Move clocks back

Manitoba clocks move back one hour in the early morning of Sunday, October 25, when standard time returns to the province.

Under an amendment to The Official Time Act this year, the legislature extended daylight saving time to take effect the first Sunday in April, instead of the last Sunday in April, but did not alter the return of standard time.

Uniform daylight saving time thus continues, for the entire province, to end on the last Sunday in October, as it has in the past.

This year, the official reversion to standard time occurs precisely at 3:00 a.m. October 25, at which time clocks are turned back to 2:00 a.m.

EMO says that the LGD must prepare for disasters

by Marlene Watson

The LGD of Alexander became a member of the Manitoba Good Roads Association for the first time this year. They won second prize in division "C" — best maintained roads under 50 miles. These roads are located in the Ward 2 Stead area.

The LGD also received a letter of warning from the Emergency Measures Organization that within the near future all municipalities will have to be equipped with emergency measure in case of any natural disasters. It will be a great task for all towns to have volunteer help ready and able to meet such emergencies when and if they occur. Roger Bouvier, resident administrator, has attended a week-long seminar regarding this matter and will be starting work towards preparation for this task.

The LGD also received a letter from the Winnipeg River Historical Society asking for possible funding. The Historical Society has over 400 patron orders for the awaited historical book, but wishes to purchase 1000 books to lower the cost of each book by $20.00. They will be in discussion with the council over finance at a later date.

The old Pine Falls Ambulance will be stored in the Rural Municipality of Victoria Beach firehouse, to be owned and operated by that municipality enabling many beach residents to have ready access to their own ambulance. This has not been done formally to date, but is in the works.

A tender will be issued for a new grader to be purchased. The LGD owns one grader now, but wishes to own two. This would enable a better service to the Bird River area during heavy snowfall season.

Ward 3 news — (St. Georges to Clark's Corner and the Broadland area from across the river at Great Falls to Pedden's to Hutchison's Point) — Peter Raymond, councillor. Invoices were submitted from Abitibi-Price Inc. regarding use of fire engine and men sent to attend two fires in Ward 3. These fires were deliberately set by various individuals and the council agreed to send the invoices to those responsible.

Ward 1 news — (all the beach area from east of the Grand Beach East gate to Albert Beach — south side of Saffie Road) — Ken Danwich, councillor. Many concerns were raised by local individuals. Margaret Ritchie, representing the Lester Beach Association and herself mainly, and Marianne Parker, landowner at Lester Beach, were upset about the proposed nuisance grounds to be located in Belair, 15 miles north of Belair Road. This nuisance ground would be handling garbage from

Peter Raymond will carry LdB Liberal banner

by Noreen Ostash

Peter Raymond, a Pine Falls area businessman and member of the LGD of Alexander council, was elected the Liberal candidate for the Lac du Bonnet constituency in the next provincial election.

His nomination as candidate was the first of 57 the Liberals plan to run when the election is called.

Raymond was the only candidate to file his papers with the constituency executive prior to the nomination meeting held on Wednesday, October 14, in St. Georges.

In accepting the candidacy, Raymond told the group of 25-30 supporters that he is willing to work with Liberal Leader Sharon Carstairs to rebuild the party. The association now has 60 members and will be working to fill the positions of directors who will be needed to carry on the campaign.

Raymond was elected to the LGD of Alexander council in 1985 when a by-election was called. He was returned to council in 1986 where he has served as chairman of the recreation commission, on the ambulance board, the Eastman Development Corporation, the finance, Public Works and personnel committees on council. He is also acting as a council liaison with the adult day care.

The provincial constituencies are slated for review before the next election and may well change during that time. This could mean that the Lac du Bonnet constituency boundaries would change. If they do, Raymond would have to go for renomination in the newly designated constituency.

This does not bother Raymond. He is interested in getting the NDP government out. See Peter Raymond / page 3

Moose snares cause concern

by Marlene Watson

Chris Dawson and Kent Anderson, two Pine Falls teenagers, were out one day last week on their ATC's travelling along the railroad tracks in bush area near Pine Falls. They toured approximately three miles along the tracks towards Stead when they noticed a field. They followed an old hiking trail in this field until they were halted by a gruesome sight. Lying on the trail was a dead moose snared to a tree. Further observation told them the moose had been dead for some time as decomposition had set in. A large silver cord was around the animal's neck. When they returned home the boys told Chris' parents, Alice and Jim Dawson of the finding. The Dawson's tried to contact the conservation officers immediately, but no one was in the office. Barry Zachedniack, conservation officer, later took the call from Mr. Dawson regarding the incident.

Larry Ross, conservation officer, received a call about another snare incident. Don Powell of Pine Falls was also out three-wheeling approximately three miles southwest of Pine Falls near the railway tracks. As he maneuvered his three-wheeler along a trail he was pulled high around the shoulders and off his feet by what he described was a moose snare. Powell expressed concern for his and others safety to Mr. Ross.

In conversation with Ross and Zachedniack, both men explained the difficult situation they were in to do anything about the matter. Ross noted that all treaty Indians are legally allowed to set snares in that area at any time. He also added that if poachers were involved, to prosecute them his men would have to sit day and night to catch them in the act of placing the snare or removing animals from the snare. Zachedniack's and Ross' only advice to travellers would be to use extreme caution at all times in this area as the snares would likely be very well camouflaged to be effective.

25 unit subdivision underway

These three men are initiating the construction of a 25 house subdivision located behind Pedden's Store. Left to right are: Dave Dufour, contractor; John Schamber, project manager and engineer; and Birdie Chevrefils, representing Chevrefils and District Water Co-op.

Homemakers gain recognition for contributions to the community

by Marlene Watson

Helene Tremblay has lived and worked in our community all her life. This being National Homemaker's Week, the spotlight has been turned her way as she is the senior home care attendant in our area. A homemaker is a person who is employed by the provincial government to assist various citizens in their own homes. The program helps those citizens to remain in their homes for a longer period of time rather than necessitating the need for hospitals or nursing homes. Most of the clients are 65 years of age and over, but some clients who are handicapped are of a younger age.

Mrs. Tremblay became involved with homemaker in the early 70's when she was contacted by the public health nurse. At that time, Helene worked more as a favour to the client rather than as a job position. She would make certain the client had food in his/her home and also cook meals. Her time involved a few hours per day.

As more clients came her way, Helene realized great satisfaction in doing homemaker work. She began to feel like "one of their own" or part of the client's family. Much affection is displayed between client and homemaker, which in many cases made the job more pleasurable for Helene. When a client requires hospital care, the homemaker's job ends until that person returns home. This does not stop Helene from visiting her many clients in the hospital on her own time. Even though the job has monetary value, the rewards run much deeper.

In 1984, homemakers in Manitoba were offered a course to obtain a Homemaker's Attendants Certificate given through the Red River Community College. The course was studied at home, but once a week the students could travel to Beausejour for a test on different subjects. This first course was attended by Helene Tremblay and Alice Dawson. They both received certificates at the conclusion of the course.

The homemaker's main objective is to assist the client in functioning at an independent level within their own home, and consequently the community. Helen Tremblay is a perfect example of a homemaker reaching this objective. All homemakers will be wearing blue ribbons to commemorate National Homemaker's Week. They all deserve a big hello and a thank you.

all beaches including Victoria Beach which previously used the Traverse Bay Nuisance Grounds. Other concerned citizens, Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Batke and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Millor, were also present to raise questions about this issue. They wanted to know why Belair was to be the proposed site. Roger Bouvier explained that the Belair sight was an ideal location because of the natural clay base. This clay base would prevent seepage and water pollution would be avoided. He also noted the Traverse Bay Nuisance Grounds has a gravel base and would be too costly to the taxpayers to line the sight with a clay base. Ken Danwich, also stated he would be available to attend any meetings held by the Ward 3 constituents to discuss the matter and answer any questions.

Inquiries were also raised regarding the mill rate levied for 1988 of 8.0 mills on each individual's tax to maintain year round policing. For example, a typical cottage on lakefront property at Hillside Beach assessed at 3890 would be taxed $31.12 (3890 x .008). It was also mentioned at this time that the policeman would not be armed, but would be able to alert the RCMP detachment in Power-view of theft and break-ins which might be in progress. With so many uninhabited cottages in the beach area during the winter months, council responded to many requests for a better policing policy. If the by-law is passed, council will staff the office for January 1, 1988.

Underground telephone cable will be installed beginning the week of October 19 in parts of Hillside Beach, Traverse Bay and Albert Beach.

MTS personnel, Jim Bukowski (outside plant engineer) and Dirk Kenning (area service manager) were present at the meeting as per request of the council. Ken Danwich wanted written assurance from these men that any damage to roads and private drives as a result of cable installation would be repaired and paid for by MTS. Bukowski and Kenning, speaking for MTS, agreed fully to sign the necessary papers to that effect. Council then passed a resolution to allow the installation of buried cable.

The new food store and laundromat to be constructed at the junction of Belair Road and Lakeshore Road was approved by council. Entrance to the store will be off Belair Road. This structure will be built in the centre of the lot. Questions were raised as to sewage and water supply. Ken Danwich surmised they would use a septic field and possibly have their own well, but the Department of Health would have the final say in this area.

Sub-division work started

Merv Pedden stands in front of construction work which began on his subdivision. The new area will feature 25 house lots, four large commercial lots and several smaller commercial lots. This new housing development will have its own lagoon. A new farce-main is being installed for Dufour's Trailer Court and the Pedden's subdivision. The new subdivision hopes to negotiate a future hook-up with the Chevrefils and District Water Co-op.

FOCUS ON: Marriage contracts

by Marilyn Zarecki
Home Economist
Manitoba Agriculture
Beausejour, 268-1411

Financial concerns have long been a source of argument in many marriages. Whose money is it? How should it be spent? How should it be saved and what are we saving for? These are some of the issues within a marriage, but when and if a marriage fails, finances may be even more likely to cause difficulties.

Marriage contracts may be one way of decreasing any problems in a marriage. They could also be a way of strengthening the marriage by separating "finance from romance".

For some couples creating a marriage contract, outlining how money and assets would be divided upon divorce or separation, seems to say "I don't trust you to treat me fairly". Other couples don't wish to think about it because it's like saying "this marriage is eventually going to fail". This is not necessarily the case. It may be that common sense and some rough experiences have taught you to be practical when it comes to financial matters. Some may see a contract as insurance, something you forget about if you don't need it.

For those who do wish to consider a contract, a contract drawn up by a lawyer is legally binding and assets will be divided according to the contract upon divorce. In Manitoba, if you do not have a contract, current legislation says that all property acquired by the partners during marriage, as well as any specific behaviors, i.e. he'll increase in the worth of property held before marriage, is to be divided equally between the couple.

Generally there are two types of couples who wish to have a contract. One group included those people who are going into a second or third marriage and want to avoid the complications and anxiety of past divorces. The second group may be couples in which at least one partner has a specific piece of property or a business interest that they wish to protect.

For any couple falling into either of these groups, or others who are not satisfied with the fifty-fifty split, there are several suggestions to consider. Keep the contract simple and focus only on those pieces of property or situations you are most concerned with. Avoid trying to include change the diapers, as they are not really enforceable either legally or practically. Consider the personal needs or wants of the partner but be sure and consider the legal aspects of the situation.

It is recommended that each person seek independent legal advice even if the contract is drawn up by a lawyer in consultation with both parties. This will insure that each party knows their respective rights and avoids the possibility by one of the couple claiming it is not enforceable because they were not informed by an independent lawyer.

While negotiating a contract may be tricky if both partners don't feel the same about it, many are eventually drawn up without too many problems. When it comes down to the bottom line, the process may help you get to know your spouse better and actually preserve the romance rather than destroy it. However, keep in mind it may not be the ideal solution for everyone.

Bodies frozen in time capsule

It sounds like the figment of imagination from the mind of a science-fiction writer, but a group of Manitobans have already signed up to have their bodies preserved, if modern-day medicine gives up on them.

They have contracted unique life-insurance arrangements with the Alcor Life Extension Foundation of California and — if the situation warrants — their bodies will be frozen in time, to be "brought back to life" if and when medical techniques become that sophisticated.

Brian Wovk of Winnipeg is one of the small, but growing, number of people who are convinced that the idea of preserving people at low temperatures (cryonics) is the modern way to wait out a cure for whatever disease they have.

(Although it was widely reported at the time of his death, Wovk tells me that Walt Disney — although a cryonic supporter — was cremated, not frozen.)

The 24-year-old former physics student who is now a computer software entrepreneur, Wovk pays the equivalent of $2.00 per day on an insurance contract and wears a medical bracelet asking that the Alcor Foundation be contacted immediately if he is ruled "dead" by doctors in this province.

Manitoba College of Physicians and Surgeons registrar Dr. James Morison questions the whole cryonic belief, but says he believes the controversial treatment is more a question for lawyers and the provincial attorney-general.

For one, I believe we are on this earth "with a time to live, and a time to die".

Many Manitobans to whom I have spoken about cryonics seem to agree, but this is no pipedream:

Alcor is the largest foundation of about six operating in North America. They already have 100 members, like Wovk, with complete arrangements in place and 21 members already in the suspended (frozen) state.

"Once treated, the frozen bodies are maintained in large steel cylinders, which are earthquake and fire resistant," he explained in a recent interview.

This foundation has recently moved into a new, multi-million dollar facility and, if interested, can be contacted at the Alcor Life Extension Foundation, 12327 Doherty St., Riverside, Calif., 92503 (telephone: 1-714-736-1703).

The latest person to undergo this life-suspension procedure was an AIDS patient in June.

Wovk suggests any Manitoban with a genuine interest in the procedure should read a new book, Engines of Creation, by MIT engineer Eric Drexler, who has presented the case for future cell-repair technology to the prestigious US National Academy of Sciences.

"To be honest," Wovk says, "the concept of future cell-repair technology is so far over the head of the average doctor, it's like trying to tell witch-doctors about CAT scanners."

If you leave aside the technical and legal problems of having your life suspended until medical treatments progressed, think of the simple human pressures:

Imagine a 25-year-old married man, with two children, who is dying of lung cancer. He has his body frozen, until medical science learns how to bring him back from the "dead" — at least 50 years from now, it is estimated.

He is brought back and his lung cancer is cured by doctors of the future.

But then, he is still 25. His wife is at least 70; his children are over 50 — and he has to attempt to live in a distinctly different world.

Not for me, thanks.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Smoking

With so much talk on the recent peat moss and stubble burning and how it affects the health of many individuals, this writer became concerned about a similar issue, cigarette smoke.

The cold weather is here, indoor activities are well underway, and many of us will be subjected to the fumes of cigarette smoke. Clinical studies have proven that inhaling exhaled tobacco smoke can be as damaging as smoking itself. When a person is sitting in an enclosed smoke-filled room is that not the same as being outdoors during heavy stubble burning sessions?

People have argued both sides of the issue of smokers' and non-smokers' rights for years. Many smokers argue that if everyone quite smoking the government would be devastated by the loss of income from the taxes levied on tobacco products. Non-smokers retort that decrease in medical bills of government health care programs will more than compensate taxes lost on sale of tobacco.

No matter how many arguments are raised, the fact still remains, if a person is a non-smoker, they harm no one; if a person is a smoker, their exhaled smoke does harm their friends and family around them. The responsibility has to lie in the mind of the smoker to stop so that others' safety is protected.

Quit today and save someone else's life, they'll love you for it!

Family violence

submitted by the Committee for the Public Awareness of Family Violence

"Unhappy families" — "The home could be the most dangerous place a woman or child can be."

Often the abuse is physical. These are the most visible victim of violence — those who suffer bodily harm.

But there are still other kinds of abuse as well; sexual, verbal, emotional abuse. Besides these active abuses, passive neglect — physical or emotional — causes additional harm to family members.

All kinds of abuse and neglect damage their victims' emotional and physical well-being, as well as the way they think of themselves. We're only beginning to understand the harm caused, as well as the future implications in the lives of children raised in abusive homes.

Crisis intervention, by law enforcement officers and other professionals, is an important key to breaking the cycle of violence. But only expanded community awareness of the problems of domestic violence and prevention education among the young provide long term solutions.

You can help solve the problem of domestic violence in your own community.

Volunteer to serve on your local task force, to speak to community groups on the problems of and solutions to domestic violence, to help organize fundraising projects to ensure the future of spouse abuse programs in your area.

The Committee for the Public Awareness of Family Violence is meeting regularly on the fourth Monday of every month at the Library Allard in St. Georges at 7:00 p.m. There will be a film or speakers at every meeting.

of office and working to build the Liberal party in this area. As a candidate he can get out and find out what the local issues are, meet with the people and give both the party and himself visibility in the riding.

He would like to get something going in business and development in this area and to find ways that the provincial government could help the municipalities to carry out their work. Right now he feels that the area is often getting lost in the shuffle.

Raymond manages the Papertown Motel with his brother Michael, a family business which employs 30-35 people in the Pine Falls - Powerview area. They have just completed a ten room addition to the facility.

He is supported in his decision by his wife Heather who is presently doing an accounting program for the family business.

NEIGHBORLY NEWS

by Fred McGuiness
Box 1020, Brandon R7A 6A3

Weekly reporters must be vigilant

I was preparing notes for the journalism class when I came across a quotation I rate as slightly magnificent. It goes, "Those who step into areas of public dispute, who choose the pleasures and distractions of controversy, must be willing to bear criticism, disparagement, and even wounding assessments."

This applies to every trustee, every reeve and councillor, every MP and M.L.A. As if to prove it, in recent weeks we've had a number of wounding assessments.

In Manitoba, the sole Indian M.L.A., Elijah Harper, when charged with being impaired and leaving the scene of an accident, resigned his cabinet post. The chief of The Pas Indian Band told the Opasquia Times that, "As a minister of the Crown you don't go around driving drunk at three in the morning. He should have shown more responsibility."

The Carillon of Steinbach reports on the reeve of the RM of LaBroquerie. He appeared at a public meeting to speak in support of subdividing a parcel of land for residential purposes. What he neglected to state was that he had leased part of the land, and was negotiating its purchase. The Carillon gives him an editorial scolding for "acting carelessly".

It was the public disclosure of events at Ferland which resulted in a court case against Mayor Robert Chabot. A judge of the Court of Queen's Bench found him guilty of voting on motions which represented personal gain. The penalty? He's barred from public life for three years and ordered to make restitution to the village of $3,000. To guarantee his election, this man sold a village lot on shares to 26 out-of-town friends, thus entitling them to vote. This story receives extensive coverage in The Assiniboia Times.

The Grenfell Sun talks about contention between the paper and the council of the neighboring town of Wolseley. When Wolseley councillors felt aggrieved because The Sun delved a little too deeply into some local issues, they rescinded an earlier motion which said that all town advertisements would be carried by The Sun because this paper has 430 Wolseley subscribers.

Is the Grenfell paper apologetic? Heavens no. It responds to this action by printing a list of recent payments which Wolseley council allegedly made without proper authorization. It insists that, "As long as there has been government, there have been people to question that government."

Every week brings more reasons why reporters must be vigilant. The Scratching River Post of Morris reports on a motion by the council of the RM of Montcalm which is null and void because it was passed "in camera". The secretary-treasurer admits this was done to avoid "media attention".

Do the elected ones fight back? Absolutely. The Tofield Mercury comments on a recent decision by the council of Holden. It approved a so-called "media guide". One of its articles requires that reporters "respect the wishes of council in reporting issues to the public".

Will The Mercury respect council's wishes? Never. In what I think is a wounding assessment it says this is the type of instruction issued in countries where "democracy has gone down the tube".

Current state of rural Manitoba is theme of youth conference

"Rural Manitoba: Progressing or Declining?" is the theme of an upcoming conference in Gimli, organized by the Manitoba Rural Youth Organization. Their two-and-one-half day annual conference, to be held November 6 to 8, is planned by and for rural people between the ages of eighteen and thirty.

Linda McNabb, conference committee member, says "the theme was chosen to get participants thinking about where rural communities are headed and how we can help communities progress, rather than decline. Our topics cover a host of rural concerns, including the rural economy, industry in small towns and how to attract it, marketing rural Manitoba and citizenship and leadership." According to McNabb, a special wrap-up panel discussion will address what lies ahead for rural Manitoba.

A wide range of speakers will be heard, including Sandi Coleman, broadcasting personality, Dr. Paul Thomas, political scientist, and panel members Dr. Clay Gilson, Allan Beachell and Helen Kletke.

MRYO members are excited about the conference, since they are people who value rural life for its friendliness and sense of community. MRYO activities are designed to help members be effective contributors in areas of rural society which interest them. Evening social activities have been planned for the conference, to give participants a chance to meet new people who come from across the province to attend.

Those interested in taking in the rural youth conference are welcome and encouraged to register early. For more information about the group or conference, call Linda McNabb at 367-5420 in Arborg or Jocelyn VanKoughnet (pronounced Konet) at 867-3671 in Minnedosa.

Winnipeg River Historical project update

by Dess Trudell

We have just received the first set of galley sheets for proof-reading. They are the prepared typed stories and there are stories ready to be sent in for the next set of galleys. There are still several important events, stories and the honor roll of the veterans — names, year of enlistment or volunteer, service, etc. These must be completed before the final layouts are prepared.

We are appealing to everyone to take a moment to send information about incidents, events, and about themselves, which will enable us to make this history a better book for everyone, and which may also be handed down from generation to generation, with pride.

The photos of the veterans of the St. Georges area are already in. The names, service records and etc., of those of the beaches areas are being assembled and if you are from one of the beaches, contact Bert and Helen Trainor with the information.

In the Pine Falls area, Gordon Hansen has made a list of veterans from the United Church honor roll, and we request the assistance of vets of the other churches, the Legion and clubs, which will help us complete the roll. Photos are especially important, complete with names, year, etc.

We would like to send in the proofed sheets by October 30 and it would be a shame if anyone is missed. It is a once in a lifetime opportunity for families to preserve their histories in a beautifully bound book. Each book deposit ensures you of a print, when completed. There is no charge to have your stories printed in the book, but we know you will want one. It is for this reason, we encourage those of you who may expect to buy a book after they are printed to realize only a limited number will be printed; and those who have deposits will be receiving books as we order accordingly.

You may place a book (or books) deposit with any of the committee members, or at the Arts Council office at 367-8785.

Committee members are (alphabetical): Broadlands — Eric Carlson, 367-2515; Chevrefils — David and Angeline Dufour, 367-2792.

Gordon Hansen, 367-2313, Jeanne Lavoie, 367-8285; Fort Alexander — Sagkeeng Cultural Centre, 367-8740; Great Falls — Warren Simcock, 367-2581; Pine Falls — Sheila Geer, 367-2227; Powerview — Desi Trudell, 367-8403; St. Georges — Jean Dupont, 367-2927; Victoria Beach — Bert and Helen Trainor, 754-2257.

We would appreciate the help of proofreaders, and anyone interested may call any one of the members mentioned above.

Agricultural Representative
Manitoba Agriculture
"Last call" for
Ag. courses

There has been a lot of interest in the four Assiniboine Community College courses tentatively scheduled for this district. We have received a lot of phone and personal inquiries at the office; and eighteen farm men and women attended a meeting recently where our staff, along with representatives from ACC and Farm Labor Pool, discussed the courses and the possible funding available from the federal government. However, there are not enough of these people prepared to commit to registering for the course of their choice. Unless we get the required number committed with application forms completed, by October 30, we will be forced to cancel out the course or courses for this year.

The Farm Equipment Operators' Course for Women is filling up nicely, but there are still spots to fill to make it fly. The Grain Marketing and Computer Courses have only a few people committed to date. The eighteen week Applied Agriculture Course was lined up due to a number of local requests, yet we are far short of the required number enrolled to go ahead with the course.

For more information and application forms, please call the office at 268-1411. Remember, the deadline for confirmation that the courses will be held is October 30.

Village of Powerview council deals with routine matters

by Marlene Watson

Soil samples will be taken from Josse, Dupont, Betty and Louise streets this fall for testing for future street paving.

Eli Trudell, mayor, and Richard Lagasse, councillor, will be attending upcoming hearings regarding stubble burning. These hearings will be held on December 2 at Lac du Bonnet. Concerned citizens and petition holders can direct their information to Trudell and Lagasse if they cannot attend themselves.

Alan Tardiff, councillor, was put in charge of finding prices and suppliers for new Christmas light decorations. Mayor Trudell stressed the importance of immediate action before winter weather makes installation difficult.

Under new business, Danny Gelinas raised a question as to the effectiveness of the two crosswalks located in Powerview on Highway No. 11. Much discussion ensued. It was finally decided a highway warning sign could be placed a distance from the crosswalk to notify motorists. If this did not help, the council would then consider installing overhead lights which would flash when the crosswalk was in use.

The board of revision held a hearing to listen to any complaints regarding property assessments done this year. Danny Gelinas, councillor, was appointed chairman of these hearings and two complaints were dealt with.

Mrs. Antonia Kananowicz, non-resident owner of house and land, asked if her assessment could be changed to a seasonal rate as she occupied the house during the summer months only. The board of revision stated there was no such clause in the Powerview municipality. Council agreed with the board's findings and no change was allowed.

Stan and Fran Powell, owners of a six acre parcel near the lagoon, also asked for a lower assessment claiming their land was not valuable due to swamps, rocks and location near the lagoon. The board of assessment pointed out their six acres had already been assessed at a lesser rate than two lots in townsite area. The board also stated their land assessment had already been reduced by 60% and they would not go any lower. Council upheld the decision of the board and no change was allowed.

It's pumpkin season

The great pumpkin — as Charlie Brown would say, as he sits in the pumpkin patch in the fall, "Good grief — it's time for the Great Pumpkin to arrive, bringing toys and treats to all the children!" Pumpkins can be used for more than just carving jack-o-lanterns. Try making your own puree, breads, muffins, cakes, pies, and cookies! Or better yet, cook a main supper entrée in a pumpkin. It's pumpkin season...

Dinner in a pumpkin

- 1 medium pumpkin
- 2 lb. ground beef, sauteed with green peppers, onion, celery and garlic
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 2 tbsp. packed brown sugar
- 1 (4 oz.) can sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
- 2 cups hot cooked rice

Preheat oven to 350°F. Lightly grease a 10" circle of a baking sheet set aside. Place pumpkin on a firm surface. Using a sharp knife, cut a circle 3" from around the stem. Cut on a diagonal by slanting knife from outer edge of pumpkin towards centre. Reserve top of pumpkin. Remove seeds and pulp. In a medium mixing bowl, combine ground beef mix, soy sauce, brown sugar, mushrooms, soup and cooked rice. Spoon mixture into pumpkin. Replace top of pumpkin and place on centre of greased baking sheet. Bake 1 hour in preheated oven until pumpkin is tender. To serve, spoon some cooked pumpkin and meat filling onto luncheon plate or dining trays. Makes 6-8 servings.

Pumpkin cookies

- 1 1/2 cups pumpkin
- 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup salad oil
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 12 oz. pkg. chocolate chips

Mix in order given and drop by spoonfuls onto cookie sheet. Bake at 350°F.

A tasty treat for lunch boxes and Hallowe'en parties...

Pumpkin cupcakes

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten until frothy
- 1 cup mashed, cooked, unseasoned pumpkin or winter squash
- 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground ginger
- 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts (optional)

Cream butter and sugar until light, beat in eggs; then mix in pumpkin. Sift flour with baking powder, baking soda, salt and spices; add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Mix in nuts. Spoon into well-greased muffin tins, filling each about 3/4 full. Bake at 375°F for 25 to 30 minutes or until cupcakes begin to pull from sides of muffin tin and tops are priny to the touch. Cool cakes upright in the pans on wire racks for 5 minutes, then remove and cool to room temperature before serving. Frost or not as you wish, or decorate with orange icing and brown smarties.

Baked pumpkin seeds

Place pumpkin seeds on a cookie sheet. Melt 3 large tbsps. of butter and pour over the seeds. Sprinkle with salt. Cook for approximately 1 hour at 250°F (taste to test).

P.F. Health Auxiliary Pineview community news welcomes volunteers

by Louise Willett, Secretary
The Pine Falls Health Auxiliary carries on! The active membership and executive is approximately 15. The number of volunteers is extensive. Without the volunteers from the community, the auxiliary could not function.

Activities of the auxiliary remain as in the past years: daily convenience cart to patients on ward — manned by volunteers; drink machine — now located in the new hospital lobby; Crocus Tea held in May — with baking contributions — thanks to volunteers; annual membership driver — canvass done by volunteers — membership fee is now $2.00; gift cupboard is situated in the hospital lobby — all articles are either knitted or sewn by volunteers; auxiliary cook book — very popular item — price $5.00.

Besides fundraising projects, the auxiliary provides tray decorations for patients at Christmas. Christmas toys and gifts to the pediatric ward. An engraved silver spoon is given to the first New Year's baby.

A jacuzzi tub which was purchased by the auxiliary for the old hospital is being stored and is to be installed in our personal care home.

Large donations were made by the auxiliary to the Personal Care Home Fund over the past three years. This past year the auxiliary has held its funds with the intention of providing something special for the Personal Care Home on the completion of same.

The auxiliary helped out with the tour of the new hospital when it was first opened to the public in late March. With the extended hospital facility and personal care home the auxiliary is investigating the feasibility of operating a "candy stripper" program.

The auxiliary meetings are the fourth Tuesday of every month — 2:00 p.m. in the hospital board room.

We would appreciate it if you would become an active member. Please show your interest — contact the following executive members — they will welcome your attendance at the meetings: past president — S. Hansen, 367-2201; president — B. Kaushal, 367-2101; treasurer — G. Pitre, 367-8730; public relations — M. Frayne, 367-2340; secretary — L. Willett, 367-2544.

Many thanks to everyone who helped to make 1987 a good year. We need your continued interest and your co-operation.

Las Vegas beckons quite a few of our locals each year. During the week of October 13 to the 18, Len Romano, Ray Lavallee, Marg Ford, Mae Lagasse, Jim and Wilma Deluca, Sonny and Marsha Sleeman, Don and Mary Romano and Don and Diane Chapel were trying their "luck" in Vegas. Wilma Deluca's sister, Edna Gretsinger and her husband Lorne, flew in from Bolivia to join the Delucas. While in Vegas the group stayed at the Holiday Inn and took in the "Roaring Twenties" production held at the hotel. The stars of the show were a versatile family of three, two brothers and a sister, who played several instruments including bappipes, clarinets, saxophones and banjos. The weather was super all week, in the eighties (F). No one struck it rich, but a good time was had by all.

Last Saturday, October 17 friends and family gathered to celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary of Margaret and Roger Pereux at the home of their son, Denise Pereux. They received many cards and letters from all over the country. Long distance phone calls came in from Roger's brother John and sister Edith in Gravelbourg, Sask., one from Roger's sister Terry and brother-in-law Sandy in Victoria, B.C., and one call from Donald and Irene Kemball of Medicine Hat, Alberta. In attendance at the party were Edward and Diane Pereux and their daughters Lisa and Jeanne from Kenora, Ont., and friends Bob and Pat Sellway and Vic and Judy Lund also from Kenora. Family also travelled from Winnipeg, brother Alain and wife Yolande, Roger's sister Marie Thibedeau and Marie's daughters Danielle and Joanne and friend. Many friends and neighbors from the community were also present, over 150 in number. The family presented Margaret and Roger with a microwave oven and stand. All guests enjoyed a delicious luncheon served by Renate Johnson.

Four local girls, skipped by Deb Berton of Pine Falls started the curling season off by participating in the annual Pembina ladies' bonspiel held in Winnipeg last weekend. The team didn't win a prize, but were fortunate to have bought the winning team in a calcutta which resulted in a cash prize of $80.00. Berton had on her team Marlene Watson, third; Gloria Borody, second; and Heather Abrahamson, lead. (This is one reporter who just happened to be in the right place at the right time!)

Thor and Bev Cronshaw just returned from a nine-day vacation in New York City. Thor's mother, Gwen Cronshaw of Gimli, cared for the children during their absence. Highlights of their vacation included the Broadway play "Cats".

Ann and Lloyd Cavers just returned from Aurora, Ontario, where they spent two weeks visiting with their son and daughter-in-law Michael and Jenefer Cavers and their son Stewart. The Cavers also visited Niagara Falls on a one-day trip. They enjoyed the Moscow Circus which toured Hamilton and journeyed to Toronto to see the play "Three Men on a Horse" directed by John Hirsch.

Grace Huhn has enjoyed the company of her son John, home from Endako, B.C. since early September. While John was here he was pleased to be visited by his godmother, Pauline Joncas of Baie Comeau, Quebec. Pauline babysat for Grace when the Huhn family lived in Baie Comeau. One can't mention the town without thinking of Baie Comeau's most famous resident — Brian Mulroney. It seems Grace's two daughters, Mary and Joan, when they were aged six and five respectively, schooled with Brian Mulroney's older sisters of the same age! Pauline Joncas was hoping to visit more people in our area, especially Al Majeau, another Baie Comeau native, but she had to shorten her visit when she was called home during the death of her mother aged 91.

Also visiting Grace Huhn this month were Katharine and Frank Wenski from Winnipeg, Grace and Gary Simmons from Pinawa and their children Brent and Melissa, Rev. Bob Burton and Margaret and their son Douglas.

Did you notice the new parking signs in Pine Falls? There are limited times allowed for parking on both sides of the street in front of the post office on Pine Street. Please take note.

Sharon Tremain — 25 years service

On October 1, 1987, the staff of the Pine Falls branch of the Royal Bank held a special dinner in honor of Sharon Tremain's 25th anniversary with the bank. Sharon was presented with a Gold Pendulum Mantel Clock from head office and a silver tray from the staff of the Pine Falls Branch. Sharon started October 1, 1962 at McCreary, Manitoba. On her first day at work her parents telephoned the bank close to 6 o'clock wondering where she was, as they assumed she would be home at 3 o'clock — "banking hours". From there she moved on to Newdale as an accountant; to Morden as assistant branch administrator; to Winkler to assist with the opening of a new branch; at Bertle as branch administrator and then on to Pine Falls where she is known as the "lone arranger" to her many customers. We wish Sharon many more rewarding years with the bank and know she will continue to be helpful with her clients' needs.

F.A. beauty shop attracts customers far and wide

by Jim Millar

There is a small beauty and barber shop nestled next to the band office in Fort Alexander which may be the friendliest place in the region. The coffee pot is always on and the owner, Lucy Fontaine, greets her customers with a warm smile on a cold day.

More than just a friendly meeting place, it is a place of business. And Lucy explains how she views the people who come to her shop. "My customers are my bread and butter, and I appreciate them."

Ron Scanlan, Indian Affairs economic development project officer hastens to point out that just such an attitude has earned her a reputation for excellent service and quality work. "Lucy has built quite a business since she opened her shop. She is a very skilled hairdresser and barber. There is ample evidence of her success — her customers come from as far away as fifty miles: Hole River, Little Black River, Grand Beach, Pine Falls, St. Georges, Selkirk. There are even a few like me who come from Winnipeg for an occasional trim."

Ron says he couldn't wish for a more conscientious or more cooperative client. "Her shop is always immaculate, she attends to her customers and makes everyone welcome. It is a real pleasure to visit. She has also been making some renovations to the place and has not had to borrow."

Lucy's Beauty Shop began seven years ago with a small loan from the department's economic development program, a loan from her equipment supplier and a grant from the Special ARDA program. In 1986, this was the first year that her business had not carried any debt.

"The business will never make her rich, but it puts food on the table and she's proud to make her own way, so she should be," says Scanlan.

Lucy Fontaine was born and educated in Fort Alexander and trained in Winnipeg at Pollock's Beauty School 12 years ago. She worked in Winnipeg for two-and-a-half years before moving to a shop in Pine Falls — close to home. There she worked for another two years being the only licensed operator on the premises. In 1979 the entrepreneurial spirit overtook her and she opened her own business on the Fort Alexander reserve.

But things were not to go smoothly. In 1980 soon after the shop opened she and her husband separated. Then in 1981 she was informed that she had cancer. Determined to go on, she survived surgery and is now one of those who can now look back gratefully on having overcome this disease.

One who feels deeply for those who have bigger burdens, she has often taken into her home those who needed help. She has fostered two infant nieces over the last few years, as well as two teenage girls. She now has a three year old adopted son and a ten month old baby as a foster child.

From Scanlan's point of view, "Times have not been easy for her but her persistence and belief in what she was doing are an inspiration for others. For sheer grit, there are few to match her."

Lucy feels that the department's economic development program has helped her immeasurably. "though I always knew I was not one of your biggest clients, I always got a visit when your officers were in the area. It wasn't just the financial support I received that was so important to me, it was the business advice, and particularly the moral support when times got tough."

Today Lucy says she feels "very, very proud".

"But though it is a relief to have my loans paid off and my business on a reasonably stable footing, I can still remember the times when I felt like giving up. Without Ron Scanlan, I would have."

Everyone Welcome.

RECREATION NEWS and VIEWS

by Peggy Boyle 367-2533

Do you play hockey or ringette — okay how about curling? Or, do you prefer to stay indoors all winter long coming out only for the necessities in life, like food, fuel and pay cheque?

Do you realize just how much activity is going on in and around this area?

Depending upon one's age, you have a multitude of choices.

If you aren't actively participating my bets are that you are spending your time either driving, picking up, dropping off or cheering on members of your family who are more involved!

There is minor hockey (travelling teams), as well as house league), ringette, figure skating (approx. 75 skaters). Then there is Brownies, Guides, Beavers, Cubs and Scouts, not to mention ballet lessons, music lessons, a 4-H club just starting up in St. Georges, and a gymnastics club in the early stages of formation as well.

Now for those of you over 16 there is commercial hockey league, old timers' hockey, Paper Kings hockey, bowling, curling (juniors too), sand bag leagues, cross-country skiing (juniors too), a newly formed bowhunters club, your basic regular fishing, hunting and snowmobiling, badminton, or just plain anything else you do to survive the winter months (like travelling to a warmer climate). (One should also keep in mind that this is a winter activity list only.)

In case that list of activities is not quite enough to drive you bananas, the recreation district would like to add a few more to complete the picture.

I have organized coaching courses Theory I and II on different weekends: Level I — Saturday, October 24 and Sunday, October 25; and Level II — Saturday, November 7 and Sunday, November 8 and again on Saturday, November 14.

How about a one-day quilting course (Saturday, October 24) or four evenings of learning the art of "cross-stitch" (Tuesday, October 20, 27, November 3 and 10). Maybe, an evening and full day to learn how to weave on a table loom or how about a full day first-aid course (Saturday, November 7).

Now, if you still have some spare time and know of something you would like to be doing — give me a call — maybe we can arrange a course or workshop for you. If you're not into workshops how about visiting a library or even donning your woolies and cheering someone on at one of the rinks in town!

If you have any questions or would like further information about any of the courses listed — give me a call.

I would also like to apologize ahead of time if I have not listed a winter activity you are involved in — but do give me a call and let me know what I'm missing.

POLICE REPORT

At 7:05 p.m. on the evening of October 16, RCMP investigated the report of a disturbance on the south shore of the Fort Alexander Reserve. As a result of the investigation a 27-year-old man was arrested and charged with causing a disturbance.

At 1:30 a.m. on Sunday, October 18, RCMP examined a disturbance on Art Street in Powerview. They arrested a 30-year-old man and charged him with breach of probation. This probation included a court order for him to abstain from the intake of alcohol.

Seven people were charged with impaired driving.
