WRPD unveils annexation plans

by Marlene Watson

At a joint Village of Powerview/LGD of Alexander council meeting, Municipal Planner Ron Jackson unveiled the Winnipeg River Planning District's (WRPD) development plan for the area between Powerview and St. Georges.

The development plan will include a parks and recreation designation on a large strip of land at the northwest corner of PTH 11 and PTH 304. Part of this area is presently zoned rural residential and will stay that way.

The southwest corner of PTH 11 and PTH 304 is presently zoned commercial and will remain as such, with the lands south of HWY 11 and east of 304 designated agricultural with possible future urban expansion. Some existing zoning of rural residential will remain in effect for this area as well.

The development decision has not been formally passed by WRPD resolution, but the two councils were called together for support in principle of the development plan that also presented a proposal for annexation.

The proposed areas to be acquired by the Village of Powerview through annexation include LGD lands west of PTH 304 and north and south of HWY 11 (see map). Another strip of LGD land between Powerview and Pine Falls is also included in the Powerview annexation package.

One condition was set forth by the WRPD; before the Village of Powerview can apply to the Municipal board to annex the proposed areas, the Village must first expand or relocate their existing lagoon, and thus be in a position to supply sewer services to the annexed areas.

The planning district board was hoping to end a year long delay in their development plan with the April 10 presentation, a presentation they felt would be agreeable to both councils, but the plan was met with mix-

LGD chooses not to vote on WRPD development plan

by Marlene Watson

The LGD of Alexander council chose not to vote on a development plan and annexation proposal as presented by the WRPD at a joint council meeting, a vote they had previously agreed to take and forward the results to the WRPD.

At a joint April 10 council meeting, the WRPD revealed the development plan for the corridor between Powerview and St. Georges, and presented a proposal for annexation of Powerview of LGD lands north and south of PTH No. 11 and west of PTH No. 304, on the condition that the Village of Powerview first expand or relocate their existing lagoon.

Reeve Richard Lowing, Nick Roman and Mary Anne Grewinski sit on the five member WRPD board and Roger Bouvier acts as board secretary. The WRPD had met in-camera during the February and March monthly meetings to reach the decision which they unveiled to both councils.

At that joint meeting, Nick Roman brought up new topics and would not vote as an LGD councillor to support in principle an idea he had supported as a WRPD board member.

When the joint meeting reached no unanimous approval by both councils, it was

WRPD unveils annexation plan

Before any of the WRPD plan was unveiled, Powerview Mayor Elie Trudell asked that Peter Raymond excuse himself from the meeting because of a conflict of interest.

The Village mayor produced copies of the Conflict of Interest Municipal Act pertaining to Peter Raymond stating that if he held more than a 5% share of Papertown Holdings (a business located in the proposed annexed area), he would have to refrain from discussing, voting or influencing the decisions of council in regards to the matter.

I.G.D. resident administrator and WRPD secretary Roger Bouvier interjected that the decision for Raymond to leave would have to be entirely Raymond's own and that no one could ask or force him to leave. Raymond initially made the decision to stay, but later removed himself when, after voicing his opinion on a particular matter, Reeve Richard Loring cautioned him to be quiet.

Municipal planner speaks on behalf of WRPD

Municipal Planner Ron Jackson emphasized that the first stage of the plan would be for Powerview to upgrade and relocate their lagoon. "Once the lagoon is moved, Powerview would still have to apply to the Municipal board for annexation, at which time public hearings will be held."

Once the annexation request is in the hands of the Municipal board, public hearing notifications will be sent by the Municipal board to all residents directly living in the area to be annexed. At the hearings, all district residents and council members can register concerns either for or against the annexation.

After Jackson's presentation, WRPD board member and I.G.D. councillor Nick Roman stated that he wanted the people living in the area in question to be asked whether they want to be annexed to Powerview or not before the application for annexation is made. Roman also pointed out that once the Powerview lagoon is moved, 200 lots would become available for Powerview to develop within its existing boundaries.

In response, WRPD board member and Village of Powerview councillor Alain Tardiff

"Why in advance?" asked the shapely showgirl.

questioned Roman as to why he had not discussed this viewpoint earlier. "Nothing about this was discussed at the WRPD meetings."

I.G.D. councillors Ken Danwich supported Roman's view and said that the people's response was necessary before proceeding. Roger Bouvier noted that the I.G.D. had been getting a fair amount of requests for sewer and water from the people living in the area in question. "Where are those people going to get sewer and water from?" And he answered his own question by responding, "From Powerview." Bouvier also pointed out that either way, public hearings would be held and the people would have a chance to register their feelings.

Ron Jackson interjected that the development plan decision was up to the WRPD board and was not dependent on whether the concept was acceptable to both councils. Jackson stated that the WRPD wanted to have a draft of the development plan put forward this summer.

Reeve Loring noted that the WRPD's reason for holding the joint meeting was to secure both council's tentative approval subject to public hearings.

After much discussion and no headway, both councils agreed to vote on the matter separately at their regular council meetings and forward that voting decision to the WRPD.

Annexation talks held over the past year

The Village and the I.G.D. have been struggling to reach a decision on annexation for the past year within the first joint council meeting held on February 22, 1988 and another on June 6.

At the July 12 council meeting, the Village of Powerview received petitions from residents of the I.G.D. of Alexander requesting annexation to Powerview. Shortly after this action, the I.G.D. made an unofficial verbal offer to the Village for the annexation of land between Powerview and Pine Falls.

The Village councillors rejected this offer, opting to support the request of previous petitioners of the I.G.D.

The Village council passed a resolution at their December 13, 1988 council meeting to apply to the Municipal board of Manitoba for annexation of all lands west of Flett's Point Road to the Eastern Boundaries of the Village of Powerview, and territories east of Pine Falls to the western boundary of the Village of Powerview, all areas lying within the I.G.D. of Alexander.

Following this move by Powerview, the I.G.D. of Alexander reopened the joint annexation talks and Powerview notified the Municipal board to table the annexation application until further notice.

After a joint council meeting at the Papertown Motor Inn on March 20, at which time the municipal planner was in attendance as was a staff member of the provincial Municipal Affairs office, a decision was reached to leave the matter in the hands of the WRPD, of which three I.G.D. councillors are members, as are two Village councillors. Roger Bouvier acts as WRPD secretary, and it was agreed that Juanita Smith (Village secretary-treasurer) would sit in on the WRPD meetings in an advisory capacity.

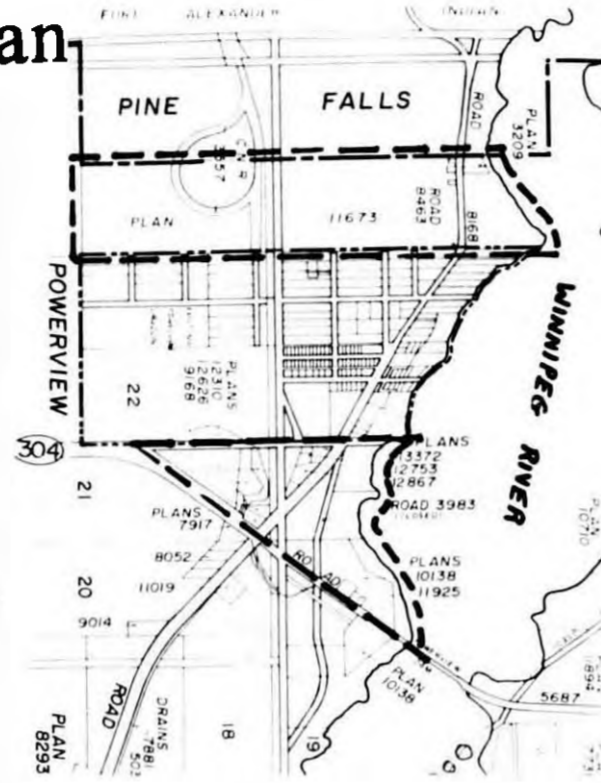

After discussing the matter in camera during the March and April WRPD monthly meetings, the two councils as a whole were assembled at the Papertown Motor Inn on Monday April 10 to hear the WRPD recommendations.

What happens when WRPD finalizes development plan draft

Municipal Planner Ron Jackson noted that the WRPD wanted to have the development plan text ready by May or June of 1989 at which time it will be forwarded to both councils and government agencies for comment.

The draft will then come back to the WRPD for reviewing and changes before formal adoption is given by passing the first reading on the development plan by-law.

Once the first reading is given, formal public hearings are conducted by the WRPD to hear objections. Following this, a second reading is given for amendments are made and the process begins again) and the document is submitted to the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The areas outlined by the dashed lines are proposed for annexation by the Village of Powerview, (north and south of PTH 304 but west of PTH 304A, and a strip of land between Pine Falls and Powerview).

Once third reading is passed, the development plan will be forwarded to the provincial government for an Order-in-Council. Once the Order-in-Council is received, the development plan becomes law.

What happens in the case of annexation

Once a municipality makes an application to the Municipal board to acquire lands from another municipality, the Municipal board will hold public hearings to listen to all concerns. At these hearings, both municipalities make presentations either for or against an annexation, as do private citizens.

Following these hearings, the Municipal board submits its recommendations to the ministry for cabinet authorization before the final decision is announced.

Ron Jackson noted that the development plan is governed by the Planning Act and annexation proposals fall under the Municipal Act. "One document does not take precedence over the other," said Jackson.

Education overhaul

Every so often I receive a copy of John Naisbitt's Trend Letter, the self-proclaimed authoritative twice monthly report on the forces transforming the economy, business, technology, society and the world.

The following is an excerpt from this authoritative source that touches on a concern about our education system that many business people have brought to my attention on many occasions. "In today's rapidly changing job market, it's never too early to think about the future — even for eighth graders. Under a new Florida Department of Education program, eighth graders — aided by parents, teachers and guide counsellors — will be required to draw up career plans that help them select high school courses best suited for their higher education goals and careers. Educators designed the program to address business leaders' concern that young people now entering the work force don't have the training or basic academic skills needed.

The Blueprint for Career Preparation, Florida's first attempt to establish statewide career awareness training, actually will begin preparing students in kindergarten by making them aware of careers. By middle school, students will encounter hands-on courses and counselling to prepare them for making choices."

The Women's Initiative

A copy of the final report and recommendations of The Women's Initiative: A Consultation with the Women of Manitoba is now available to the public. This document is the result of a five month consultation process that heard from seven hundred and fifty women in twenty-four Manitoba communities, received over seventy briefs and held sixty meetings. Public meetings in this region were held in Powerview, Beausejour, Ste. Anne and Steinbach.

The report deals with several issues of concern to women, such as economic supports, economic development, abuse against women and their children, the shelter system, and housing.

On the subject of Economic Development, the report describes the importance and success rate of the enterprising women. "Statistics Canada figures indicate that women are two to three times as successful as men in surviving the initial start-up phase of business. A recent study by the Women Business Owners of Manitoba indicates that for every new business that is established by a woman in Manitoba, two-and-one-half jobs are directly created."

In light of these facts, however, the report states that "existing programs and services do not provide realistic assistance to women who wish to start their own businesses". Home based businesses, it noted in particular, are not provided with the proper assistance to develop skills and marketing techniques.

The report stresses the importance of developing specific programs to support women as entrepreneurs and encouraged a co-ordinated government approach to realize this objective. "I have not done justice to this well-prepared document. If you wish to receive a copy, call 1-800-282-8069 and ask to speak with Mary James of the Women's Directorate.

Pine Falls Drama Club presents Boeing-Boeing

Bernard was never a simple man, a Parisian architect with exotic tastes, he sought true happiness, a way to avoid tedium. He met a man who worked for a travel agency. Someone who knew many lonely stewardesses.

Suddenly it came to! The world, he thought, spins on its axis and jets fly above joining the continents. People travel from country to country with beautiful women looking to their every need — airline hostesses.

These women dedicate themselves to the comfort of others and fulfill their own lives with brief visits to their loved ones. How must their husbands and fiancés fill the empty days while these unselfish women flirt with the heavens?

Perhaps they sit quietly at home working or pining over their absent cherubs. Or maybe they invent a hobby to fill the lonely nights. Some, he thought, could spend the time developing other relationships.

Bernard discovered that an international stewardess arrives home at quick regular intervals. He also found that the only other person who keeps a similar schedule is another airline hostess. He reasoned that if one of these women had two days to spend in Paris, then this would just about fill the week.

You may have guessed that Bernard has realized the fantasy of a lifetime — an international harem. He spends two days each with three lovely fiancées, Janet the American, Judith the German and Jacqueline the Parisian — and he's never bored!!

But all good things... and all that. What if the timetable changes? What if there is a storm? Is it possible that all three could be in Paris at once? Bernard will live out his fantasy and his nightmare on April 27, 28 and 29 at the Pine Falls School Gym when the Pine Falls Drama Club presents "Boeing-Boeing".

Warren speaks . . .

Column mailbag covers waterfront

The winter mailbag to this column has been heavier than usual, covering everything from removal of rats from Canadian Wheat Board jurisdiction to the Rushdie book, The Satanic Verses.

With apologies to readers whose letters have not been used, here is the roundup of the best of the letters:

From Pine Falls, David Savard makes a point: "If all the books and reports on the Holocaust can be banned, then why are any books that question or criticize any religion allowed to stand untouched? People, Mr. Warren, should decide what they want to read — not politicians and pressure groups!"

On the same subject, James Storey, Pierson, is emphatic: "From what I have read, Khomeini is not only bent on killing Rushdie, he also wants to condemn his soul to hell. He does not have this power. Khomeini appears to be full of hate and unable to forgive his enemies. God says that unless we forgive, we cannot be forgiven ourselves. Rushdie is entitled to express his opinion without fear or oppression."

From Dominion City, Georgina Taylor faces the issue of the Dublin Inquiry into the use of steroids by Canadian athletes: "Does the world really need faster times, chemically-produced? We the taxpayers are subsidizing these athletes to follow their quest for excellence — what excellence? What a sad commentary on the greatest resource of a nation — and it's happening in Canada!"

C.A. Stewart of Lake Audy takes on the issue of cruelty to animals: "In view of the recent case of pitiful cruelty concerning two dogs starved to death by a Manitoba man — we must motivate people to realize that nobody has the right to abuse, neglect or mistreat an animal just because they own it. Animals did not choose to be totally dependent on humans, unfortunately for them this is their lot and we owe them our compassionate consideration in our self-serving, self-centred society."

From Portage la Prairie, Yvonne Werbiski: "Mr. Warren, John Q. Public is not aware of the extent of the intrusion into their private and personal affairs. Check this out and see if you think this is worth exposing:

"When an individual applies for a loan or credit card at a bank or a business in Manitoba, they sign an agreement which they believe allows that business to investigate their credit through the Manitoba Credit Bureau. The language of that agreement reads to that effect and I know that most consumers believe it is in reference to that particular loan or credit card application. This is not so! There is an alliance between the credit bureau, the banks and the businesses and, in order to belong to the bureau, the business community must agree to supply the bureau all and any information on their clients. If nothing else, Mr. Warren, please alert the public as to what is going on."

George Williams, 209 Grain Ave., Selkirk, says he has run into a brick wall with his town council about snow clearing in his back lane: "I've been through the Manitoba Ombudsman, the human rights commission, the minister of municipal affairs — all I get is a lot of rhetoric. According to the Manitoba Municipal Act, they have to maintain laneways which are not paved if they are used. My laneway is used — by me. And is necessary that I have access by motor vehicle to my property in both summer and winter. It is my opinion that, as I only moved to Selkirk three years ago, the Town Fathers consider me some kind of foreigner. I went to the trouble to go to all taxpayers affected by this lane to sign a petition (which they all did). Council completely ignored it."

Out of Dominion City, Audrey Pearse takes me up on a column about seniors who vegetate with nothing to do: "I telephoned you about what our seniors in Dominion City are doing. We have two clubs in our small town — the Franklin Craft Club and the Golden Club — the men are busy sawing, painting, hammering and such. Come and find time to visit us!"

Fisher Branch kicks in with a letter from Walter Gulay: "I have heard you on the radio about poaching. What about the poaching that is going on by the conservation people? Animals were created by God for man's use. I've flown for 41 years eastern, central, and western Arctic. I've ferried a twin to Mexico and covered all of northern Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario. Let us remember what kind of clothing

Bouvier appointed to Dept. of Municipal Affairs

by Marlene Watson
Roger Bouvier will be leaving his position of nine years as LGD of Alexander Resident Administrator following his appointment as Municipal Services Officer (MSO) with the Department of Municipal Affairs in Winnipeg.

Having applied for the position over a month ago, the appointment was made known on Monday, April 10, three days after a personal interview with the department.

When called to Winnipeg, Bouvier was interviewed by four people and given tests in both French and English. The written tests required Bouvier to draw from his knowledge of the Municipal Act for answers to several possible municipal problems.

In the province at present there are only four MSOs, whose duties are to assist and supervise in the operation of municipalities, villages, local government districts and towns.

The appointment as MSO is considered a promotion and the third step up the administrative ladder that starts with office clerk, a position Bouvier held for one year (1968), in Russell with the LGD of Park.

In 1969 Bouvier joined the civil servant ranks, becoming the acting administrator of Park until 1972, at which time he was promoted to resident administrator from 1973 until 1980.

In 1980 Bouvier took a lateral move when he was appointed to the position of LGD of Alexander. He was appointed to the position of LGD of Alexander in 1980.

E.D. McClelland of Emerson takes issue with Manitoba Hydro: "Take the dam construction at Limestone. Whenever a person visited the Gillam/Sundance/Limestone operation, it really made you wonder about job information. Southern Manitobas were told no jobs were open for them. But laborers came from Portugal. We need answers."

And thank you to everyone else who wrote in. Keep 'em coming — sincere thanks to Dr. Roper O. McDiarmid of 129 Noonan Dr., Brandon, for a most interesting, informative letter, as well.

Nourish your interests, feed your curiosity

Scott Young is my idea of a remarkable senior citizen. He always has a project on the go. He does some work on every day. He is everlastingly curious about the world in general, which means that he's a continuing student.

Young, who is 70, is one of Canada's most prolific writers. We renewed our acquaintance a while ago when he was on the Prairies, making connection with members of his family, and his favorite territory. He may be excused for reasons of occupation, but he's still a westerner at heart.

I can speak with some authority on his friendliness. We hadn't seen each other for 51 years, yet over the luncheon table we had no difficulty picking up the threads of a long-ago connection.

We worked together ever so briefly when I was 16 and he was 19. I was a telegraph messenger, and he was a minor sports reporter. On the night of a play-off hockey game, the operator and I couldn't lock the office until journalist Young had filed his stories to far-off papers. This done, at two or three in the morning, we would head for an all-night restaurant and a lot of chatter.

Scott Young had a full career as a sports editor and columnist, specializing in hockey. No matter what his regular employment was, he has always written books on the side. His first were juveniles, all of them based on hockey. Thirty years later they are still in print. Scrubs on Ice, one of the best known, recently sold 70,000 copies in a Russian-language edition. Two others are now being translated into that language.

When he was getting closer to retirement age, Young moved from juveniles to biographies.

Over the next three months, Bouvier will continue to work out of the LGD of Alexander office one day per week and commute to Winnipeg for the other four days. This situation will continue until the position at the LGD is filled.

Festival of the Arts committee prepares for annual spring event

The Agassiz Festival of the Arts committee is just about ready for this year's annual spring event, to be held May 1 to 4 in Whittemouth and Lac du Bonnet.

One point that they would like made public is that participants are not allowed to bring photocopies of their music for the adjudicator to follow. Nor are they allowed to bring photocopies for their own use.

While some adjudicators turn a blind eye to the practice, the fact remains that photocopies without the consent of the publisher are a breach of the Copyright Act, and therefore subject to prosecution.

In most classes, several students are doing the same musical selections and arrangements can be made to lend the adjudicator one copy and share another copy between two or more students.

The application deadline for the adjudicated portion was set for March 15. The programs will be put together on April 5 so any late applications should be in to Clara Thurmeier or Mike Pothorily as soon as possible. Concert applications will be accepted until April 30.

The committee is hoping that parents, friends and the public in general will mark the dates on the calendar and plan to attend the portions of the week's activities and/or the concert. The students are very talented and the outing is certainly a treat for those who make the effort.

This year the adults will join the youngsters in an adult class for square dancing. This is a first and is sure to draw a lot of interest from the younger audience.

Michael Pinnell receives Chief Scout award

by Marlene Watson
Michael Pinnell received the highest honor in scouting when scout leader Irene Gunter presented him with his Chief Scout award at a regular meeting.

Pinnell will now wait to be called to the legislative building to receive the Chief Scout certificate as presented by the Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba.

To achieve such an award, Michael met certain requirements at the Pathfinder Scout Gold Rank level with 50 hours of community service that did not include his community Tree of Lights project conducted over the Christmas holiday season which brought in over $2,000 for the Sunnywood Manor Personal Care Home.

Pinnell's 50 hour community service included work as a volunteer at the 4P Festival, work on the Anglican Church yard, and work with the Lions Club.

Certain badge requirements such as the Gold Anchor for sailing and boating (instructed by Wes Herdman), canoeing at Camp Aloway, and First Aider were also achieved.

Pinnell will stay in the Scout program as a Junior leader until he is 15 and then will go into the Ventures program if one is available in the community.

Scout leader Irene Gunter congratulates Michael Pinnell as she presents him with the Chief Scout award. Michael will now await the call to the Manitoba Legislative Buildings and the presentation of the Chief Scout certificate from the Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba.

Winnipeg River 4-H Club report

Highway Clean-up Campaign was the main topic of discussion at the seventh monthly meeting of the Winnipeg River 4-H Club held on April 3, 1989 at the Powerview School with 14 members present. All members are to meet at the Powerview School at 8:40 a.m. The purpose of this event is to assist the Manitoba Department of Highways and Transportation and Manitoba Agriculture to clean ditches along the major highways in the province. Participating members are to wear appropriate footwear and bright colored clothing. Gloves will be provided, courtesy of Abitibi-Price. Participants are asked to provide their own lunches. Everfresh juices will be supplied by the club. Leaders and parents will participate as chaperones. Traffic control will be provided by RCMP. Any parents wishing to volunteer as chaperones are asked to contact Audrey Morrison at 367-2157.

Club uniforms were discussed and handouts were sent home with each member. Members are to bring their uniforms to our next monthly meeting on May 1 for club pictures.

Program agenda for achievement day to be held on May 10 was discussed. Rehearsal will take place following our next monthly meeting.

Robin Fontaine and Keri Morrison presented their report to the club on the junior conference which they attended at the Viscount Gort Hotel on March 18 and 19. They informed the members on the events that took place: tips for teens, banquet, swimming and roller skating. On Sunday they were given information about 4-H opportunities such as jobs available through 4-H, conferences and trips available to members. Their guest speaker was Ron Black who spoke on the negative use of steroids. Following evaluation of the conference, they all bid farewell to their new friends.

Leah Boulet, our former

Manitoba 4-H ambassador, was our guest speaker for the evening. She informed the club about 4-H and what it has to offer, drawing on her own personal experience. She encouraged the members to continue with 4-H for all the fun and rewards that it has to offer.

Leaders and senior members from our club attended the district spring dinner on Monday, April 10, 1989 at the Zion Lutheran Church Hall in Beausejour. The guest speaker was Mr. Ed Schreyer who showed slides and gave an informative talk on Australia.

NOW HEAR THIS!

This is an important message about "your hearing". Good hearing is a precious gift and deserves attention and protection. How long has it been since you had your hearing checked? Like your vision, your hearing should be examined regularly. Should a test reveal impaired hearing, help is available. Perhaps medical treatment may be required — perhaps a modern hearing aid may be the answer.

Come in for a hearing consultation, or phone for a home appointment.

THE BEACHES CONNECTION

by Jocelyn Stewart

If there were any doubts about the impending arrival of a summer season hereabouts they've been dispelled. At least the cottagers have faith. They are building a big log cabin up on the brow of our hill, the commencement announced by the arrival of a great, growing monster loader. It attacked the empty lot where the house burned down last summer. Unhindered by snow drifts or rocks or brush, it moved in and with a few articulated strokes, scraped the ground clear of its two foot snow cover. As quickly, the machine lumbered down the hill again leaving only silence to cloak the scar it made. The neighbours knew something was up.

In a day or two the first of the log carriers arrived; the roaring "semi" crept up the hill in bull low — perhaps due to the delicate condition of our thawing roads. With careful manoeuvring it brought its massive load of logs close to the concrete foundation that was installed last fall. Other trucks, and a squad of workers arrived. The logs were unloaded by a self-driven crane, and I watched as the walls were built higher and higher with the addition of each course of freshly peeled, white pine logs. Each numbered and grooved member was lifted cautiously by the crane, set in position and bedded by the workmen. Insulation faces each joint and when work was finished that day, there was an exterior door in the east wall, and there was a wide archway cut through a solid log interior wall. Even at a height of about nine feet the structure was imposing, with its deeply interlocked corners, where the butt ends of the thick logs oozed quantities of aromatic pitch.

Small groups of neighbours came by to have a look and pass judgement on the building. Traffic was quite heavy on the weekend too, as word got around. Exactly a week after the raising had begun, another loaded log carrier arrived — and the building crew, and the crane. This time the end walls were built higher, rising to form peaks, with several big timbers jutting out from one end to make a balcony off the upper storey, a door cut through the wall behind it. A supporting post inside, and a huge cross beam for the second floor were installed, and at last they lifted up the ridge pole, a straight, true log, 16" or more in diameter and sturdy enough to support the roof. When the builders and the vehicles had departed again, it was easy to see that the handsome house is the highest building in the neighbourhood, with a wonderful view. It's being built for the Rouget family by Hand Craft Log Homes, Inc. and the neighbours are quite impressed.

The Victoria Beach Sports Club held its annual curling banquet and dance on Saturday, April 8. Approximately 120 curlers and friends attended the affair and were honored to have Dave Bjornson, M.I.A. Selkirk, and his wife Jenny at the head table. Trophies were presented to the club champions, winners of the mixed draw. They were: 1) Reiss Anderson, Tammy Swain, Harold Martin and Pat Martin; 2) Jack Gregory, Gertrude Hughes, Iris Muir, Jim Muir.

Winners of the Saffie trophy, the grand aggregate champs were: A side — Todd Reckstedler, Betty Reckstedler, Ed Wach, Debbie Thomas; B side — Dave Stammers, Bernice Johnson, Monty Vialoux, Gerry Stammers.
Winners of the men's curling, presented with the new Anderson trophy by Mrs. Minnie Anderson were: Bruce Anderson, Harold Martin, Reiss Anderson, Rene Daoust.
Ladies' curling winners were: Betty Jones, Lynn Anderson, Alice Daoust, Gerry Stammers.

First time draw for junior curlers, two rinks competed for the new Stuck's trophy, which was won by Samantha Poitras, Kevin Anderson, Devon Cunningham, Dana Anderson.

The Victoria Beach and Traverse Bay Seniors' Club held the annual bowling wind up and pot luck supper on Saturday, April 15 at the Sports Centre. Two trophies — the high aggregate winner and the roll off trophy — both went to the same team — Iris Muir, Jim Muir, Phyllis Martin, Elsie Parisian, Nellie Danwich.

Prizes were also awarded to: Jack Sutherland — men's high single; Al Edwards — men's high triple; Jim Muir — men's high average; Eileen Sutherland — ladies' high single; Margaret Linklater — ladies' high triple; Iris Muir — ladies' high average; spares three game high — Willa Gilchrist; spares high single — Jack Gregory.

With temperatures approaching normal the cats' enthusiasm for the outdoors is unbounded. Their new swinging door allows them (and me) a lot of freedom, though the depth of snow still on the ground is frustrating for the cats. It's funny to see a tiny chipmunk scutter along the crest of a snow bank, and fatter still to watch the cat in pursuit. The cat scrambles along, crest crumples under her weight. Chipmunk disappears — returned to his sub-snow hollow and the cat hunkers down on the highest lump watching the spot. Suddenly her lump collapses and the cat is gone from my sight. I go out and call her; sheepishly she shows herself and makes her way to the house, face saved by my interference. She settles on the deck, some distance from her new door but in sight of it. A daring red squirrel comes onto the deck to have a look, the cat coils herself. The squirrel moves anxiously to the door, it moves with his touch and swings right back. He takes off in panic — the cat springs after him. Squirrel makes it to a treetop, cat flounders in deep snow, squirrel scolds noisily. This time the cat comes indoors and doesn't look back. She hasn't used the swinging door for two days now, in spite of pretty good weather.

An error in this column last time, Monty Vialoux wants to say the Victoria Beach Sports Club is planning to have an eight team slow pitch baseball league this summer, and they would like to have a team from the Beaches people.

FOCUS ON: Cancer quiz

by Marilyn Zarecki
Home Economist
Manitoba Agriculture
Beausejour, 268-1411

This quiz contains tips from Smart Cooking by Anne Lindsay.

1. Which of the following does the Canadian Cancer Society recommend you choose for breakfast?

- a) ham
- b) yogurt with fresh fruit
- c) poached eggs
- d) pancakes
- e) croissant

2. Which is better in reducing total fat?

- a) butter
- b) margarine
- c) lard
- d) vegetable oil

3. A proper substitution for one cup of all-purpose flour is:

- a) one cup whole-wheat flour
- b) 1/2 cup all-purpose, 1/2 cup whole-wheat flour
- c) two cups whole-wheat flour
- d) Food can be steamed:

- a) in the oven
- b) on top of the stove
- c) on the barbecue

5. Which should you use in borscht?

- a) sour cream
- b) yogurt

6. Lean ground beef means:

- a) not more than 50% fat
- b) less than 10% fat
- c) not more than 17% fat

7. What vegetable offers the most fibre per serving?

- a) cooked spinach
- b) raw red cabbage
- c) potatoes, boiled in the skin
- d) cooked green beans

8. A healthy portion of meat is:

- a) 8 ounces
- b) 4 ounces
- c) 12 ounces
- d) depends on your age

Answers:

- 1. Good choices for breakfast are b) yogurt with fruit, c) poached eggs or boiled eggs — if you are concerned about cholesterol, limit to three per week, and d) pancakes or waffles — but be careful about frying in a lot of fat, and don't add butter or margarine. Or, try fresh fruits and juices, whole-grain bread, cereal and muffins. Also, use low-fat milk instead of cream or whole milk with cereal, coffee, tea.

2. A bit of a trick question. The answer is to use a variety of fats, but to keep the amounts as low as possible. Try cutting down the fat in your favorite recipes a tablespoon at a time, to determine the minimum amount necessary to produce good-tasting results. And be conscious of using butter and margarine unnecessarily — butter on a hot dog, for instance, isn't going to be missed if smothered in mustard and relish.

3. One cup of all-purpose flour contains 2.7 grams of fibre. One cup of whole-wheat flour contains 11.4 grams. As a general rule, you can substitute whole-wheat flour for half of the all-purpose called for in a recipe. Therefore, use b) 1/2 cup all-purpose and 1/2 cup whole-wheat flour. Whole-wheat flour results in heavier product. In some cases, such as oatmeal cookies, this is fine, but with something like cake, may be undesirable.

Experiment!

4. All of the above. The advantage of steaming is that vegetables retain their flavor, color and vitamins; and fish is moist and flavorful. There are a number of steamers on the market, but you don't need special equipment. Wrap food in foil, then cook in the oven or on the barbecue. Or try steaming stove-top, using a deep pot with a tight-fitting lid and placing food in a wire basket above the water.

5. Sour cream, the traditional garnish for borscht, has 2.5 grams fat per tablespoon. If serving this soup as a main course, or as part of a meatless meal, the fat content is probably not significant. If not, either omit the sour cream or use b) plain yogurt which contains a negligible amount of fat per tablespoon.

6. Lean ground beef contains e) not more than 17% fat. Medium ground beef contains not more than 23% fat. Regular ground beef contains not more than 30% fat. Use lean ground beef in shepherd's pie or stuffing, where you can't pour off excess fat. Also, choose lean meat if other fats are in the same dish, when you don't need more fat for tenderness or flavor.

7. Popeye was right — a) cooked spinach provides 10 grams of dietary fibre per serving. Next best is unskimmed, boiled potatoes with 5 grams, then cooked green beans with 2 grams. Raw red cabbage gives you a lot of crunch, but only 1 gram of fibre.

8. Meat is an important source of protein, iron, vitamin B and minerals. Just 1/2 to 4 ounces of cooked lean beef provides 30 grams of protein and nearly 4 milligrams of iron. This constitutes more than half of an adult's average daily requirement of protein. The problem is we often don't limit our meat portions to 3 to 4 ounces. And this makes meat a high source of fat in our diet. A good rule is cut down, don't cut out.

Experiment!

The GARDEN PLOT

by Cathleen Thurston
Now that I've received the seeds I had ordered and compiled a complete list of everything I plan to grow in my vegetable garden, I turn to my books on companion planting to plan my garden layout.

Companion planting entails planting of various species side-by-side to help growth or repel insects or diseases. Of course, while there are plants that are beneficial to each other, there are also ones that are detrimental to each other.

Beans may be planted with peas, carrots or beets to help them thrive, but not near any member of the onion family or gladioli. Marigolds, nasturtiums and petunias will help keep pests from the bean plants.

Corn grows well with beans and peas as they restore nitrogen that corn removes from the soil. Interplant with cucumbers, pumpkins or squash because the prickly stems, odor and large leaves are offensive to raccoons. Sunflowers alternated with rows of corn will help cut down on earworm and white geraniums will repel Japanese beetles. Do not plant corn and tomatoes side-by-side because the tomato fruitworm and the earworm are almost identical and you could be asking for trouble.

Carrots help peas and beans grow better. Onions, leeks, sage, rosemary and parsley help repel carrot fly and are, therefore, beneficial to carrots. Carrots grow well with leaf lettuce and tomatoes, but will grow poorly in the presence of dill.

Lettuce may be planted with cabbage, broccoli or tomatoes as the larger plants will supply shade and by the time they require more space, the lettuce will be done. Interplant lettuce with onions to keep rabbits from munching on it and with radishes and kohlrabi to repel flea beetles. Lettuce is good to plant with carrots, strawberries and cucumbers.

Sunflowers planted with cucumbers provide a windbreak for the vines; corn will provide shade and help prevent the virus that causes wilt in cucumbers. Cucumbers grow well in young orchards where there is some shade. They also grow well with beans, peas, radish, kohlrabi and lettuce. Cucumbers dislike aromatic herbs such as sage. Potatoes planted near cucumbers are more apt to get blight.

More about companion planting next time.

P.F.H.S. — there will be a meeting of the Pine Falls Horticultural Society on Tuesday, May 2 at 7:00 p.m. in the Golden Leisure Club. A program will be presented by Mr. Roger Brown and Mr. Reg Curle of the Manitoba Horticultural Association.

The main point of business will be the filling of the seats of the executive. If people are not found to fill these vacancies the society will have to fold. Please attend this meeting and be prepared to sit on the executive or this will be the final horticultural society meeting. See you there!

LGD council chooses not to vote on development plan

agreed that each council would vote on the matter separately at their respective council meetings and forward that vote to the WRPD. It was at the April 11 LGD council meeting that Nick Roman furthered his viewpoints on annexation. "Here's a council agreeing to give a piece of land away once Power-Roman was against the LGD council voting to approve in principle the idea which had been put forward by the WRPD. Mary Anne Grewinski was visibly upset and asked Roman, "Nick, why didn't you say this at the planning district?" Roger Bourvier also noted that the LGD's main concern should be that the people living in the proposed annexed areas receive water and sewer services as they had requested from the LGD on several occasions. Councillor Danwich could not justify giving up the commercial tax dollars that the approval of such an annexation would yield and agreed with Nick Roman that the WRPD should act on its own without council approval. The discussion ended with no vote taken.

Traverse Bay nuisance grounds to open June 1
Effective May 1, Nelson Green will be employed to operate the new Traverse Bay nuisance grounds located along PTH No. 11 near Hwy. 59.

The grounds will be cost shared by the LGD of Alexander and the RM of Victoria Beach and will be open on a daily basis from June 1 to October 31, 1989, with an attendant on site during operating hours.

A 12' x 16' shelter will be constructed for the nuisance grounds by contractor Richard Dupont of St. Georges at a cost of $2,500. (R. Dupont is also employed to build the same structure for the Bird River nuisance grounds at the same

$2,500 cost). The shelter will house a 4' x 12' fire protection storage area and will be insulated and wired. Contrary to the requests of 141 Belair area residents who submitted a petition, the LGD council voted in favor of the official opening of the new Traverse Bay nuisance grounds.

Roman to supervise P.W. projects
Nick Roman was authorized by council to supervise all public works projects throughout the LGD of Alexander until further notice and will be reimbursed for his time ($12.00 hour) and mileage.

Council noted that the total time allotted for this position will be approximately two hours per day three days per week, and the position will be reviewed every month.

Council will also make plans to hire extra public works employees at the next regular council meeting which has been changed from April 25 at 2:00 p.m. to May 1 at 10:00 a.m.

POLICE REPORT

Two youths victims of assault

Police are searching for two native male suspects who sexually assaulted a 14-year-old boy at 2:00 p.m. on April 9 at the townsite on the Fort Alexander reserve.

One male suspect is described as six feet tall weighing 140 pounds, and at the time of the incident was wearing red sweat-pants and a blue and white windbreaker. Further descriptions of the man noted that he had spiked hair and is believed to be 19 or 20-years-of-age.

The second suspect is described as six feet in height, weighing 160 pounds and having long hair. He was also reported to have been wearing an acid-wash jean jacket with blue jeans and Adidas runners.

Legion House broken into

The Legion House in Pine Falls was broken into between 1:40 and 7:40 a.m. on April 16. A quantity of potato chips and four liquor dispensers were stolen.

A cottage at Traverse Bay was completely destroyed by fire at 10:15 p.m. on April 15. The fire is believed to be accidental but the cause of the fire is still being investigated.

A 36-year-old Winnipeg man was arrested and charged with impaired driving at 12:15 a.m. on April 16. The man was on parole after serving a one-year sentence for previous impaired driving charges. Following the Powerview detachment arrest, the man's parole was revoked and he was escorted to Winnipeg to be held in custody.

A man's silver Raleigh ten-speed bicycle was found on Art Avenue in Powerview on the 12 of April.

Ten impaired driving charges were laid over a two week period.

Warnings issued

Police are issuing warnings to all motorists stating no passing of school buses is allowed when lights are flashing and the stop sign is out on the side of the bus. Police are also warning that traffic charges will be laid against any vehicle which is parked along the road front in front of the Powerview School between 8:00 and 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. on weekdays.

Police statistics show that 73 bicycles were reported stolen in the Powerview detachment area during 1988, and in an effort to keep thefts down in 1989, police ask residents to make sure they put away bicycles for the night and not leave them in the yard.

They also advise that bicycles should be locked up when not in use and a record should be kept of the bicycle's serial number in case a theft occurs.

Rene Papineau's dream would see seniors join together

by Marlene Watson

Rene Papineau has a dream, he would like to see the nearly 130 seniors in the Powerview area join forces to form a seniors' club.

"I've always had the idea, but I was waiting for the right time to bring it up," says Papineau who also gives credit to church trustees Paul Lamoureux and Frank Thibedeau.

Lamoureux and Thibedeau have been negotiating with the Powerview Catholic Church to secure the basement facility as a regular meeting place for seniors and retired folks.

"We would like to create an atmosphere for seniors in the church basement for use on a permanent basis," said Papineau.

Visions of old coffee pot lunches, card playing, pool tables and sand bag games come to Papineau's mind when he thinks of a seniors' club. I'm investigating several possibilities, but the club will be whatever the people want."

Papineau encourages all interested seniors to attend a formation meeting at the Powerview Catholic Church at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 27.
