

Air carriers meet with MOT advisor, discuss concerns

by Dess Trudell

A meeting was held September 19 in Winnipeg between the air carriers and K. Mosher, regulations advisor to M.O.T. Mr. Tom Johnston, of Whiteshell Air Service, acted as spokesperson for the newly formed Central Air Carriers Association and Darren Praznik was moderator. Among those who were representing the carriers were B. Campbell of Campbell Air, Art Gaffray of Silver Pines and B. Jackson, as well as T. Johnston.

Their brief was excellently presented with their most important issues put forth, discussed and reviewed. This was industry speaking out, voicing their concerns about regulations that are not safe, practical, or have common sense which apply to their situations. As a result, they had a very positive and definite say about what affected not just one man or one company, but all carriers. In order to get all air carriers together as a group, they had to put their common needs before all. Art Gaffray's move prior to this meeting had the effect of galvanizing the group as a whole to unite the carriers. This will now start to bring about the necessary re-evaluation for changes in regulations.

"Art is to be commended for this initial move," said Praznik, "because as a group they will have strength to organize and be heard. He has, in essence, protested...put his money where his mouth was, so to speak. The result has not been unfavourable. I am proud of the man for standing up for his principles. I may not have always understood the reasoning behind that before this meeting, but it was made very clear to me as the meeting progressed."

As Art Gaffray had said before, "You can't teach experience to pilots, but experienced pilots have a legitimate argument. This business has a lot of stress. It's the third or fourth highest stress-related occupation in Canada, and these extra pressures just add to the pilots concerns."

Mr. Johnston said, "We are all for safety. We make sure our pilots and planes meet safety regulations and requirements. Canada is the second highest country in the world for air regulations, with Australia first and the U.S.A. somewhat more liberal and their accident rates are way down there somewhere. Regulations, in some cases, are detrimental to safety and they must be brought in line and apply some common sense. For instance, the life jackets...they are far too mechanical for the ordinary person, and given a situation where they might be required, there would not be space or time to get them on. We all carry them though. This particular regulation is redundant and requires looking into for something less complicated."

Mr. Johnston could also see a liaison between Karen Mosher of Transport Canada and the air carriers to help in the discussion of some of their problems. The regulations that don't always apply are mostly by people in Ottawa who may not know what goes on in these different situations. Regulations are necessary, no one would argue that point. ## Friends of the Library banquet

by Dess Trudell

It was a success again, and most of the diners were promising to return next year! The Friends of the Library of St. Georges had their annual supper with the proceeds going toward the running of the library, supplies and books.

This year the hall was decorated with a home spun decor; with beautiful hand-made quilts, a spinning wheel and sheaves of wheat and each table centre piece was an appropriate wise old owl. This was all the handi-work of Jeanine Chevrefils, Eugenie Vincent, Edgar Dube and his family.

The tables were laden with every kind of food, from traditional meat pies, ragout and maple sugar pies to a wide variety of salads, casseroles and vegetables.

Four books were given away to lucky ticket holders who were: Norma Johansson, Eddy Kemball, June Dutka and Ubie Fissette.

Emmanuel Bouvier was emcee for this evening and he introduced the guests and guest speaker. From the Lac du Bonnet Regional Library, Mrs. Maureen Flemming and her husband John; of the St. Georges Library, Mona Bossi and her assistant librarian Berthe Jubinville; Reeve Fran Thompson; Mayor of Powerview, Elie Trudell and his wife Dess; and George Lalor and wife Helen.

This special occasion was coinciding with the soon to be launched book of this area, written by guest speaker George Lalor. He has dedicated this book to his dear friends, Eleonore and Philip Dupont, who were instrumental in the recollection of people, places and events in his book. As

Canoe expedition will cross 2 continents

by Dess Trudell

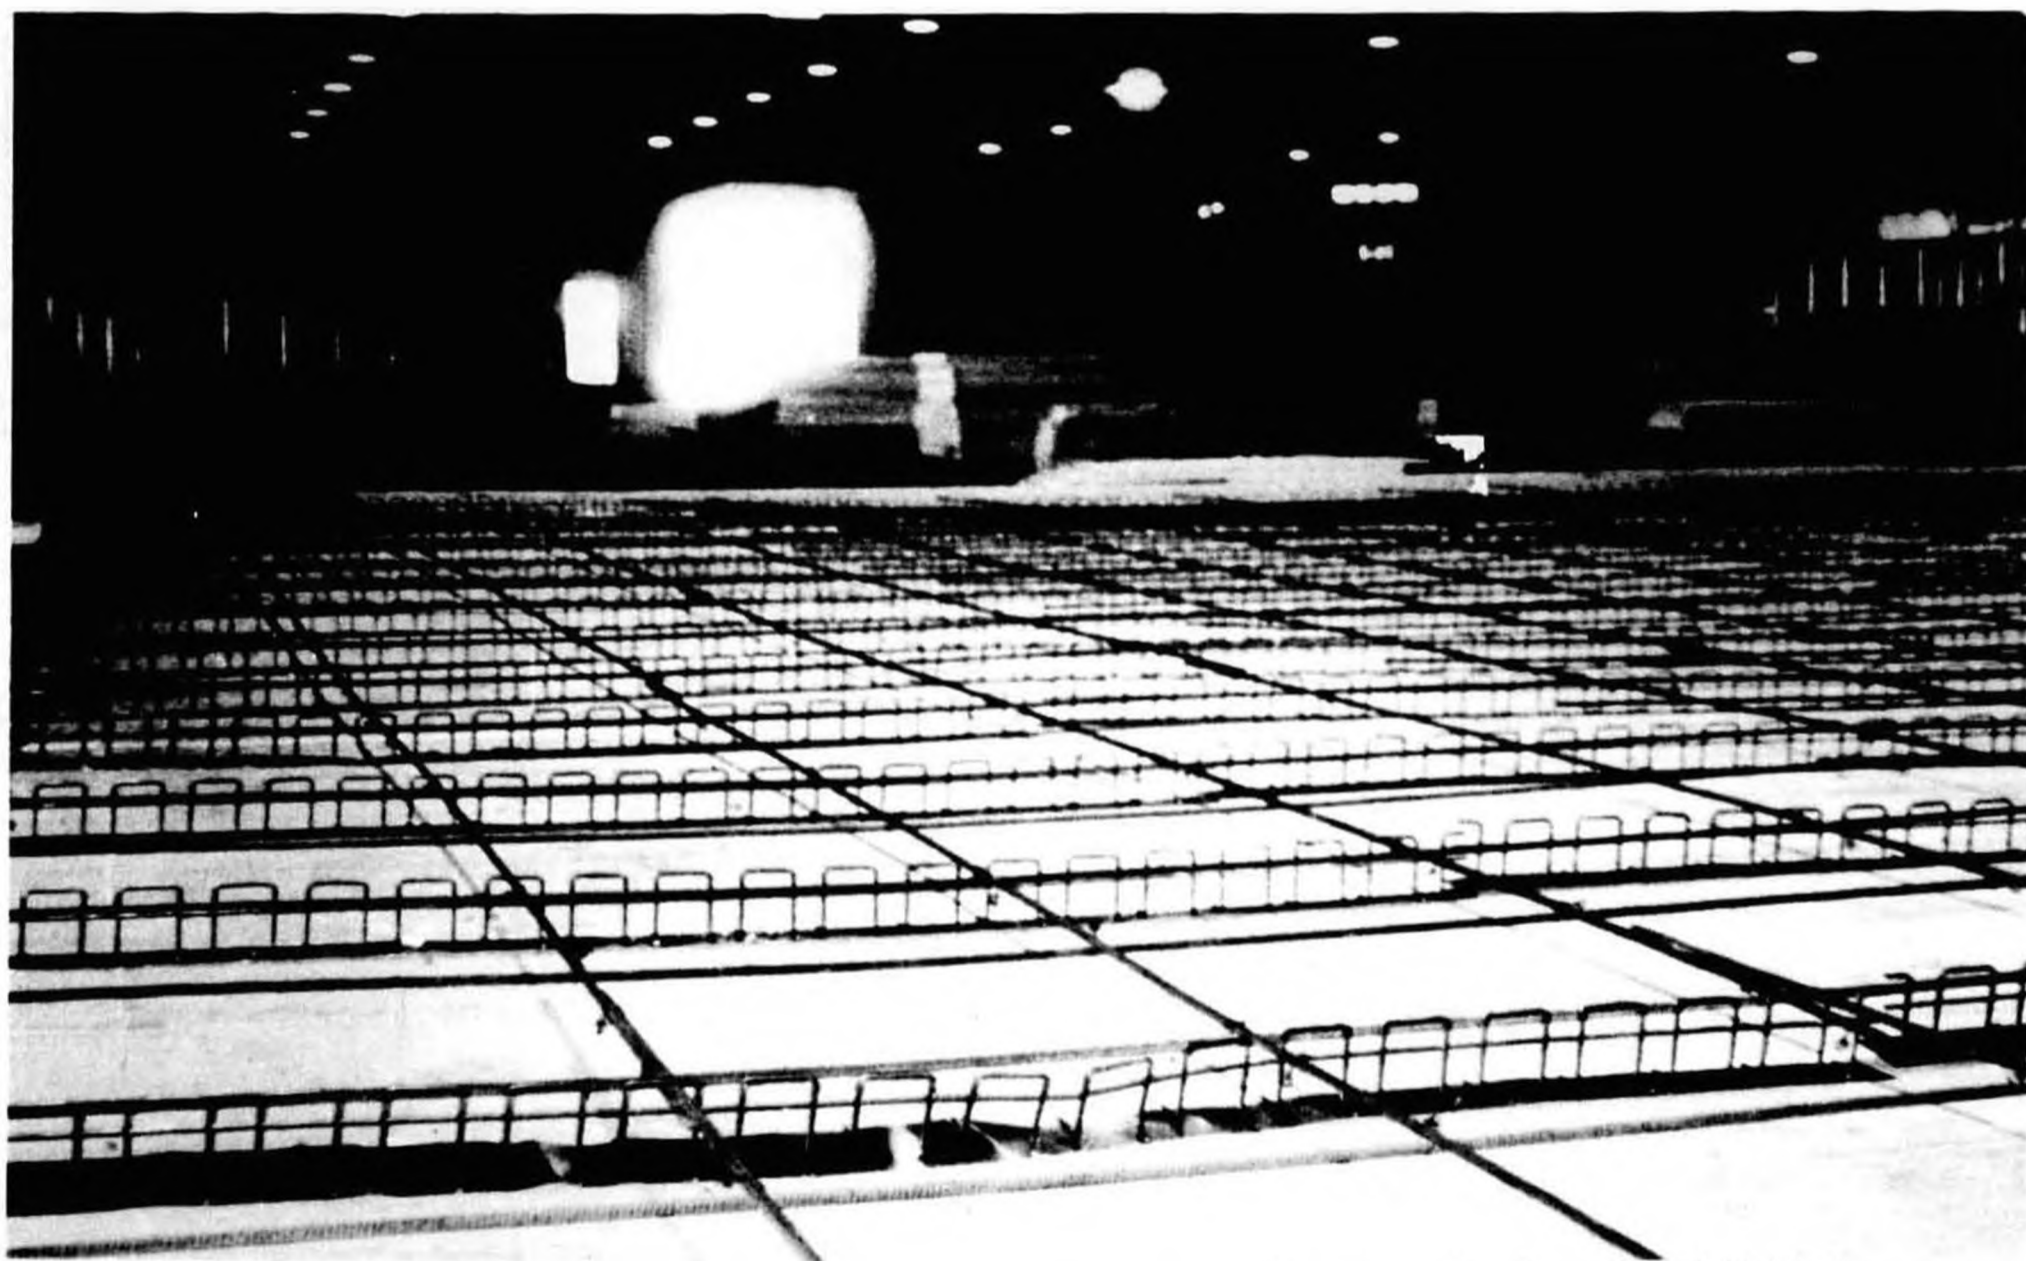

This is a story of two people who love to explore. Verlen and Valerie Kruger of Lansing, Michigan, are less than a quarter of the way into a two-continent exploration expedition. Verlen is known internationally for his boat designing and building skills. He has paddled over 65,000 miles by canoe, more than any other canoeist in history. He is also an experienced photographer, writer and lecturer. Valerie is a long distance canoe racing and touring enthusiast, who has paddled and portaged over 12,000 miles in North America before this expedition. She is recognized as a spokesperson for women's sports in the U.S.A. and is a published writer and experienced lecturer, also.

Valerie and Verlen have a history of successful canoe adventures, including a world record for racing the entire 2,348 mile length of the Mississippi River in 23 days, 10 hours and 20 minutes. Their teamship developed into a romance and they married on April 3, 1986. Their combined energy, love and dreams created the two-continent expedition. They are modern day Lewis and Clark explorers, and citizen ambassadors who will observe and document the land, peoples and water quality of the Western Hemisphere.

On May 10, 1986 they were presented with the Michigan State flag to carry along with them on this route, to fly from the Arctic to the tip of South America — a 21,246 mile voyage of discovery.

They began paddling south from Inuvik, N.W.T., in June. See CANOE / page 14

Artificial ice preparations

Preparations of the Powerview Arena for artificial ice has progressed to this point. This is the ground work for the pipes being laid over the styrofoam and steel prior to pouring the cement.

W's' instrumental in having home ecs. reinstated

In late April, the Manitoba Department of Health made a decision to dissolve the family resource management component of the home economics service and eliminate six staff positions including the financial management specialist, the housing specialist, the training and program coordinator, the volunteer-coordinator/basic living skills specialist plus two secretaries.

The home economics program is one that Manitoba can be very proud of because it reaches people all across the province providing resource information and covering a wide spectrum of programs through field staff, volunteer professionals, organizations and agencies. The home economics program is very dear to the heart of Women's Institute, who years ago, saw the need for rural people to have access to the information home economists provide and so pressured and convinced government to establish such a service.

Retirement party

Mr. Joe Lavoie with wife Simone, retires from Abitibi-Price after 43 years. He was given a plaque for service with the company, a hand carved statue and a special handmade core-cart, which was especially appreciated. He will have his family and his music to keep him busy from now on. Joe and Simone have eight children and nineteen grandchildren and reside in Powerview.

Pineview local news

The grand opening of the newly renovated Midway Foods took place this weekend with owners Omer and Lucille Vincent, and their staff Felicia Bonekamp, Denise Alarie and Bert Klaus, greeting their regular customers and newcomers to their store. This is one of the original old buildings of the area, and it has always been a store. The facelift has made it modern and more up-to-date in keeping with the times and the young owners.

Condolences to the family of Pete Hutchison and Alice Polosky, on the recent loss of their daughter, Pearl, who passed away in B.C. (see obituary).

Manitou Rapids Overture Concert Association will be holding a garage sale in Pine Falls on October 18. If you have anything to donate, please call Sheila Geer at 367-2227. Stay tuned for further details.

There seems to be a problem with cars passing school buses in the bus loading zone. Also parents picking up or dropping off their children in cars should use the parking lots at either end of the school. This may be a little less convenient, but much safer.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

by Dan Cline, Pastor Fort Alexander Baptist Bible Church

A universal concern of people for thousands of years has been that of how to prepare for life after death. Yes, I am well aware that some deny even the existence of God, and therefore obviously deny that we shall stand before Him in judgment. But we need not even defend our position to these, for the Bible states, "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God" (Psalm 14:1; 53:1).

Therefore, we build upon the fact that there is a God in heaven to whom everyone of us must give account (Romans 14:12; Hebrews 9:27). And the Bible makes it abundantly clear that the only way to God is through His Son Jesus (John 3:18,36; 10:9; 14:6).

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Happy 1st anniversary to Bea and Grant Henderson, on October 5, 1986. From Mom and Dad, David, and Alice and Lynn.

But there are many who come to Jesus in the same way that the rich young man did when he asked Jesus, "Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" (Matthew 19:16). Please allow me to ask you a hypothetical question: if it were possible to strip you of all the good works and sacraments that you have ever done or observed — in other words, if someone could take away your baptism, church membership, confirmation, communion, and even your good life would you still go to heaven? My friend, let me assure you that God says these "good works" have nothing at all to do with true salvation (Ephesians 2:8,9; Titus 3:5). Only our faith in Christ alone can save us (John 3:15,16; Romans 3:28; 4:5; 10:9,10); and by believing in Him, we can KNOW that eternal life is ours (1 John 5:13).

Over 50 million parents were inspired by Focus on the Family. Now, Dr. James and Shirley Dobson have taken the next dramatic step.

Introducing a powerful six-part film series that will move you to action.

RECREATION NEWS and VIEWS

by Peggy Boyle
367-2533

Have you always wondered what exactly it is that I do or what the main purpose of having a recreation director is?

I will try to answer these questions in the following paragraphs.

A recreation district was formed on January 1, 1986 when the Town of Pine Falls, Village of Powerview, Local Government District of Alexander, Pine Falls School District and Agassiz School Division got together and agreed to form the district.

As partners of the district they each contribute an amount per capita towards the district which along with a grant from Culture, Heritage and Recreation is the funding used by the district as its operating budget.

So as not to get bogged down in too much detail, I will move on to the actual position of recreation director.

The position of recreation director has many different functions. Among these functions, one of the most important is to act as a liaison and consultant with existing community organizations and groups. This consulting with groups could be anything from helping with some organizational problem, to making them aware of some funding that is available from different government departments, etc.

If a need is expressed by the community for a certain program or programming the recreation director would try to fulfill this by way of contacting the appropriate people outside the community and helping people within the community set up an organization or structure to answer this need.

If a need is recognized by the recreation district, the same approach would be taken.

A large portion of the recreation director's position deals with the knowledge and application of the different grants available to the community from different government sources. Like all government, the application forms can be somewhat tricky, and help can be given in filling out these forms if needed by various groups.

Another function of the recreation director's job is to assist in the administration area of new groups or clubs. This assistance is not limited to new groups, but to all new or existing groups. If a particular group is having some type of organizational problem, the recreation district could help in getting the problem sorted out. I should clarify though, that it is not the function of the recreation director or director to take over from groups who are run and organized by volunteers.

As a recreation director I answer to the recreation commission which is presently made up of five members representing the five contributing partners in the district. As a function of my position, I am responsible for the implementation of its programs, policies and services in the area.

I hope this rather long explanation has helped to clarify for some people, the position of recreation director. Please feel free to drop by the office to see if the recreation district can help your group or answer any questions you may have.

Coaching Theory Level II

LGD of Alexander council deals with routine matters

by Dess Trudell

On September 23, the LGD of Alexander held their meeting and a report of the committees were read. Reeve Thompson reported on the meeting held in Winnipeg, which she attended, on the first Conference on Nuclear Waste and Energy. "There were speakers from all over the country, and departments," she said. "Just to make you aware of the high caliber of those who attended and some of the discussions — they were trying to make the public aware of the searches they were making for repositories for nuclear waste. Do we have the right to contaminate the earth? Who's responsible for the search for a repository? Is it the people who depend on nuclear energy for their livelihood? Sweden's already decided to phase out their nuclear power by the year 2010, however Chernobyl has speeded this up," she said.

Discussion followed on the tax sale of property in the LGD area. When you pay your taxes within a certain time, there is no problem. When they are in arrears, the LGD sends out a letter warning that the property will be sold for taxes. The costs incurred for this should be paid for by the owner when he does come around to pay in full.

Roger Bouvier read the equalized assessment for the year 1987. He said, "It will be $10,958,820.00, which is up from last year by $200,000.00; 1980 was $8,000,000.00, which shows we are the highest assessed district in the province. Pinawa is high, but they are an industrial area. We are on a par, so it shows we are growing."

L.S. McMorris of Ward 1 requested ambulance service and wanted to put together plans for a volunteer service. It was suggested LGD would send a representative. General business covered approval for construction of a new nuisance grounds at Belair; quotes on prices for air cleaners and paper shredders for the office; and a snow plow machine, which they felt was pretty pricey. A letter requesting speed limit signs for the Anderson Road — this was not possible unless the Department of Highways allows it. Said Roger Bouvier, "The department travels all roads and they decide if a road or highway warrants a sign." He also said he would send the department a letter about the request.

Then followed a lengthy reading of the Water Rights Act, concerning the proposal to make changes if the discussion merits re-writing of the act. This would involve the drainage of land, changing the natural water courses, dams and other obstructions and diversions. Removal of same could fall to the tax payer.

The Book Nook

by Mona Bossi

The highlight of this week's library activities was defining the friends of the library's supper on Sunday, September 28 in St. Georges Parish hall. There was the thrill of seeing the first copy (hot off the press) of George Lalor's book The Foot of the River and hearing of the intricacies, the disappointments, the encouragements and the ultimate materialization of this tremendous project. The supper itself was absolutely scrumptious and "yummy"! The organization was superb and everything ran very smoothly. Plans are already underway for some interesting additions to next year's event. Thanks, friends!

By the way, for those of you who are still a bit puzzled as to what a friend of the library is, here's a brief explanation. Friends of the library is a group of citizens in the community who have a common concern for their library's active expansion and participation in community life.

They have a conviction that good library service is important to everyone.

As to who is eligible to join friends of the library group — anyone who is interested in promoting the library. Just call 367-8443 or drop by the library and give us your name and phone number.

A warm welcome back to Janet Robert who was away for almost one month in the wild rice northlands! Storytime last Friday was greatly enjoyed with Sherana Hussain as our story lady and the pre-schoolers certainly got involved in the stories with great gusto.

McPhee parka workshop planning session was full to capacity and the actual making of the parkas will be held Saturday, October 18 and October 25 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Art is the keynote of this week's display, so drop by and be inspired by the works of the old masters and contemporary crafts' people both in the books available for loan and some actual art objects. 'Til next time.

EDITORIAL

It's important to participate

Municipal elections are the topic and the importance of the voters' participation, the candidates and the issues cannot be overlooked or underrated.

Our elected officials deal with problems that affect all of our lives — past, present and future. They are directly responsible for managing our community affairs for establishing and setting out local plans and policies. The effects are noticeable and far reaching.

Neglecting to voice an opinion or opting for choice directly reflects on us, the voters, and does not give anyone the right to complain after the fact.

Improvements in the quality of our lives, the progress of our community, and business enterprises are maintained by the service of those we elect. They must serve our demands and make our decisions when we choose to remain uninformed or apathetic, shouldering responsibility for the common good.

Those we choose to represent us are committed to our needs and concerns. It is not enough to give lip service, to promise, or worse — ignore the issues. The majority of taxpayers want to know where their tax dollar is spent. How roads, new construction, developments, schools, drainage and utilities are maintained.

It is not good enough to hear about "good track records." We can see what has been done. We all argue about tax increases, about town planning, about choices that suit some of us some of the time — and we better remember all that when we are asked, "Did you vote?" D.T

Nurses' duties 84 years ago

The following job description was given to floor nurses by a hospital in 1887.

In addition to caring for your 50 patients, each nurse will follow these regulations:

1. Daily sweep and mop the floors of your ward, dust the patients' furniture and window sills.
2. Maintain an even temperature in your ward by bringing in a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
3. Light is important to observe the patients' condition. Therefore, each day fill kerosene lamps, clean chimneys and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
4. The nurse's notes are important in aiding the physician's work. Make your pens carefully; you may whittle nibs to your individual taste.
5. Each nurse on day duty will report every day at 7 a.m. and leave at 8 p.m., except on the Sabbath on which day you will be off from noon to 2 p.m.

6. Graduate nurses in good standing will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes or two evenings a week if you go regularly to church.

7. Each nurse should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of her earnings for her benefits during her declining years so that she will not become a burden.
8. Any nurse who smokes, uses liquor in any form, gets her hair done at a beauty shop, or frequents dance halls will give the director of nurses good reason to suspect her worth, intentions and integrity.
9. The nurse who performs her labors and serves her patients and doctors without fail for five years will be given an increase of five cents a day, providing there are no hospital debts outstanding.

Fortress™ herbicide for wild oats and green foxtail control

Many have asked about the new Monsanto herbicide called "Fortress". This is a granular herbicide, for fall application, registered for the control of wild oats and green foxtail. It is a commercial mixture of Avadex BW and Trifluralin (Treflan, Rival, Triflures). The use of Avadex and Trifluralin liquid as a tank mix to control both wild oats and green foxtail in wheat and barley, has been registered and recommended for several years for application after seeding and incorporated above the planted seed.

Fortress is registered for fall application on land to be seeded to spring and durum wheat, barley, rapeseed, flax and mustard. Other crops should not be treated because injury may occur. Before applying, the soil must be in good working condition (wet, lumpy, rough or ridged fields will result in reduced weed control and possible crop thinning).

Granular Fortress should be applied through a ground broadcast application such as a grass seed attachment, or a specially designed ground broadcast application (i.e. Valmar, Nodet). The product can also be air applied through aerial attachments designed for applying low volumes of granules.

The first incorporation of this product into the soil must be completed within 24 hours after application, and worked in no deeper than two inches. The second incorporation can be done in fall or spring, and at right angles to the first incorporation. In this area, with soils over four percent organic matter, wheat or barley seeded into fall applied Fortress can be done using either discer or drill implements. It is important that the seed is placed below the two inch treated zone.

Some residue may be left in the soil after cropping the first year. Therefore, oats, small seeded grasses (i.e. timothy, canary seed, creeping red fescue), should not be grown in the second year after application.

The cost of the recommended rate is about $14.00 per acre. More information about this product is available from your farm supply dealer or this office.

Winter storage of chemicals

For leftover chemicals to be stored for winter, it is important to keep freezable types in heated storage. On the other hand, many of the newer products can be stored in an unheated building, so why waste space and/or create odor problems if the product is not effected by freezing. Check with your farm supply dealer, those products which you are not sure can or cannot freeze.

Some storage hints on carry-over pesticides (pesticides include insecticides, fungicides and weed killers):

1. Store inside, heated if required, in an area not frequently used by anyone;
2. Store in the original container with the label intact and readable;
3. Do not store in a residence because any leaks will create odors and possible toxic fumes;
4. Mark year of purchase on the container;
5. If possible keep in a locked building, and for sure, out of the reach of children.

4-H on the move

by Roberta Winnemuller
4-H Program Assistant

4-H is on the go once again after a very short summer holiday. Our existing clubs have had a very successful year. Some clubs achieved locally while others participated at other fairs, as well as the Brokenhead Agricultural Fair held in August. Lots of new and exciting projects are available this year! In the Beausejour and surrounding area we have home economics, beef, dairy and horse clubs. We would like to see a crop club and a vet club organize this year.

Anyone wishing to join a club or start a new club, please contact the program assistant, Roberta Winnemuller, 482-5183; or Jerry Moffat and/or Marilyn Zarecki, Manitoba Agriculture, 268-1411.

Good luck, 4-H'ers!

KAP calls on federal gov. to settle Thunder Bay grain handlers' strike

Jack Penner, president of the Keystone Agricultural Producers, in a telegram to Prime Minister Brian Mulroney called on the federal government to resolve the Thunder Bay grain handlers' strike even if it means back to work legislation.

Mr. Penner has asked the federal government to endeavour to persuade the grain handling companies to drop the work lock out and the union to return to work, while an attempt is made, to resolve the dispute through negotiations. If these efforts have not been successful by October 1, Mr. Penner said "that Keystone Agricultural Producers wants immediate legislation to require the parties to return to work and prevent further losses of Canadian grain sales and what will be significant hurt to many innocent third parties including farmers, seaway and railway workers, etc."

Mr. Penner said that efforts by the special task force established by the Canadian Wheat Board minister to move grain in alternate ways during the strike is appreciated by farmers. However he said that loss of grain sales which is now happening along with potential lost sales is a serious matter for farmers as well as being a major blow from the Canadian balance of payments.

Jack Penner pointed out that Manitoba grain farmers are in serious financial difficulty because of depressed grain prices due to the trade war between the EEC and the USA and shouldn't be put in worse position by grain handlers who are receiving about 30% higher wages than grain handlers in similar positions in the United States.

According to Mr. Penner, farmers have for many years recommended that governments classify grain handlers as an essential service therefore preventing serious hurt to innocent third parties.

Mr. Penner explained that in his opinion farmers have to-date been very patient but he firmly believes that the time has come for immediate action.

INSIDE THE LEGISLATURE

by Russell Doern

The Big O

There are winners and losers at every session of the legislature. Possibly the man who gained the most in 1986 was Don Orchard, the MLA for Pembina.

The Big O had a field day shooting holes in MTX, the government's ill-fated investment in Saudi Arabia. He made mincemeat out of NDP telephones' minister Al Mackling.

In 30 days, Orchard went from a little known MLA to a household word. His popularity as a fighter and an effective member of the opposition spread around the province.

This is heady stuff for the 40-year-old farmer-politician who first appeared on the political horizon in 1977. He cut his first teeth by observing Sterling Lyon and heckling "the Socialists". He graduated to Minister of Highways in 1979 along with the responsibility for the Manitoba Telephone System.

Don Orchard was born and raised in Miami, Manitoba. He graduated from the University of Manitoba in 1968 with a degree in agricultural economics. After the 1981 election, he returned to his farm in Miami where he and his attractive wife Janie are raising their three children.

Orchard is bright, tough and has a good sense of humour. Considered mischievous by some, he has the knack of getting under Premier Pawley's skin and annoying the bellicose speaker Myrna Phillips.

Given his background in communications, Orchard pushed and probed the MTS brass at committee hearings. Because of his own suspicions and an auditor's report, he has attacked MTX for the past four years. Suddenly he struck paydirt. Aided by leaks, he dropped a bombshell by releasing an affidavit from a former employee alleging kickbacks, false sales reports and mismanagement.

Someday the Big O will run for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party. For now he is content to bask in the glow of the MTX adventure that is going up in flame.

ENERGY CORNER

Wise use of clothes washers

Prepared by Manitoba Hydro

The automatic clothes washer can use a lot of energy when operated carelessly. So, to reduce energy consumption and save yourself some money, be sure to operate the machine efficiently.

As much as possible, wash the clothes in warm or even cold water. The synthetic fabrics many of today's clothes are made from will come out just as clean — and will keep their colour and shape just as well with cold water as they will with hot. Less wrinkling occurs when you wash the clothes in warm or cold water, too. By using less hot water, you'll be keeping energy costs down.

A cold water rinse is just as effective as a warm water rinse, so by using cold water in the rinse cycle, you'll be able to cut energy costs.

Don't run the automatic clothes washer for one or two items. Try to operate it only when you have full loads to put through.

Be sure to take advantage of the energy saving features built into your automatic clothes washer. For example, select the proper wash cycle for the type of load. A permanent press cycle gives an extra rinse and uses more water so only use it for permanent press items — not for something like towels.

If you have a suds-saver feature on your machine, you can save the wash water from one load to do another. This can represent a considerable saving in the amount of energy consumed to heat the water for doing your laundry.

For more information on the efficient use of electrical appliances, contact your local Manitoba home economist.

HILLSIDE HIGHLIGHTS

by Jocelyn Stewart

There was a police report in this newspaper last week detailing a number of break-ins in the beach areas. We suspect that many more robberies go unreported — a missing length of electrical extension cord here, a chain saw there, some 2x4's gone from a pile under a cabin, rugs taken off a verandah. There are several reasons, I think, why these crimes are not reported. But the main reason is probably that people have no "proof" a crime has been committed; goods stolen have not been marked by the owners in any traceable fashion; and/or there is no indication of break and enter. No one wants to admit to the police that they have been careless about putting goods and chattels away, about locking sheds and cabin doors. Often people just leave off reporting an incident in hopes a neighbor may have borrowed the item, that it will sooner or later show up again. Still others do not report because they feel they must maintain their anonymity. We know cottagers who never lock their places, others who think a nail driven in to the door and through the frame is enough to keep a trespasser out. It is a sad fact that there are thieves among us and that they come to the lake, too. But many cottage owners seem to have a blind faith that crime won't happen at the lake, at least not to them, where life is so pleasant and easy-going and their neighbors are all best friends together, a fact which is not even true during July and August.

It is an unfortunate fact that many more criminal acts occur between September 1 and the time snow covers the ground. Campers and cottagers often don't get around to tidying up and putting away by September 1, when they have to return to the city. They plan to do a final, thorough "closing up" when they come down for the Thanksgiving weekend. What they don't seem to remember is that extra summer police coverage stops after the Labor Day weekend in the recreational areas, and after that there is only irregular police patrol. So the thieves and vandals have six to eight weeks in which to cover the territory and take their pick. Once snow is on the ground crime drops because foot prints can be seen, often ones that will identify a thief, or at least cause someone to investigate a property whose owners are known to be city-bound in winter. We hope it's not too late to urge cottagers to come out and lock up before some thief gets away easy.

We've had a bear scare in our neighborhood recently. The bear seems to have no fear of humans and dared to come sniffing right at the back door of a cottage nearby. He can't be very hungry, bears now should be well fed, considering this summer's bountiful berry crop, and he looks fat and sleek according to our neighbor who, though he stayed inside the house, had to shoo the bear away three nights in a row. The first time the neighbor surprised the bear on his back porch, the bear took the shortest route of escape and managed to crush part of a deck railing in his flight. The other times he just ambled off by the normal route. Finally the conservation people were called, and prevailed upon to bring in The Bear Trap. It is a rust-red painted, eight foot length of three foot road culvert, with heavy steel grating at each end. One end is the trap door, the other is welded closed. It has a hatch at the closed end through which bait may be positioned, and sits on its own wheels, making it easily portable once a bear is inside. But the conservation people drive the animal to a distant and hopefully unpopulated locale where they release it.

The trap has been known to catch 200 pound bears on several occasions, but no bear has been caught here in the week it has been in place and we've all but given up. It did get sprung one night, causing some commotion. No one knows what small animal did it. Our neighbor thinks maybe the animal might have escaped by the bait hatch not being secured properly. But we know our curious kitten Koko, now four months old, was out that night very late, and without her mother (the same wiley Miranda who has sometimes been mentioned here). When Koko came home about midnight she did smell something awful of rotten fish. But alas, she tells no tales.

One good thing came out of the bear scare. Our neighbor has rebuilt his back porch and its railing, much to his family's delight. It was probably all the hammering and sawing that banished the bear to some other neighborhood!

Brownies survive camping experience

by Marlene Watson
Brown Owl

The Brownies have done it again — gone camping and survived!

Although the forecast for the weekend of September 19, 20 and 21 was dismal, we had three beautiful warm days. When I asked the Brownies who had prayed for warm weather — all hands went up!

The bus arrived at Abrahamson's cabin lot (just outside Lac du Bonnet) at 7:00 p.m. Friday. When the girls departed the bus they were assigned their tent groups. Because our theme for the weekend was birds, each tent group was named as such — Cardinals, Blue Jays, Sparrows, Robins and the leader's tent — Crows!

After the tents were raised and gear arranged we all gathered at the campfire for bannock cooking. Eating was followed by the traditional sing-song — then bed call; lights were out at 9:30 p.m. A nearby farm provided us with a "cow-mooing lullaby".

The first girl was heard at 5:50 a.m. Saturday morning. The rooster crowed at 6:00 a.m. and by 6:30 a.m. everyone was awake. Cooks reported for breakfast duty at 7:00 a.m. and camp arose.

Saturday was a beautiful sunny day. In the morning the girls went on a buried treasure hunt set up by the leaders. The girls had to follow a hand-drawn map and written clues as well as signs left in trees and on the ground. The girls were so enthused about the treasure hunt, that they made their own hunt for the leaders. They did an excellent job making arrows out of rocks and pieces of wood.

After lunch and nap-time, we all journeyed on a nature walk — observing sounds and colors, flowers and trees, birds and insects. Next, the girls worked on two camp-hat crafts. We then had a late supper so evening consisted of a longer sing-song around the fire including the lighting of sparklers and making secret wishes. The girls were called to bed at 8:00 p.m. and lights were out at 8:36 p.m.

Sunday morning the first sound was heard at 6:50 a.m. and camp arose at 7:15 a.m. After breakfast the tents were brought down and all gear was loaded on the bus.

After lunch the tidy tent crests were awarded to the Cardinals — Dani-Lynn Nault, Laurie Dube, Katrina Watson and Andrea Abrahamson. The leaders agreed that if there was a noisy tent award the Cardinals would have won that too! The Observer and Outdoor Adventure badges were awarded to all the girls.

The final event was the cooking of popcorn over the open fire. We all sat and ate and talked until the bus driver arrived at 3:30 p.m. The last of the gear was then loaded and we left for home at 4:00 p.m. We were pleased to arrive at the church only ten minutes sooner than our estimated time of arrival.

The following businesses and people are to be thanked for contributing to our very successful camp: The Bay, Riverview Self-Serve, Midway Foods, Einfeld's Bakery, Weston's, David Kemball (Friday's bus driver), Gord Sokoloski (Sunday's bus driver), To Laura Earle, Jan Russell, Jan Paukovic, Judy Grant and Joanne Lowery for the delicious muffins. To all the camp leaders: Dorinda Watson for keeping our camp "sanitized", Derna Carlson — our camp cook and nurse, Brenda Guay — for keeping our wood and water supply up and leading many games with the girls, lastly to Heather Abrahamson and Doug for letting us use their cabin, as well as making several trips to the site to bring picnic tables and bus drivers. Again to all of you — a big Brownie thank you.

35 register for Brownies

Brownie registration was held on Thursday, September 25. We had 35 girls sign up for this year's program. Our leaders for this year are as follows: Gloria Lal'Reniere, in charge of first year program. Her able helpers are Edith Bourgeois and Heather Abrahamson, a new face to Brownies this year — welcome Heather! Deb Lagasse, in charge of second year program and her able helpers Derna Carlson and Dorinda Watson, another new face to Brownies this year — welcome Dorinda! Marlene Watson, in charge of third year program. Badge tester for this year is Yvette Gelinias. Spare leaders are: Jan Paukovic, Brenda Guay, Barb Houston, Monique Hawranik and Pat Hall. Phoning committee: Jan Russell, Gisele Guay, Monique Earle, Fay Donnelly, Joanne Lowery, Bella Chochinov and Yolande Fenez.

A special Brown Owl thank you to all the above leaders and helpers who readily agreed to join our program.

Regular Brownies will be starting on Thursday, October 2nd at our new time of 5:15 - 7:00 p.m. See you there!

1986 and paddled 1800 miles up the MacKenzie River following Alexander MacKenzie's epic journey in 1789 to Ft. Chipecwan. They will be reliving a part of a historic fur trade route through the Indian settlements of N.W.T. and Saskatchewan and follow the voyageurs highway to Grand Portage, Minnesota. They will route through Michigan to navigate four of the Great Lakes before freeze up. Paddling the south shore of L. Superior in November, and to Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, they will follow the Michigan shore line. This will be the highlight of the expedition, as the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission has named this expedition their number one project to celebrate their 150th birthday. From there they will paddle past Detroit into Lake Erie to Toledo, up the Maumee River to Ft. Wayne into the Wabash River and south across the State of Indiana to the Ohio River. Paddling up the Tennessee River, they will follow the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway to Mobile, Alabama, and east around the Gulf of Mexico to Miami, Florida.

From Miami the route takes on a complete change as they face 2300 miles of Caribbean Sea. They travel in two solo canoes which Verlen designed and built. Canoes were the vehicles that opened up the northwest and have a special romance to the travellers, and is a personal powered vehicle, unthreatening in any culture. It also puts the explorers as close to the natural world as possible. These two canoes are 17 feet long and partially decked. They are built for comfort with the unique features of the stability of a catamaran system, which they will use during the crossing of the ocean portions of the route.

but modifications are needed to meet the present requirements. It is time to review them and use common sense when and where it should be applied.

Many carriers won't or can't say anything against M.O.T. Some just are not on a financially sound enough ground. If they were to miss a payment, they could face foreclosure. They may talk about their problems in private, but for some it begins to feel like economical blackmail. Now with a united front joining their voices and expressing their concerns, perhaps they will start to weed out some of the useless regulations and adopt a better guideline for their futures. A lot of those regulations are good and no one would change them, but some flexibility is required now.

The meeting accomplished one thing. Changes can only be for the better, for the enforcers of the regulations and for the air carriers themselves.

ways, the team will observe the environment and report on the overall picture, working under the direction of the Michigan State University Water Institute and U.S. Geological Survey, with National Water Data Exchange testing river and lake water daily. They will be taking measurements, temperature, dissolved oxygen, turbidity and pH levels; as well, the location, land use in test areas and proximity to major cities. Factors will be recorded for weather evaluation, barometric pressures, speed and air temperature. The team is being directed also for acid rain testing by General Motors Labs and the La Motte Chemical Labs, which supplies the field testing kits to monitor chemicals, water color and heavy metals in the water samples, plus collect samples of fungi along their route. Because their expedition is committed to scientific purposes, the team has been awarded the Explorers Club Flag to carry. These club flags have been carried into space, to the top of Mt. Everest, to the depths of the oceans and now accompany the Krugers on this expedition.

They will cover the entire Caribbean chain, paddling around 100 islands, being at times out of sight of land which necessitates overnight paddling. When they arrive in Trinidad, S.A., they will then head up the Orinoco River and up the Negro River to the city of Manaus at the junction of the Amazon, and through the rain forests during the rainy season. The team will then face a difficult part of the expedition when they enter the unknown and uncharted region called the Mato Grosso — a land of countless tribes where civilization has not yet reached. Before they have finished, they will have explored all three of the major river systems of this South American Continent — the Orinoco, the Amazon and the Parana. This could possibly be the most hazardous and most rewarding part of their trip. If they are on schedule, they will have reached Buenos Aires, Argentina, by July 1988, where they will paddle out down the east coast of the Atlantic Ocean to the Straits of Magellen. They will touch at Puenta Arenas, Chile and go around Cape Horn and back to Punta Arenas — a 21,246 mile, two and a half year trip from beginning to end of this amazing paddling expedition.

This will have been a life changing experience and one that Verlen and Valerie will have faced together. They will be presenting the expedition as a friendly message, from people to people, sharing the adventure through photographs, writing and lectures when it is completed in February, 1989.

They had reached the Winnipeg River system near the proposed date of September 22, and expect to be at Grand Portage, MN, on October 12, 1986. They have travelled 3327 miles so far since June 1, 1986.

"Happy are they who dream dreams, and have the courage to make them come true."

Verlen and Valerie Kruger on their two-and-one-half year, two-continent canoe expedition which comprises 21,246 miles.
