million. By making it possible for offenders to work off their fines with community service and not go to jail, the program has saved more than 62,000 days of possible jail terms.

Regional workshops
The co-ordinators of the Fine Option program in this region, will attend a workshop on February 26-27, 1986 in Winnipeg which is sponsored by Manitoba Community Services and the John Howard Society with assistance from the federal Department of Justice. The program at the workshops will feature the role of authority, implications of the Young Offenders Act, the participation of community organizations in the criminal justice system and the role of judiciary and correctional officials.

Objectives of the workshop is to foster a sense of commitment, belonging and importance with each community involved in the Fine Option program and to encourage their support. The session will also give representatives an opportunity to exchange experiences and views on the program.

Whitemouth wins gold medal in Eastman broomball games

Stormy weather would not put off seven broomball teams from participating in the Eastman Winter Games on Saturday, January 25 in Hazelridge.

Technical advisor, Wayne Scholz was surprised and pleased by the number of teams participating. "We've always had a good turnout for the 18 and over mixed broomball," he said, "but this year, the Manitoba Games changed the age to 17 and under. The only team that had a team in this age group was Anola."

Scholz commented that thanks to the organizing abilities of some key people in Eastman, that six new teams were formed this year, for the games. He went on to say that these new teams are so enthusiastic about the games, that they plan on entering more tournaments.

Saturday's competition was a round robin. Anola was the team to beat; they went down to defeat, losing to the Manigotagan team. Whitemouth won the gold medals, defeating Manigotagan 5-1. This team will represent Eastman in the Manitoba Games in Flin Flon. Manigotagan took home the silver medals, while Lorette defeated Anola 3-2, capturing the bronze.

The Hazelridge Community lived up to their reputation for being great hosts. They provided videos, crib tournaments, card games, and of course there was lots of their famous perogies for between games entertainment.

Scholz commented that although there were no all stars chosen, a player from the Oakbank Casualties, Grant Sellen, had everyone cheering. A potential broomball star???

The Manigotagan broomball team received bronze at the Eastman regional Winter Games on January 25 in Hazelridge.

In the figure skating competition held in Lac du Bonnet on February 1, Michael Rudd of Powerview skated a gold program in the Elementary 1 men's program.

9 'First responders' graduate

by Pyteke Blaauw

Ninety hours of intensive first aid training preceded the final testing of nine "first responders" on Saturday, February 1, 1986.

The exam took all day and covered the mechanism of injury. One hundred questions covered theory and four practical stations were set up to test the participants on "hands-on" situations. The four areas covered C.P.R. and oxygen management; wounds and splinting; immobilization; and childbirth.

Ambulance attendants

The local graduates all have agreed to become or already were, ambulance attendants with the volunteer ambulance service in Pine Falls. They are: Kathy Hudson, Sandra Hansen, Vivian Pachkowsky, Joseph Rheaume, Ron Pachkowsky, Jeanette Schmidt, Carl Otto and Susan Gauthier. The ninth graduate, Connie Boatman, recently moved to Dauphin, but took the course in Pine Falls. Gordon Sokoloski attended the course, but was unable to take part in the final exam.

Instructress

Mrs. Irene Gunther, instructress, mentioned that she has been teaching first aid for the last five years, stating that the first responders course only came in existence three years ago.

Four examiners were recruited for this day: Fred Penner (Whitemouth), Betty Taylor (Stonewall), Murray Lewis (Elie) and Allistor Carmichael (Pinawa).

Ray Lofgren attended in the official capacity of representative from the Manitoba Health Services Commission.

Each year around the fall, a course like this is offered, depending on the number of interested candidates. We certainly welcome this group of graduate first responders.

An all day exam was held to test a first responder on Saturday, February 1 in Pine Falls.

Historical Society may be eligible for New Horizons grant

by Shellagh Geer

Approximately 30 people, most of them seniors, attended a talk given by Mrs. Jeannine Dufault, Tuesday, January 28th at 2:30 p.m. at the St. Georges Library. Mrs. Dufault works with the New Horizons programme in Winnipeg and she explained the programme and what criteria the Winnipeg River Historical Society must meet in order to be eligible for a grant.

New Horizons was formed by the Department of Health and Welfare in 1972 to help groups of retired people in carrying out projects that they themselves designed. In order for a project to get funding, seniors must have a definite involvement. At least two thirds of the directors of a project must be seniors and two out of three signing officers, including the president must be seniors. Younger people can be involved, but the seniors must be in control. If the funding is approved, the money goes directly to the seniors and they administer its distribution.

Programmes must be activity-oriented and specific activities must be outlined. They would not pay for the actual publishing of the book, but they would pay for such things as postage, telephone, mileage for interviews or trips to the archives in Winnipeg. They would help with the typing of the final draft and with photo reproduction or photocopying. They would also pay for the purchase or rental of equipment such as typewriter and tape recorder.

The maximum funding given is usually around $4,000 and the maximum length of the project funding is 18 months, although a second application could be made at this time if necessary. If the book were finished by the end of 18 months, they would help with launching the book. There must be 10 people on the board of directors, seven of which must be seniors (This will require a little reshuffling of our board, but nothing too drastic.)

Mrs. Dufault will represent our project to the review board. She could promise nothing on her own, but she seemed favorable to the project and she said that 90% of the projects the board recommends are approved by the department. Once the application is approved, she will come out again to meet the board of directors and get a fairly detailed budget from us.

Someone jokingly said that the project should be called Old Horizons, but Mrs. Dufault said that New Horizons was a good name since many seniors discovered talents they didn't know they had.

In other Winnipeg River Historical Project news: Georgie Pelland is working on the history of the family of her father Raoul Vincent and her paternal grandfather Adrien Vincent. She is tracing the story from the time they moved from Quebec to settle in St. Georges to her own recollections of family gatherings and Christmas celebrations. She is also collecting photographs.

Laurence and Marium Frayne are working on the history of music in Pine Falls. Laurence's mother played the piano for the silent films and Laurence has been deeply involved with the Stardusters and the Brass Band. Marium is also writing up the history of the Hospital Auxiliary, which started in 1952. It is hoped that other organizations will follow suit and delegate someone to do their histories.
