LIBRARY

The library provides a service that many Victoria Beach people have enjoyed for years. If you are unfamiliar with the set, you pay approximately half the retail price when taken out and are refunded half you cost when you return the book. Children books are ten cents with half refunded. We ask people to try and return books eithin two weeks so others may enjoy them. No refund on books returned after end of season.

The profit we make, for the season, is spent mostly in buying new and current books and sometimes we are able to give V. B. Club a donation.

Mrs. Best, who for many years has worked keeping the library in order and purchasing new books, has set up a new Canadiana section.

Regretfully I left the name of Lori Goatcher off the volunteer list last week.

Trudy Mann

THE OL' BALL GAME

For the first time in three years, the ol' ball game belonged to the teens squeaking by the heavier set 10-9. The boys moved Brian to the pasture and brought in a 'ringer', John-Boy, who can really slide those balls across the plate. Although I don't believe it, one of the men suggested that the kids were given this one to make them come back. Make them eat those words Mitch!

Thanks to Dave for a superb job of umpiring. Not once did this lad who plays a mean game of volleyball call a 'carried' or 'thrown' ball!

See you Sundays at 7:30.

ONE MILE OPEN SWIM

Under threatening skies, while the officials outnumbered the participants, those who completed are to be especially congratulated for their dedication to excellence. The one-mile swim is 24 lengths of the pier, and those who might scoff at the effort, should try even a few lengths. Its a long, tough grind. Congratulations to those keen enough to take this test. They were:

Girls, 11 & 12 years — 1st, Laura Hansford; 2nd, Tara Bezte. Boys, 13 & 14 years — 1st, Ron Kowal; 2nd, Dale Bezte. Girls, 13 & 14 years — 1st, Diane Borger. Boys, 15 & over — 1st, Barry Reid.

The lack of participation should not detract from the fine performances made by Ron Kowal, Diane Borger, and Laura Hansford, who finished in that order, and all who completed the event are to be congratulated for their times. Many thanks to Paul Thain, Norm Carriere, Ruth McMorris, Lorna Swerhone, Joanne Singleton for their assistance.

BEACH NEWS

Naomi and Bill Mann, together with Barbara, John and Robbie, are spending their annual vacation from rainy Vancouver in the Henderson cottage at 302-3rd.

Herb and Lynn Sage sure organized a dandy adult dance last Saturday night. The settings, the decorations and especially the orchestra were outstanding. And wasn't it nice that the young people were so impressed with our music that late in the evening many of them paid their way in to share it with us. And beach club members and friends responded in record numbers. So congratulations to everyone.

Here's an ad from a 1926 Herald — don't you wish you could turn the clock back?

That is the way it usually works out. Have you picked out your lot or house for next year?

While you will not be importuned to buy, you will find our Mr. DOWNIE at the Beach office willing to show you property still available from the original owners. You will be surprised at the reasonable price asked and the easy terms under which property can be purchased. There is only a limited number of choice lots still available, and if you contemplate locating at Victoria Beach in the near future, you would be well advised to secure your lot now.

We have also for sale a large log cottage, with four bedrooms and about 200 feet of verandah, located on Sunset Boulevard. The owner, having left the City, has instructed us to sell this at $2,500, fully furnished.

1947 - WORK AT MEMORIAL PARK - 1947

When the Victoria Beach Club decided that a war memorial at Victoria Beach should take the form of an athletic ground, it acted wisely. A recreation ground has long been past due. The municipality was asked to see if the former air force grounds could be purchased from the federal government, the municipality having a long term lease of the grounds. The government has not shown any inclination to sell the area but the municipal council is still hopeful the desired result may be a happy one.

In the meantime the young men have been busy in preparing these excellent grounds for the purpose the club had planned. The old foundation pillars, 48 in number have all been removed, the youth among the permanent residents lending valuable service to the club. These pillars were intended to be the foundation for a large hotel the Victoria Beach Company had planned in 1916. Removal was a tough job and a locally owned bulldozer did effective work. The ground has been plowed and harrowed and will soon be laid out for baseball, football and other athletic games. The railway company may lay out and fill in flower beds from their garden near the station. It will be a much better grounds on which to hold the annual children's sports.

Col. N. R. Nagle and committee gave the Memorial Park long consideration and did an effective and satisfactory job. They carefully weighed all suggestions and the club membership is well pleased with the result.

REPRINTED FROM VICTORIA BEACH HERALD, AUGUST 4, 1934

CAMPED ON ELK ISLAND, 1870

When trouble arose in the Red river settlement of the Northwest, when Fort Garry was headquarters for a vast district, an expedition was sent out from eastern Canada to do their part in restoring order. There were two bodies of troops and the regulars came in advance of the militia. This force was commanded by Col. Garnet Wolseley, afterwards to become Sir Garnet Wolseley, and later Lord Wolseley.

On the staff of Colonel Wolseley was Captain G. L. Hughes, Rifle Brigade, who embodied his experiences in a book of 276 pages, "The Red River Expedition."

The force came by steamboat to Prince Arthur's Landing, now Port Arthur and then, partly by land, but chiefly by water, through a chain of lakes and rivers to Lake of the Woods and the Winnipeg River, reaching Fort Alexander on August 20, 1870. The remainder of the narrative is in Captain Hughes' own words.

"The bugles sounded the 'advance' at 3 p.m., on the 21st of August, and the men embarked and set sail to a favouring breeze. There were eight brigades, about fifty boats; and as the little fleet ran down the Winnipeg river, before wind and tide, the sight was novel and interesting. One might almost have fancied at a little distance that it was a Danish flotilla, led by some Viking of old, making a descent on an enemy's coast.

"Colonel Wolseley accompanied Mr. Donald Smith (later Lord Strathcona) in a big Hudson's Bay boat, whose large square sail towered over the little lugs of the smaller boats and led the way steering well out to sea in Traverse Bay to make a good offing. The fleet followed as fast as oars and sails could take them, and bore up for Elk Island, twenty miles off, which they reached at sunset, and camped for the night on a lovely little bay. It seemed as if nature had designed Elk Island for the express purpose of sheltering the boats. The wind was southerly and the bay had a north aspect looking out on to the lake, whose waves rippled gently on a smooth sandy beach, charming enough to have made the fortune of a European watering-place.

"And who shall say that this little island and its beautiful bay may not at some future day become the favourite summer resort of the wealthy inhabitants of Red River, the Brighton of the Winnipeg belles? When emigration shall have covered the fertile prairies of the North-West with a teeming population, and towns and cities have sprung up over the length and breadth of the land, Elk Island may rival the attractions of Newport and Saratoga!"
