

Ag. burning causes problems for Natural Resources

by Dean Henrickson

According to Natural Resources officer Jim Geisbrecht, the agricultural burning by farmers of stubble at this time of year causes problems for them.

"It's time consuming and it takes resources away from the natural fires that could have been prevented," he said.

Other problems with agricultural burning is the peat fires that burn underground.

"Peat fires are hard to control because they can lay dormant for months before they flame up again," Geisbrecht said.

The peat moss fires depend mostly upon their depth. Jim Geisbrecht said that most of the time you can dig it out by hand with men and shovels but some times they have to be dug up with heavy machinery.

If the fire is severe enough they have to dig right down to mineral soil.

At this time one peat moss fire is being "actioned" in Thalberg. There is also a problem with this fire because the landowner can't be found.

Geisbrecht said that he has received very few complaints so far about peat moss burning and is relieved because the Natural Resources Department can't do anything about fires unless they are in the wooded district during the burning season, and they have to get a permit.

Natural fires "actioned" by our department has totalled around 175 this year with 21 being acted upon this past week. Ten of those being in Lac du Bonnet and another five in the Bissett area.

Of those 21 fires none were major and most involved less than one hectare of land.

According to Geisbrecht, Sunday nights electrical storm was "one of the worst lightning storms this year."

This was also especially bad because with the large number of lightning strikes the rainfall was very spotty.

"We've had 30 mm here, but four miles south and eight miles north there was virtually no rain," he said.

On Monday morning there had been only one fire spotted due to the storm up in Bissett.

Pat Kemball wins Grand Marnier Classic

by Dean Henrickson

Pat Kemball won big at the Grand Marnier Classic at the Elmhurst Golf Club last Friday.

He shot a two-over par 215, after 54 holes.

The winning cheque for $1,000.00 now brings his Manitoba Professional Golf Association Tournament earnings to over $5,500.00.

Kemball is now setting his sights on the Canadian Assistants Championships at Gallaghers Canyon in Kelowna, B.C. in September.

A quote from a Winnipeg Sun article says, "The victory was the John Blumberg assistant pro's seventh and most lucrative of the year."

Kemball started off with a five-shot lead, but slipped in the final round to a three-over par 74. However, he did manage to double the par three 14th hole, bogeyed the par four 15th and 16th holes and parred the final holes for the victory.

5600 nominations for Air Canada's Heart of Gold

Toronto — More than 5600 nominations were received in the four month Air Canada Heart of Gold Award program, the Canadian Community Newspaper Association reported recently.

The program, run by the CCNA and its member newspapers across Canada in Partnership with Air Canada, aimed at recognizing the contributions of many Canadians in helping others and improving the quality of life in their communities. Nominations closed July 31.

Judging panels, composed of community newspaper editors and publishers, are presently sifting through the nominations to determine regional award recipients. CCNA spokesman Bruce Renner of Nova Scotia said the nominations covered every aspect of community life including many extraordinary and unexpected contributions.

"The stories we've received were both heart warming and inspirational. They came from every corner of the country. It's a real awakening to see the exceptional degree of commitment and dedication towards helping others," Renner said.

British Columbia and Yukon lead nominations with over 1,700. Ontario produced 1,200 plus nominations followed by Quebec French and English with almost 1000; Atlantic Canada and Alberta each with over 670; Manitoba each with more than 350 and Saskatchewan topping 300. The total is expected to exceed 6000 when the final counts are in.

The CCNA expects more than 100 Canadians will be receiving Heart of Gold Award recognition at regional presentations scheduled for this fall.

Wild rice harvest set for Whiteshell

Natural Resources Minister Jack Penner has announced that the wild rice harvest in Whiteshell Provincial Park is set to get underway August 20.

This year's harvest will again be managed by the designation of zones north of Highway 44 in the park. This will allow for hand and mechanical harvesting seasons within three zones and the Crowduck Lake South Bay Special Project Area.

Penner said the south bay of Crowduck Lake, which produces an important seed supply for the propagation of wild rice, has had a crop failure for the third year. Therefore, only hand harvesting will be allowed in this area for 1988.

Zones A and B include the larger lakes that have land access. The harvesting for these zones was to begin August 20. There will be no mechanical harvesting in Zone A. The mechanical harvesting season for Zone B will get underway September 3.

Since Zone C has lakes that have an earlier ripening date, the season is open to hand harvesters as soon as the crop is ready for harvesting. The mechanical harvesting was scheduled to start August 20.

Maps showing the various zones are available from the Whiteshell and Winnipeg Natural Resources offices.

Background to a festival

by Dean Henrickson

The Seventh Annual 4P Festival is around the corner, being just over a week away and this year, as all past festivals, will be bigger and better than ever.

This also means that for the 4P directors and staff the task to plan and organize the event was also bigger, although not necessarily better.

A festival, no matter what the size, takes a lot of work and comes together only through many stages.

First, planning and the setting of objectives must be made. This is a hard task but comes easier after annual festivals have been going on for a while, since a general guideline from the previous year can be looked at.

The planning is also hard because this is the very first thing that a new board of directors does together. The new faces and new ideas sometimes cause a conflict with the ones who have done it before.

Organizing and fund raising become the next two priorities. These can also be on-going, since new ideas can come through for new events and with many cutbacks to funding and grants, money is never in surplus.

Promotion and publicity is then looked at, for no festival can grow or be recognized without advertising to some degree.

A major stage of the process is the budgeting and accounting stage. Without proper budgeting and accounting a festival with high expenses and low income or revenue can never become an annual event or will be a much harder task for the next year's board.

A festival that is run in the red will start off the next year with a hard task ahead before any planning can be done. If such a problem continues for a few years, then volunteers for being on the festival board or being directors, become scarce and puts more of a load upon the few left.

Finally, an evaluation of all these stages and control over each one is done on a continuing basis. This control will help prevent a small problem from becoming a large problem and the evaluation will help next year's festival overcome "hidden" obstacles or problems so that the festival can grow.

With the Government's new attention to Tourism in Manitoba and throughout Canada, we should also pay attention to those who help create that tourism: the volunteers and staff of the festival.

Warren speaks . . .

Tick disease heading here

Manitobans probably know more about mosquitoes and ticks than anybody else in Canada; after all, we live with them every year.

But this summer has been strange:

No rainfall, few mosquitoes; a drought, lots of ticks.

You have heard and seen the stories about Manitoba's moose population, the unfortunate animals dying from mental fatigue after being invaded by thousands of ticks.

But there is a greater danger as I discovered after talking with officials at the American Council on Science and Health in New York earlier this month. Ticks, carrying a "human disease" are en route to Canada, namely Manitoba. And we had better be ready for it, not only as individuals, but as health authorities, governments and local clinics.

The lady who attempts to safeguard all of us, Manitoba's Director of Preventative Diseases Dr. Margaret Fast, tells me that Lyme Disease has never been diagnosed in this province, but that it is possible. Given the weather we've had this year, you might as well watch for it.

The tick problem and the effect it has had on our moose and deer population put me on to Lyme Disease, something I had never heard about.

But it presents us with a scare.

Lyme Disease was discovered in 1975 in Connecticut. Deer ticks pass it on to humans and more than 5,000 cases have now been reported in North America.

However, that figure is distorted, because many states south of the border do not require reporting of the disease to public health authorities.

But why Manitoba? That's an easy one to answer.

More than 90% of the reported cases have occurred in seven states — and those cases are creeping closer north to Canada, and Manitoba.

Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin — last year, Minnesota. The early reports came from wooded, coastal areas, but this has been compounded by the latest developments — scientists have now discovered that migratory birds are carrying the infected ticks.

In fact, deer ticks have now been discovered alive and well in suburban lawns, particularly new housing developments at the fringe of woodlands.

The signs and symptoms?

Within 30 days of a bite from an infected tick, a large rash, particularly on the thighs, in the groin area and under our arms. The rash is accompanied by fatigue, headache, stiff neck, muscle aches and general malaise.

But the later manifestations of Lyme Disease are the most deadly:

Some people suffer inflammation of the brain and facial paralysis; others undergo cardiac abnormalities and often require a pacemaker.

Stage Three, as it is called, is mainly arthritis, which may take two years to appear after the rash. Some patients go through loss of memory, mood swings and other neurological abnormalities.

Medical science has produced effective antibiotics for this tick disease, but we should be concerned in Manitoba because the insect-like creature has a two-year life cycle.

They remain dormant through the fall and the cold of winter.

The female tick deposits eggs at unknown locations in the spring and they hatch into larvae one month later.

Lyme Disease can be deadly for the sufferer. But forewarned, is forewarned. It's coming.

DO YOU REMEMBER?...

by Dean Henrickson

On September 4, 1955 a Production party by Abitibi was put on in Pine Falls to celebrate a record 400 tons average daily production.

The true figure was 403.9 tons average for June 1955, but this record was surpassed by a figure of 404.7 tons average in August of the same year. During the party, Vice President, R. J. Askin gave reasons for the record to the innovation of the vacuum pick-up in the mill.

The party took the form of cocktails in the Curling Rink at Pine Falls, dinner in the Hockey Arena and a dance in the Recreation Centre Hall.

According to a news clipping, after dinner speakers included Vice President R.J. Askin; Mill Manager/Chairman R.L. Fraser; Woods Manager W.C. Harrison and General Superintendent J.H. Tremblay.

Old Pine Falls swimming pool on Winnipeg River

Back during the fifties a swimming pool in Pine Falls was constructed on the Winnipeg River on the site of what is now called "the swimming hole" by residents.

This area is across the bay from the Pine Falls pump house. The pool was constructed of wood and was basically a boardwalk with railings on the outer edge that stretched out into the bay and made a square at the end.

This squared off area of the Winnipeg River was only about 15' by 25' but from a picture from an old news clipping it seemed to attract quite a number of people.

If anyone has some historical facts about this area or the residents please bring them into the Review office.

FOCUS ON:

Third provincial conference helps motivate farm women

by Marilyn Zarecki
Home Economist
Manitoba Agriculture
Beausejour, 268-1411

Today, when we think of a farm woman we see a sharp, stylish woman whose appearance and social skills are indistinguishable from her city cousins — a talented and versatile woman and business partner with her husband in a farming operation.

The farm woman is an exceptional person whose contribution to the farming business is becoming highly visible and recognized by people inside and outside agriculture. But the farm woman faces many challenges in her day to day life both on the farm and off the farm.

The theme of the third Provincial Farm Women's Conference is "continuing with the Challenge". The conference takes place at the International Inn in Winnipeg on November 8, 9 and 10, 1988.

Opening the two and a half day conference will be Marie Salway, formerly of Neepawa, now residing in B.C. Mrs. Salway will be speaking about managing in uncertain times — how does a farm woman keep her chin up in these economically difficult times.

The closing speaker will be Rae Kabernick, who is a farm partner from Sanford. Rae will speak about farm women being part of the team — taking the challenge home.

In between these two speakers there are six select-a-sessions: The 25 Hour Day, Building Strengths in Our Children, Safety That Counts, Marketing Matters, Caretakers of the Earth and Each Other, Exploring Opportunities for Farm Families. The two general sessions will be a National Film Board production "Prairie Women" with director Barbara Evans attending. The second is titled "Rural Promotion — Let's Cause a Commotion" — how the rural community can work together to change the farm image with Dave Wreford, editor of Country Guide, Diane Wreford, CBC Radio noon, and Marlene Cowling, 2nd vice-president of Keystone Agricultural Producers.

The conference's registration is limited to 500. To enable representation from the whole province, quotas have been established based on the five agriculture regional areas. Each region is able to send 100 people. So far, Eastern Region only has 42 people registered and is allowed 100! If you were considering piling into the car and having a fun, as well as educational time with your friends, register immediately, before August 26.

Registration fee is $40.00 and includes meals. Rooms are extra but the cost can be cut down by sharing with others.

Late insect outbreak in alfalfa seed crop

The Beausejour Manitoba Agriculture office reports that in the past ten days, a heavy and late infestation of plant and lygus bugs is showing up in most alfalfa seed crops in the Lac du Bonnet, Whitemouth, Stead and Beausejour districts.

Where the crops are mature enough to swath desiccate, it would probably not pay to consider spraying. However, if the crops still has a lot of green pods, then spraying would be recommended.

Producers are urged to check their fields for the threshold levels (over 25 per sweep) and if pods are still green, they should check with their farm supply dealer or ag office at 268-1411 for recommendations on what to spray.

Hints for beef producers with hay and pasture shortage

While this district has fared much better than south of No. 1 highway with respect to hay and pasture supplies, we still must decide on keeping calves and reducing cow numbers vs. buying hay and/or leasing pasture.

Where pasture is short we recommend creep feeding calves, starting at least one month before weaning. Be sure the ration supplied is balanced for the calves' requirements of energy, protein, minerals and vitamins.

Consider early weaning. Four hundred pound (plus) calves can be weaned safely, and will allow the cow to maintain fleshing with a maintenance ration.

The cow herd should be supplemented with hay (or straw) and mineral free choice, to ensure maximum milk production and to keep the cows in good flesh, prior to weaning the calves.

All cows should be pregnancy checked for sure this fall. Why waste feed all winter on open cows?

There needs to be more emphasis on feed testing to ensure the cows are getting enough energy to maintain body weight and condition all winter.

A lot of sweet clover has been cut for hay. This has to be watched carefully. Any sign of mold can mean dicoumarin poisoning, and some big losses.

The decision to sell calves (and maybe cows) must be balanced between price of weaning calves vs. the supply of feed. If one has to buy feed you can expect to pay 3 to 4¢/lb. for hay and 5 to 7¢/lb. for concentrated feed (grain and supplement).

What about a third cut this year?

Alfalfa is under severe stress this year. To provide the best possible chance for survival in 1989, we recommend cutting it for hay no later than August 15 to August 30. It can also be cut after the first killing frost (usually late September) because the plants will be dormant and should not start regrowth before winter sets in.

Comparative feed value of hay and greenfeed

The following compares feed values of forages and bases the price of alfalfa at $70/tonne (or $80/ton):

	% Protein	% TDN	Value of Alfalfa ($/ton)	Price/Tonne ($/ton)
Alfalfa	17.8	59	100	$70 ($80)
grass	13.7	56	80	$56 ($64)
hay	10.4	50	61	$41 ($49)
Harley greenfeed (2)	10.0	60	71	$50 ($57)
greenfeed	10.0	57	61	$43 ($49)

Fairy True

A little girl asked her mother whether all fairy tales began with "Once upon a time."
"No," replied the mother. "Today, most of them begin with 'If I am elected!'"

Canada thistle control requires caution this fall

Post-harvest control of Canada thistle has been complicated by this year's drought but there are several ways around the problem, says Manitoba Agriculture weed specialist Mark Goodwin.

The problem is actually two-fold, he said. First, chemical control is not as effective as usual because the weeds are not actively growing and will not absorb the herbicide. As well, underground buds may be dormant and may not be affected by the product.

Secondly, mechanical control is touchy because the low yields resulting from the drought mean little trash cover. Tilling now destroy what little cover there is, leaving the field a prime target for wind erosion.

Goodwin recommends waiting for a rain and watching for new Canada thistle growth before spraying. He recommends one of the treatments listed on page 67 of the 1988 Chemical Guide to Weed Control (available at all ag rep offices), but says farmers should be warned that there are price variations between chemicals.

"There are huge price differences, and the more expensive ones are best suited to patch treatments," he said.

Goodwin also recommends following up the treatment in two to three weeks with cultivation, using a low-lift cultivator with wide shovels in order to leave trash above ground.

If another form of cultivation is used and the trash is turned under, he suggests sowing strips of oats or rye as a fall cover crop.

4P fishing derby jumps into forefront of all derbies

by Tim Breton
Chairperson

The 4P Fishing Derby has jumped into the forefront of all provincial fishing derbies. A fantastic response was shown by the local fishermen when the derby tickets went on sale at 7:00 a.m. on Monday, August 22. The line-up began as early as 5:00 a.m., led by a couple of local die-hards. All tickets were sold in 15-20 minutes. The success of this derby stems from huge contributions from our sponsors, such as the boat and motor that was donated by Wolf Kraft at Hillside Power Products in association with Fisher Marine and Mercury Outboards. This is one derby prize you won't forget.

With a hearty thank you to all sponsors who have donated to the derby. There are so many reasons why the derby is so successful. From the $2,000.00 first prize to the roast beef supper, this derby will not be surpassed by another until next year's derby.

The Coors 4P Pickeral Derby committee strives for excellence in hospitality. Rest assured on Sunday morning bright and early, you'll find — hospitality second to none! Some of our sponsors:

Ojibway Jr. lacrosse team gives Regina Raiders lesson

The Fort Alexander Ojibway Jr. Lacrosse team gave the visiting Regina Jr. Raiders a lesson in the fundamentals of field lacrosse this past weekend at the Powerview School field.

The Ojibway Jrs. won both games of their two-game series by commanding scores of 15 to 5 and 12 to 1.

The Ojibway Jrs. used this series as a confidence booster for their final box lacrosse game which was to be played Tuesday, August 23 in Winnipeg. The Ojibway Jrs. were instructed by their coach to work on passing, team play and shooting. As well, several younger players and rookies were called up to practice, to give them a taste of the real game.

Game one started at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 20. The field was muddy from the early morning thunder storm, but that didn't slow down the Ojibway Jrs. They scored in the first minute of the game and went on to crush the Raiders 15 to 5. Joe Fontaine led the winners with five goals. Myles Morrisseau scored three times (after leaving the goal to play attack). Norbert Fontaine, Jason Fontaine and Roland Bruyere scored two each. Kelvin Henderson notched a single.

Game two at 1:30 p.m. was much the same as the first with the Ojibway Jrs. dominating all aspects of the game, leading to an easy 12-1 victory.

The goaltender, Myles Morrisseau, turned attacker, scoring four goals before returning to the

The closing ceremonies for the '88 Provincial Summer Games were held in Pinawa on the expansive lawn of Kelsey House in the centre of Pinawa. The participants of the Beausejour portion of the games were bussed to Pinawa for the event. It is estimated that there were approximately 1000 persons assembled. Although the winds were stiff and the sky threatening, the promised adverse weather remained at a distance until the ceremonies were concluded and trophies awarded.

New this year was the "Break Free" trophy awarded to the region with the largest percentage of its team pledging to be smoke free for the duration of the games. This was won by Eastman with 171 of 178 participants making the pledge. Trophy was awarded by Mr. Darren Praznik, MLA for Lac du Bonnet, and was received by Marion Mitchell, coordinator for the Eastman Sport Development Association.

The Regional Games participation award was won by Interlake and presented by Mr. Cecil Coz of the Manitoba Games Council. Interlake had the largest per capita participation at its regional games of any region in the province. This represents a strong and growing sports program in that region. Mr. Larry Desjardins, provincial Minister of Sport from 1974 to 1978 and 1982 to 1987, presented the most improved trophy to the Winnipeg team. Their performance in these games was measured against their showing at the Summer Games held in Neepawa during 1976.

The Manitoba Games Shield, awarded to the team with the best showing at the '88 Provincial Summer Games was awarded to the Eastman Region. The eventual winner was not decided until just before the awards ceremony. It was Eastman's strong showing in the last two tennis finals that pushed Eastman past Interlake who had been leading to that point.

Local athletes made tough competitors during the games as they made their stand in five events.

Tom Paukovic, Jim Dawson, George Gold, Lynn Lazaruk and Joanne Lazaruk took on golfing; Kristen Paukovic, Nicole Grenier, Daryl Houston, Ian Earle and Alain Earle made a splash in the swimming events. David Laforce raced through track and field; Bill Furdyk cruised through the sailing event; and the Youth Soccer team ran to the limits in their event.

The beginning

Darryl Kastiuk of Beausejour had the honor of lighting the torch that would burn throughout the duration of the games. The huge torch was made by Ahiitibi-Price in Pine Falls and donated to the games committee who in turn turned it over to the Sport Directorate for future major sporting events.

The end

Sonali Bera of Pinawa was chosen for the privilege of running the Summer Games torch that final stretch to the closing ceremonies held on Sunday in Pinawa.

Zapped golf ball travels further

Atomic Energy of Canada Limited has developed a Gamma Irradiated Golf Ball. They are intended to stimulate interest in, and discussion about radiation processing and its many applications.

As is the case with all other irradiated products, they are completely safe to handle and use.

Although they are visually no different from untreated golf balls, they have more "bounce". Our very scientific in-house tests with a variety of brand name golf balls, suggests that the irradiated golf ball has between three and eight percent more bounce. The irradiation process changes the molecular structure of the balls latex cores, so that larger molecules are formed. This causes the increased bounce. The balls receive about the same amount of radiation (300 Kilorads) as would be used to eliminate salmonella bacteria in fresh poultry.

Whitshell Nuclear Research invites all Manitoba golfers to hit an Atomic Golf Ball. Drop your golf ball off at the Pro Shop at the Transcona Golf Course by September 19. Tape your name and phone number to the ball. When the process is complete that ball will be returned to Transcona and you will be contacted.

Golfers are also invited to drop their golf ball off at WNRE Pinawa with name and phone number taped, to be picked up when processed.

NOTE: The Canadian and U.S. Golf Associations have not yet ruled on the use of the gamma processed golf balls in tournament play.

NEIGHBORLY NEWS

by Fred McGuinness
Box 1020, Brandon R7A 6A3

Canadians need a crash course in manners

On our first day in junior high we lined up in the auditorium for a lecture on respect for the dead.

The principal explained that our schoolyard was flanked by the highway which led to the only cemetery. On a regular basis funeral processions passed during afternoon recess. We would show respect...or else.

The result was a practice that none of us can ever forget. At the approach of a cortege we stood stockstill, heads bowed. Over the years many mourners mentioned that they felt they had passed a playground filled with statues.

I think of this every time I see a funeral procession, like this morning. On my way into town I saw one approaching and I pulled to the side, waiting for it to pass. In the next few minutes 18 vehicles passed me, one joining me on the shoulder and the rest barreling right through. One, a blue van bearing Saskatchewan plates, its rear door covered with stickers, like, "Are you washed in the blood of the lamb?" Religious this driver may be; courteous he's not.

I mention these personal experiences today because of an editorial in the Virden Empire-Advance; This editor explains a local by-law which covers the conduct of the funeral procession. Provided certain conditions are met, "...vehicles in the procession shall have the right-of-way over all other vehicles..."

This editorial is motivated by the editor's recent observation of "people pulling into the middle of a procession. This surely is not necessary. We are all busy, but not so busy that we cannot wait a few minutes to let the procession pass."

A week after that editorial on funerals in the Virden paper, a local physician wrote a guest comment for the same weekly on the subject of accident scenes.

Two fatalities in quick succession caused the doctor to ask, "What did you go out to see? Did you hope to catch a glimpse of the body trapped in the truck? I had to view it and I would much rather have been at home."

"When these unfortunate accidents occur, help by staying at home and reading about it in the paper or watching it on television."

While I'm on the subject of courtesy, let me tell you of some recent mail from central Alberta. The writer is a retired teacher who is genuinely concerned that in our speeded-up society we've forgotten many thoughtful acts which, in an earlier era added a touch of grace to our human relations.

"Today I see youngsters who fail to hold a door for an older person, for example, or who fail to acknowledge an act of courtesy. Some of them seem not to know the value of the word please. When I was teaching, we never taught manners in the classroom, for it wasn't necessary. It was done at home. Today I'm not so certain."

Now, I'll unload a grievance of my own. Yes, I know that today's males favor baseball caps, but no, I cannot accept the idea that they are to be worn in restaurants. Every time I see a man in an eatery, acting as if his cap were stapled to his dome, I wish I could sentence him to memorize the first ten chapters of Dorothy Dix.

Obituary

MARCEL LEON DUPONT
On Monday, August 15, 1988 at the Pine Falls General Hospital after a lengthy illness with diabetes, Mr. Marcel Dupont, aged 78 years, husband of Emelda.

Mr. Dupont was born on January 19, 1910 in Paris, France, and came to Canada at the age of 10. He lived and was raised in the St. Georges area except for 10 years that he spent in Port Albernie, B.C. He served overseas during the Second World War, returning to St. Georges after the war.

He will be sadly missed and fondly remembered by his family, Eva and her husband Rene Paradis, Irene and her husband Trefle Gareau, Jeanne and her husband George Kemball, Claude and his wife Shannon Dupont; 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his sister Madeleine in France and a brother Raymond in Quebec. He was predeceased by his son Roger on August 12, 1968.

Viewing followed by funeral mass was celebrated on Friday, August 19 at 10:00 a.m. in the St. Georges Roman Catholic Church, Rev. Fr. Rejean Belanger the celebrant. Interment followed in the parish cemetery.

Flowers gratefully declined. In lieu of flowers, if friends so desired, donations could be made to the Canadian Diabetes Association, 173 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg, R3B 0S1.

A special thanks to his relatives for their care and kindness over the years and special thanks to his homemakers, Helen, Bella, Doreen and Lili.

Sobering Funeral Chapel, Beausejour, in care of arrangements, phone 1-268-3510.

Cards of Thanks

My recent illness proved that God is indeed with us, in the comfort, caring and prayers of friends and family. I cannot begin to fully express my gratitude to all the wonderful people who sent cards, flowers and other meaningful wishes for a fast recovery while I was in hospital, and since I've come home. Your kind thoughts have given me strength through many difficult moments, and I'm happy to say that I am doing very well. Thank you to all of you, my dear friends and family, and especially my daughters, who were with me every step of the way in hospital, and my precious husband, Oscar, who was always with me in my heart (a heart that's getting stronger by the day).

I must also commend the staff at the St. Boniface Hospital — my surgeon Dr. Tesky, my ICU nurses, and all the nurses on the recovery ward — for the compassionate and excellent care I received during my stay. Keep up the great work!

The GARDEN PLOT

by Cathleen Thurston

Every year I like to try something new to widen my meagre gardening experience. This year I grew with success (so far) eggplants.

Eggplants grow wild in India where it was first cultivated approximately 4000 years ago. They vary greatly in shape and color but the large purple ones seen in the supermarkets are the only kind grown commercially.

Eggplants come from the large nightshade family which includes tomatoes, belladonna, petunias, potatoes and tobacco.

They should be started indoors six to nine weeks before setting out. Transplants need warm soil and warm temperature (70 - 85 degrees F) to grow well — wait until at least one week after the average date of the last frost before setting out. Or you can use hot caps.

Plant them 18" apart; place a shovelful of well-rotted manure or compost, mixed with bonemeal and wood ash into each planting hole to give them a boost.

Apply a side-dressing of fertilizer about one month after planting and again one month later. To provide magnesium for faster development of fruits, mix two tablespoons of epsom salts with one gallon of water; apply one pint to each plant when blooms begin.

Mulching and irrigating during dry weather will prevent wilt disease.

Card of Thanks

Many thanks to all who attended my grand 90th birthday party put on by my daughters and friends on Saturday, August 13 in Pineview Lodge. Many thanks to all who brought flowers, gifts and cards; also to those who sent cards by mail. A special thanks to those who put on the very nice tea, etc. It was all sincerely appreciated.
Mrs. Annie Patterson

Eggplants attract Colorado Potato Beetles better than potatoes do and are very vulnerable to them when young. Spray or dust with Sevin or Diazinon when the bugs first appear and weekly as needed. Or plants between rows of green beans which repel the beetles.

The fruit should be ready in 75 - 95 days of planting. Pick when they are 1/4 - 3/4 their mature size - push on the side with the ball of your thumb, when the indentation does not spring back, they're ready to pick.

If the seeds are brown it is past the eating stage. The fruit should be highly glossy. Never twist the fruit off, cut it with a sharp knife, leaving a short stem on the fruit.

PFRA News:

The next meeting of the PFRA will be held Tuesday, September 13, at 7:00 p.m. at the Golden Leisure Club.

Happy harvesting!

Upland game bird limits and season are extended

Natural Resources Minister Jack Penner has announced increased bag limits and an extension of the fall hunting season for sharp-tailed grouse, ruffed grouse, spruce grouse, Hungarian partridge and ptarmigan.

"Upland bird populations have increased in the province and possession limits have been increased accordingly," the minister noted.

The daily bag limit is a maximum of six sharp-tailed grouse, six spruce grouse, six ruffed grouse, and four Hungarian partridges. The possession limit is three times the daily bag limit. Ptarmigan limits are 10 birds daily or a possession of 30.

The upland game bird season has been extended three weeks to close at the same time as waterfowl and deer season. During the deer season, grouse hunter must also wear a blaze orange hat and 2,500 square centimeters of blaze orange above the waist.

The hunting season for all species opens September 1 and closes December 17 in northern areas, 12 to 36, will be open from September 16 to November 26. Ptarmigan season opens September 1 and ends February 11, 1989, in game hunting areas 1 to 11. Hunting is permitted from half hour before sunrise until half hour after sunset.

The license fee for a Manitoba resident is $7, a Canadian resident $45 and non-residents of Canada, $85.

Hunters are reminded that the hunting of upland game birds is prohibited in Riding Mountain National Park, Birds Hill and Haudro Provincial Park, Oak Hammock Wildlife Management Area and Game Hunting Area 38.
